Failure of Council to Decide the Pennsylvania Avenue Matter Calls Forth Bitter Criticism.

Council, by its failure to reconsider its action on the report of the Pennsylvania avenue equalization board at the regular meeting last evening, surrendered its right ever to take action on either the latter report or that of the assessing board. As a result the great majority of taxpayers in the city are paying everything but complimentary tributes to the members who opposed the acceptance of the report at the time it was submitted.

Having lost power to remedy the vital mistake council must now do one of two things: Let the $30,000, which is drawing the enormous interest of 7 per cent., be paid by general taxation—an imposition which is not only unfair, but in one light unlawful—or re-appoint another assessing board at a cost of nearly $1,000. "Their first alternative will never strike anything but opposition," said a leading citizen today. How could it? Will the taxpayers of the city not be benefitted by the improvement ever stand for being assessed equally with those deriving benefits? It stands to reason that they will not, and an indignation meeting is likely to be held denouncing the dilatory measures of the city's legislative body. The result of such a meeting can easily be determined.

mined. Those who showed themselves in favor and heartily willing to do everything within their power for the welfare of the city will be praised by the men who elected them to office; the others cannot expect to be.

When the matter was voted on in council it resulted as follows: For the acceptance—Peach, Nice, McConnell, Johnston, Orr and Horwell. Against the acceptance—Marshall, Bullock, Thomas and Barlow. It was understood before the meeting last evening that Mr. Barlow, one of the members voting against the acceptance, had changed his mind and would vote in its favor. The other members present, who have always been on the affirmative side of the question, stated this morning that had the entire body been present at the meeting the report would have been favorably acted upon. It required 7 votes to accept, and only 5 members being present who had announced themselves, it was thought useless to even present the matter to a vote.

According to parliamentary rules a member voting for the passage of a measure cannot make a motion for its reconsideration, that being left to a member who has voted in the negative.

FOR HITTING HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

A Light Fine Was Imposed Upon Paul McDowell. How the Trouble Started.

"In view of the fact that you did nothing more heinous than to hit your mother-in-law and that your wife has volunteered to pay your fine, I must not be too severe with you," said Squire McCarron last evening, at the conclusion of the trial of Paul McDowell on the charge of assault and battery.

McDowell is a painter, and notwithstanding that there has been quite a demand for men of his ability, he has been unable to secure jobs for several months. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Jane R. Frank, of Chester, was in the city yesterday afternoon and happened to remember that she was going to bake a cake today and that McDowell's wife had a few fresh, country eggs. She thought a couple of them would help the cake wonderfully and went to the McDowell home, which is one room in a house occupied by a family by the name of Vogel. It is located in the West End, near Golding's mill flint.

Mrs. Frank entered the house, made known her wants and having them satisfied promised to give the McDowells half of the cake, and was on the verge of leaving when she happened to see

McDowell resting in an easy manner in a corner. Her indignation was immediately aroused. She could not stand the sight. Her daughter was rubbing the skin off her knuckles on the washboard, and the husband lying around reaping the benefits.

"You worthless cur, why don't you get out and go to work?" she asked him. It was then his time to take action. He had been insulted before, but not in his own house. Though it was his venerable mother-in-law that had said the words, he could not hold himself. Jumping from his easy posture he rushed at her, landed a blow on her neck and shoved her rudely out into the hall. There she stopped and defied him to move her another inch. She would leave his apartment, but he did not own the hallway and not an inch would she move.

With a black and blue mark on her face and assuming an air of injured feelings she a short time later walked into the office of the justice and filed the charge. He was sent for and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was assessed $4.

ed help and removed him to the house. The doctor has a wife and a daughter lives near Canfield.

Dr. Haas' condition today was grave, and it is feared he may not recover. Ill health and melancholia are supposed to have prompted the attempt to end his life. Dr. Haas is about 48 years of age. He has twice been divorced and is now living with his third wife.

While the knife did not touch a vital spot, it is the opinion of the physicians that the wound will prove fatal. Dr. Haas is in a weakened condition as the result of a long and serious illness, from which he was just beginning to show an improvement. He may rally from the shock occasioned by the wound, but the chances of his recovery are few.

It is believed that the injury was inflicted during a temporary mental derangement, as he had been acting in a peculiar manner for a number of days. The affair has caused the greatest sensation in years at East Palestine.

CALCUTTA COLT CASE HAVING ANOTHER TRIAL

Squire Moore Trying to Settle a Dispute Which a Jury Failed Upon.

An interesting case is on trial today at Calcutta before Squire Moore, of St. Clair township. Thomas Starkey, of this city, is the defendant in the case and Mrs. William Given is the plaintiff. The former is being represented by Attorney W. B. Hill and the latter by Attorney Gaston.

The case is the outgrowth of a chattel mortgage signed by William Given, and given to Starkey, who, when the date for collection came around, was frustrated by Mrs. Given, who alleged that a colt included in the mortgage was her property and not that of her husband. A jury trial was held a month ago before the same justice, with the result that the jurors failed to agree.

DOUBLE TRACK PROMISED

A Number of New Cars And an Increase in the Power Are Among the Additions to Be Made—Manager Healy Talks.

According to General Manager L. W. Healy, of the East Liverpool railway, extensive improvements, looking to a better service, are soon to be made on the line. These improvements have been in contemplation for some time, although not made public owing to the fact their exact nature and extent had not yet been fully determined. When asked concerning the proposed improvements by a News Review reporter this afternoon Mr. Healy said:

"Yes, it is true that a great many improvements on the line will soon be under way. Several weeks ago four new double track cars were ordered from the Niles Car Manufacturing company, of Niles, O. They will be equipped with four motors each and probably with air brakes. We have a new 250 horse power boiler on the cars at the power house and expect to have it in service by the first of March. This will make a total addition to the plant of 500 horse power in the last twelve months.

"We propose to begin the work of double tracking the line through town, as soon as possible after procuring the sanction of the property holders and the city council. The part of the line extending from the Diamond to Oakland will be the first to be improved. The remainder of the line will be improved later on. The new track will be laid with girder rails and they will be heavier and stand higher than any we have yet used. Stone ballasting will be used.

"Already a number of manufacturers have given their consent to placing the additional track in front of their properties and a number of names are on a petition circulated for that purpose.

Rumors of these improvements have been in circulation for some time, and their confirmation will be learned with pleasure as they will place the line in first class shape. The new engine, when placed in service, will put an end to the shortage of power that has been a handicap to the service this winter. The improvements include all parts of the system, but Mr. Healy could not state today just what would be done.

GETTING INTO LINE FOR ZIMMERMAN

Ohio Democracy Seems to Favor Springfield Man As gubernatorial Candidate.

LEADERS HOLD CONFERENCE

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, January 28.—The political stock of Hon. John L. Zimmerman, of Springfield, the former Columbiana county man, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, is on the upward trend. Lewis G. Bernard, of Cincinnati, the accredited representative of John R. McLean, and W. J. Frey, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, held a conference at Findlay, the home of Frey, and talked over the advisability of uniting on Zimmerman as the choice of the party for governor. Zimmerman has stood aloof from factionalism, has no enemies in the ranks of his own party, which should go a long way toward getting him the nomination. Zimmerman at one time resided near Salem.

A book just issued, entitled "Ohio History Sketches," contains a very able article from the pen of Hon. Charles B. Galbreath, state librarian, on the subject of Lafayette's visit to Ohio. Mr. Galbreath has made a careful study of the life of the eminent French patriot and has lectured before educational institutions of Ohio on this great man. As the title implies, the book deals exclusively with Ohio history, and is made up of historical narratives contributed by well known Ohio writers. The book is intended for supplementary reading in the grammar grades and high schools of Ohio, the subject matter dealing with matters heretofore not given in book form.

The Columbiana County Building & Saving company, of East Liverpool, has filed a certificate with the secretary of state increasing its authorized capital stock from $400,000 to $1,000,000. C. Metsch is president and M. E. Miskall, secretary.

The annual report of the trustees of the State Institution for the Blind shows that these Columbiana county students were enrolled at the institution during the past year: Anna Gorell, Martin Dechant, Thomas Dechant and Mary Hunter, of East Liverpool; Blanche Hartzell, Washingtonville.

Certificates were granted to these nurserymen by the state board of agriculture during the past year: B. F. Stackhouse, Lisbon; J. Jenkins, Winona; Eliphaz Cope, Rogers; Highland Avenue Nursery, Salem; B. C. Mackall, Beaver county, Pa.

The Hanna slate is said to stand as follows: Governor, Myron T. Herrick; lieutenant governor, Harry Gordon; auditor, W. D. Guilbert; supreme judge, John M. Sheets; attorney general, Smith W. Bennett.

State Game Warden J. C. Porterfield has had his wings clipped by Attorney General Sheets, who holds the warden has no right to seize plumage worn on the hats of women or confiscate plumage exposed for sale in millinery stores. As the plumage worn by women is not exposed for barter and sale they are within the law. The attorney general says that while it is an offense to offer for sale the plumage of birds protected by law this fact does not give the warden and his deputies power to seize and destroy this property. Their duty is limited to filing suit against the person or persons so transgressing against the statute. When the anti-plumage crusade was begun the state game warden intimated he would confiscate the plumage worn by ladies besides causing their arrest. He has no authority to do either.

SUES FOR DAMAGES FOR HIS INJURIES

Workman at a Salem Plant Wants $2,000 For Hurts Received While at Work.

Lisbon, January 28.—(Special).—

A number of witnesses from Salem are here today to appear in court this afternoon in the case of George W. Haines against the Buckeye Engine company, of that city. Haines has sued the company for $3,000 damages for injuries received January 21, 1902. He had been in the company's employ just three months on the day of the accident, which occurred when he was in the act of oiling the machine, his right hand being caught in a train of rapidly revolving cog wheels and so badly crushed and lacerated that two fingers had to be amputated.

Mr. Haines alleges the operator of the drill at which he was working did not have sufficient protection from the machine, the mechanism of which was not concealed by the customary shield which should accompany such machines. He says he remonstrated with those in charge, and particularly when he was ordered to oil the machine just before the accident. He was commanded to proceed, however, with the result that his earning powers decreased.

DATE OF HOLDING CITY PRIMARIES

To Be Fixed By the City Republican Committee This Evening.

CANDIDATES ARE SCARCE

For Committeemen in the Several Wards, But It Is Expected That There Will Be a Number in the Field When the Entries Close.

The first meeting of the campaign will be held by the Republican city committee this evening. The session promises to be long and interesting, as there are a number of matters to be disposed of, several of which will require some time to determine upon.

The time for holding the city primary will be one of the first questions for the committee to settle, and in this the candidates for the several of fees will be consulted. It has always been customary for the call for a meeting on this point to include the prospective candidates, and the same rule has been observed in the present instance. The city committee itself has no interest in the matter other than possessing the authority to fix the date, and it will be to the advantage of every aspirant to office in the city to attend the meeting and state his preference.

According to expressions secured from a number of the candidates, it would seem that all will favor an early date, and it can be stated with some degree of certainty that the city primary will be held some time during the latter part of February. The county contest will not interfere with the city fights in any way other than the fact that they will be on at the same time, but the city primary will be over with at least a month before the county candidates will know their fate.

The coming city contests will be notable for the absence of councilman candidates, for, to the present not a single candidate for these positions of which there are seven, have positively announced their candidacy. A large number of men have been talked of for the place, and urged by their friends to announce, but have not yet consented to do so. The birth of councilmen will be of less importance under the new code since the body will be purely legislative, but at the same time the responsibilities will be far greater, since there will be a large number of new ordinances to enact and a greater number of orders to amend at the very beginning of their official career. It is recognized by many that these matters ought not to be neglected, nor should they be left in the hands of incompetent men. It is likely that there will be a sufficient number of candidates for council in the field when the time limit for entrance is reached to make the fights in the several wards interesting enough for any one.

By far the greatest interest centers in the fight for mayor, and the seven or eight candidates are hard at work marshaling their forces and lining up the precinct and ward workers. These men will all be present at the meeting tonight.

It is just possible there will be no contest for the position of city solicitor, as there is a well authenticated rumor that one of the other of the present candidates will withdraw to take up another line of work.

NEED OF FIRE PROTECTION UPON THE NORTHSIDE FORCIBLY POINTED OUT

Fire Department Officials Lay the Matter Before Council—Useless Debate on Pennsylvania Avenue Question.

For nearly two hours last night the city council put in the time in discussions which were productive of little good, over an hour being devoted to a general summing up of the work of the equalizing board on Pennsylvania avenue.

Councilmen Orr and Howell were the only members absent when the meeting was called to order, and after a slight alteration in the minutes, the body was prepared to do business.

Mr. Johnston took occasion to bring up a matter which, though it has never been regularly before the council, has been generally discussed for the past year or more. The people of the Northside have long needed better fire protection, and while a majority of the members of council appreciated the fact, they also realized that with the city's finances in their present condition, it could ill afford to stand the additional expense of establishing and maintaining another fire station. Chief Clint Morley and Assistant James McCullough laid before the body a very strong communication showing the necessity for such an institution. It read as follows:

Gentlemen: I would respectfully call your attention to the immediate necessity of making some more adequate arrangement for fire protection for the city, and would suggest the following remedy: For several months in the year it is almost an impossibility to reach any portion of the city lying above Grant street, either to the east or west of Calcutta road. And as the territory now to be covered by the department embraces from Ralston's Crossing to the extreme west end and north to city limits, you can readily understand that a great portion of the city including parts of Thompson Hill, Bradshaw, Huston and McKinnon addition are so situated that it is almost impossible to reach those portions within a reasonable length of time. That before these districts can be given any better protection it will be necessary to establish at some point on the Northside a station where at least the following apparatus can be kept: One combination wagon, with ladders, and hose and two additional men.

The advantage to be gained by establishing a station at some high point would first reduce the time of run to be made and would add as a reserve protection for the main department, as we are now situated, in the event of a second call, it is necessary to rely

OFFICERS ARE UPON THE TRAIL

New Cumberland Sheriff Here in Search of a Much Wanted Toronto Man.

Sheriff Charles Allison, of New Cumberland, and Detective Nick Schiller, of the Pennsylvania railroad company, were in the city yesterday on a quiet search for William McGilvary, wanted at Steubenville on a serious charge, who is supposed to have gone in hiding here.

Whether or not the officers discovered a clue is not known but in their attempt to locate him they failed and the hunted individual remains as he has been for more than a week, a fugitive from justice.

William McGilvary must be arrested, says Prosecutor Alban, of Jefferson county, and yesterday several officers were trying to run him down, including Sheriff Allison, of Hancock county. The prosecutor has already been duped by McGilvary's promises to give himself up, and even McGilvary's lawyer, A. C. Lewis, has been given the short end of the deal, as it was he who was told that McGilvary would give himself up Saturday night or Monday. This information was satisfactory to the prosecutor, and he willingly called off the officers who were on McGilvary's trail.

pretty fight, and with Joseph Betz and Chris Horton as the only men now announced, the battle will be a fair and lively one.

The city committee is expected to fix the entrance fee for candidates, set the date for the primaries and decide upon a period when all candidates must have their names recorded with the clerk of the committee.

Relieving the Allies.

Paris, January 28.—(Special).—M. Vandehide, Belgian, charge, at Caracas, will undertake the administration of Venezuelan customs in behalf of the allies, thus relieving the United States and others of responsibility.

The matter has gone so far that McGilvary secured the services of Attorney Lewis, and his mother had signed a bond of $1,500 as a preliminary bond, so that everything had the appearance of being done in good faith.

"I haven't seen him," is all the response Attorney Lewis makes to questions concerning his whereabouts. "We will get him," is the response of Prosecutor Alban.

Saturday Attorney Lewis went up the river past Toronto and it is believed that he had a talk at Empire with McGilvary, who wanted his legal advice. Of course it was advised that the fugitive should give himself up, and fight the case, and this McGilvary promised to do so. This information was imparted to the prosecutor and he agreed to hold the officers off.

It was thought for several days that McGilvary was in hiding in a house near Penrit, W. Va., and several times Sheriff Allison and his deputies have visited the house but each time were compelled to leave without catching sight of their man.

Lisbon, January 28.—(Special).—

A number of witnesses from Salem are here today to appear in court this afternoon in the case of George W. Haines against the Buckeye Engine company, of that city. Haines has sued the company for $3,000 damages for injuries received January 21, 1902. He had been in the company's employ just three months on the day of the accident, which occurred when he was in the act of oiling the machine, his right hand being caught in a train of rapidly revolving cog wheels and so badly crushed and lacerated that two fingers had to be amputated.

Mr. Haines alleges the operator of the drill at which he was working did not have sufficient protection from the machine, the mechanism of which was not concealed by the customary shield which should accompany such machines. He says he remonstrated with those in charge, and particularly when he was ordered to oil the machine just before the accident. He was commanded to proceed, however, with the result that his earning powers decreased.

DATE OF HOLDING CITY PRIMARIES

To Be Fixed By the City Republican Committee This Evening.

CANDIDATES ARE SCARCE

For Committee in the Several Wards, But It Is Expected That There Will Be a Number in the Field When the Entries Close.

The first meeting of the campaign will be held by the Republican city committee this evening. The session promises to be long and interesting, as there are a number of matters to be disposed of, several of which will require some time to determine upon.

The time for holding the city primary will be one of the first questions for the committee to settle, and in this the candidates for the several offices will be consulted. It has always been customary for the call for a meeting on this point to include the prospective candidates, and the same rule has been observed in the present instance. The city committee itself has no interest in the matter other than possessing the authority to fix the date, and it will be to the advantage of every aspirant to office in the city to attend the meeting and state his preference.

According to expressions secured from a number of the candidates it would seem that all will favor an early date, and it can be stated with some degree of certainty that the city primary will be held some time during the latter part of February. The county contest will not interfere with the city fights in any way other than the fact that they will be on at the same time, but the city primary will be over with at least a month before the county candidates will know their fate.

The coming city contests will be notable for the absence of councilman candidates, for, to the present not a single candidate for these positions of which there are seven, have positively announced their candidacy. A large number of men have been talked of for the place, and urged by their friends to announce, but have not yet consented to do so. The berth of councilmen will be of less importance under the new code since the body will be purely legislative, but at the same time the responsibilities will be far greater, since there will be a large number of new ordinances to enact and a greater number of orders to amend at the very beginning of their official career. It is recognized by many that these matters ought not to be neglected, nor should they be left in the hands of incompetent men. It is likely that there will be a sufficient number of candidates for council in the field when the time limit for entrance is reached to make the fights in the several wards interesting enough for any one.

By far the greatest interest centers in the fight for mayor, and the seven or eight candidates are hard at work marshaling their forces and lining up the precinct and ward workers. These men will all be present at the meeting tonight.

It is just possible there will be no contest for the position of city solicitor, as there is a well authenticated rumor that one or the other of the present candidates will withdraw to take up another line of work.

NEED OF FIRE PROTECTION UPON THE NORTHSIDE FORCIBLY POINTED OUT

Fire Department Officials Lay the Matter Before Council—Useless Debate on Pennsylvania Avenue Question.

For nearly two hours last night the city council put in the time in discussions which were productive of little good, over an hour being devoted to a general summing up of the work of the equalizing board on Pennsylvania avenue.

Councilmen Orr and Howell were the only members absent when the meeting was called to order, and after a slight alteration in the minutes, the body was prepared to do business.

Mr. Johnston took occasion to bring up a matter which, though it has never been regularly before the council, has been generally discussed for the past year or more. The people of the Northside have long needed better fire protection, and while a majority of the members of council appreciated the fact, they also realized that with the city's finances in their present condition, it could ill afford to stand the additional expense of establishing and maintaining another fire station. Chief Clint Morley and Assistant James McCullough laid before the body a very strong communication showing the necessity for such an institution. It read as follows:

Gentlemen: I would respectfully call your attention to the immediate necessity of making some more adequate arrangement for fire protection for the city, and would suggest the following remedy: For several months in the year it is almost an impossibility to reach any portion of the city lying above Grant street, either to the east or west of Calcutta road. And as the territory now to be covered by the department embraces from Ralston's Crossing to the extreme west end and north to city limits, you can readily understand that a great portion of the city including parts of Thompson Hill, Bradshaw, Huston and McKinnon addition are so situated that it is almost impossible to reach those portions within a reasonable length of time. That before these districts can be given any better protection it will be necessary to establish at some point on the Northside a station where at least the following apparatus can be kept: One combination wagon, with ladders, and hose and two additional men.

The advantage to be gained by establishing a station at some high point would first reduce the time of run to be made and would add a reserve protection for the main department, as we are now situated, in the event of a second call, it is necessary to rely

New Cumberland Sheriff Here in Search of a Much Wanted Toronto Man.

Sheriff Charles Allison, of New Cumberland, and Detective Nick Schiffer, of the Pennsylvania railroad company, were in the city yesterday on a quiet search for William McGilvary, wanted at Steubenville on a serious charge, who is supposed to have gone in hiding here.

Whether or not the officers discovered a clue is not known but in their attempt to locate him they failed and the hunted individual remains as he has been for more than a week, a fugitive from justice.

William McGilvary must be arrested, says Prosecutor Alban, of Jefferson county, and yesterday several officers were trying to run him down, including Sheriff Allison, of Hancock county. The prosecutor has already been duped by McGilvary's promises to give himself up, and even McGilvary's lawyer, A. C. Lewis, has been given the short end of the deal, as it was he who was told that McGilvary would give himself up Saturday night or Monday. This information was satisfactory to the prosecutor, and he willingly called off the officers who were on McGilvary's trail.

pretty fight, and with Joseph Betz and Chris Horton as the only men now announced, the battle will be a fair and lively one.

The city committee is expected to fix the entrance fee for candidates, set the date for the primaries and decide upon a period when all candidates must have their names recorded with the clerk of the committee.

SEVEN WERE KILLED IN A TRAIN WRECK

Collision Between Express And Stock Trains Attended By Awful Results.

Chicago, January 28.—(Special).—A fast passenger train on the Chicago & Northwestern collided at Laforce, Ill., today with a stock train, telescoping the cabooses.

Two trainmen and five stockmen were killed outright.

Relieving the Allies.

Paris, January 28.—(Special).—M. Vandehide, Belgian, charge, at Caracas, will undertake the administration of Venezuelan customs in behalf of the allies, thus relieving the United States and others of responsibility.

The matter has gone so far that McGilvary secured the services of Attorney Lewis, and his mother had signed a bond of $1,500 as a preliminary bond, so that everything had the appearance of being done in good faith.

"I haven't seen him," is all the response Attorney Lewis makes to questions concerning his whereabouts. "We will get him," is the response of Prosecutor Alban.

Saturday Attorney Lewis went up the river past Toronto and it is believed that he had a talk at Empire with McGilvary, who wanted his legal advice. Of course it was advised that the fugitive should give himself up, and fight the case, and 'tis said McGilvary promised to do so. This information was imparted to the prosecutor and he agreed to hold the officers off.

It was thought for several days that McGilvary was in hiding in a house near Penrith, W. Va., and several times Sheriff Allison and his deputies have visited the house but each time were compelled to leave without catching sight of their man.

ENGINEER MAKES DYING CONFESSION

SAYS THAT AN AWFUL WRECK WAS HIS FAULT.

Twenty-One Bodies Recovered at the Scene of New Jersey Disaster—Fifty Injured.

New York, January 28.—(Special).—Twenty-one bodies were taken from the wreckage of the Philadelphia and Reading express and local express on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, at Graceland, N. J. The victims were residents of New Jersey.

While dying Engineer Davis, of the Reading express, said: "I am responsible for the accident. I saw the danger signal but expected it to turn white."

It is estimated that 50 were injured. A $30 Pension—A Washington special says Thomas Fair, who was a member of Company E, Eighth Ohio, of East Liverpool, has been granted a pension of $30 a month. Fair's health was shattered by the Cuban campaign. He is a potter.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

GLAD TO GET BACK.

Edward Ward, who served with Company E, in its Cuban campaign, and who is one of the best known potters in the west, has returned to this city from New Castle, where he was employed as a figgerman for several months. Mr. Ward told a News Review reporter that work in New Castle, so far as the pottery workmen are concerned, was anything but satisfactory, and he is glad to be back to his old home town. Mr. Ward is one of quite a number of potters who enlisted in the volunteer service at the beginning and he is still suffering from some of the effects of his severe campaigning in the tropics. For months after his return from Cuba Mr. Ward suffered from chills and fever, and for a long time was unable to work at his trade.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

Extensive improvements are contemplated for the East End pottery during the coming spring. The packing shed which was recently destroyed by several wrecked cars being thrown into it will be replaced by a three story brick structure which will be used as a packing shed and glove warehouse. Orders for ware from this plant are coming in rapidly and two new kilns of large dimensions may be among the improvements before the work is completed.

CUT HIS LEG.

Burt Russell, of the biscuit kiln crew at the Goodwin, is confined to his home on Trentvale street, the result of an injury accidentally and self inflicted. He was engaged in cutting a piece of leather when his knife slipped, making a large gash in his left leg just above the knee. The instrument penetrated to the bone, making an ugly gash. Mr. Russell will be unable to work for a week or more.

TENDERED A SURPRISE.

Miss Hattie Bierly, of Salem, who is soon to leave Sebring to accept a situation as stenographer at the new Cameron, W. Va., plant, was tendered a surprise social at the home of Mrs. S. H. Neville, on Ohio avenue, Sebring. Miss Bierly has won many friends in

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

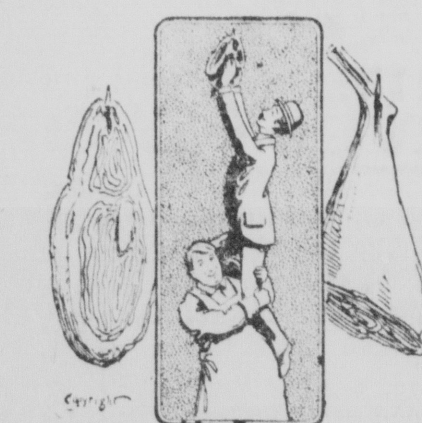

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail, Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

DO NOT MAKE ANY MISTAKE BUT REMEMBER THE NAME Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton N. Y. on every bottle.

NEW FORELADY.

Mrs. Minnie Smith has taken charge of the decalcomania department at the Thompson as forelady. She was formerly with the Edwin M. Knowles plant, Chester. There is a big lot of work for the decalcomania department at the Thompson and the force will work at night this week.

A GOOD YEAR.

The Akron China company, is just getting its new kiln in operation. The Akron people have enjoyed a good year's business and the outlook for the coming year is better still. They are compelled to buy as much again as they made last year in order to fill their orders.

FAIR PROGRESS.

Fair progress is being made on the plant of the Pope-Gosger China company, at Coshecton, although little besides the foundations have been completed. The weather will not permit of much work being done, but what progress is possible, is being made.

NEW ZANESVILLE PLANT.

A new pottery for the production of utility ware is talked of for Zanesville, but the names of those interested could not be learned. It is said that the plant, if built, will be located in the heart of the city.

ALMOST COMPLETED.

The new pottery being built at Lancaster, O., is almost completed, and will be in operation soon. It will make a full line of stoneware and stoneware specialties.

NEW KILN DRAWN.

The new kiln at the Thompson was drawn for the first time yesterday. Tom Neal, boss of the kiln end, had the honor of placing the first sagger.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Cliff Young, of the Thompson, is laid up with the mumps. The ghost men at the Dresden loafed yesterday, being short a kiln.

Miss Ollie McGillivray has left the decorating department at the Thompson for a similar position at the Cartwright.

Dan Bowers, who has been working at the Pioneer, Wellsville, for some time, has taken an ewer bench at the Goodwin.

J. E. Fox has returned from a visit to his boyhood home in Milan, Missouri. He went to work yesterday, as a glider at the Thompson.

BARB'RS' UNION BATTLE

Decision in Favor of Plaintiff in Important Test Case in An Ohio Town.

Dennison, January 28.—The case of Ohio vs. R. W. Ward, was decided in common pleas court, at New Philadelphia yesterday, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. The case attracted considerable attention as a test case of the law governing the use of a union sign.

The Twin City Barbers' union, composed of employers, chartered under the laws of Ohio, but not affiliated with the International Barbers' union, which admits only employees, secured the indictment of Ward for using a large sign, "Union Shop," upon his window, when he was not a member of the employers' union. Ward held a retiring card from the International union, of which there is no local here.

REALM OF SPORTS

GODWIN AND LINDSAY WILL PLAY FAST BALL

They Have Signed With Minor Leagues And Their Absence Will Be Keenly Felt Locally.

Local base ball fans regret very much that Harry Lindsay, of Canton and John Godwin have signed with foreign teams for next season. It was the hope of every man in the city who has the success of the new ball team to be organized in the city next spring at heart that both of the named players would be signed with the local aggregation. Now that they have bound themselves to some other team the blow is having an effect.

Lindsay has sold his services to San Francisco and will leave for the Golden Gate City March 1. There is not a man who ever saw Lindsay pitch a game in this vicinity that could be made to speak of him in any other than words of praise. He is one of the best twirlers, for his age and experience, in the country and he certainly would have been a prize on the local team. A man with plenty of admirers, none of whom are afraid to give vent to their feelings, always has success if there is anything in him. No man ever had more such friends in this city, considering his few appearances, than he. Will any man living in the city last fall ever forget the game that he pitched at Rochester against the team of that city? The ovation that was accorded him by East Liverpool fans immediately after the game was never outclassed.

Godwin's career in the base ball world has been of comparatively short duration. That he is one of the best fielders and all-around players the city has turned out no one will deny. He is simply of the class of amateurs "at have a streak of bad luck in their beginning. It will be remembered that he left last spring to play fast ball but he returned in a short time. No one ever entertained the thought for a moment that he was farmed on account of his inability to furnish the goods. They all know the man too well. He is competent and able, but heretofore has had no confidence in himself. It is with a strong determination that he leaves April 1 to join the Bloomfield (Ill.) team, and it is predicted that he will make a well deserved mark during the season and that in another year he will be playing with faster company.

HAD NO CRUDGE AGAINST MERCER

Old Jack Glasscock Could Harbor No Malice Against the East Liverpool Boy.

"Win" Mercer was the only ball player against whom old Jack Glasscock refused to harbor a grudge. "Pebble Jack," as Glasscock was called, said Scappery "Bil" Joyce, at St. Louis, "kept a memorandum book which he factiously termed a book of fate," in which he marked his grudges until they were wiped one by one. Once when Mercer pitched for Washington against Pittsburgh he gave Glasscock a fearful blow in the ribs with a pitched ball. Jack thought it might have been personal and that night he marked down in his little book "Mercer—Get him."

"This meant that Glasscock wouldn't rest until he had turned some trick on Mercer—something to even up matters. From that time until the far end of the season Glasscock waited patiently, seeing Mercer play many times, but he never got a chance. His observation of Mercer was such as to make him believe that he would not play dirty ball, and one night Glasscock walked into a Pittsburgh hotel where Mercer was staying and said: "Win, I guess you didn't mean to hit me with that ball. I'll wipe it out."

"True to his promise Jack pulled out the back and drew his pencil through Mercer's entry. It was the only score ever wiped off quietly by Jack Glasscock."

BEAVER FALLS BOWLERS DEFEATED BY LOCAL TEAM

Kearns Saved the Series By Phenomenal Bowling in the Last Two Games.

Amid the howling and hooting of a large crowd of excited rooters a series of three games were bowled last evening on the Imperial alleys by the Beaver Falls team and the locals. The latter are considering themselves lucky that they made the agreement before-hand to figure the results on the total number of pins made.

Both teams rolled very poor games, the totals being under 2,400. The visitors walked away with the first game, but fell down in the next. To Kearns is credited their drop. The youngster was asked to play in the place of McEldowney, considered one of the best players in the city. He reluctantly consented, and though the youngest of the bunch, he bowled the prettiest game in a match ever witnessed on local alleys. The Pennsylvania lads could do nothing but stare at him in amazement in the second game. He piled up so many strikes that the visitors were afraid that 300 would be reached and they all felt that Captain Craig had surely imported a professional. The third game was won by the visitors, making them the winners of two of the series, but losers on total pins by 47.

The individual scores follow:

East Liverpool.

Craig 149 134 132

WELLSVILLE UNDAUNTED

Captain Shingler's Bowlers Will Play the Local Team on Imperial Alleys Tonight.

The awful drubbing given Captain Shingler's bowling team at Wellsville last week by the East Liverpool team has had but one effect on the former aggregation. It was thought by East Liverpool bowlers that the defeat would be so humiliating that a return date would not be given. Undaunted the Wellsville bunch have gallantly stood by their agreement and will play the second of the series on the Imperial alleys this evening. Captain Shingler stated last evening that he had ordered barrels for each member of his team, and there is a possibility of their winning out.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

GLAD TO GET BACK.

Edward Ward, who served with Company E, in its Cuban campaign, and who is one of the best known potters in the west, has returned to this city from New Castle, where he was employed as a jiggerman for several months. Mr. Ward told a News Review reporter that work in New Castle, so far as the pottery workmen are concerned, was anything but satisfactory, and he is glad to be back to his old home town. Mr. Ward is one of quite a number of potters who enlisted in the volunteer service at the beginning and he is still suffering from some of the effects of his severe campaigning in the tropics. For months after his return from Cuba Mr. Ward suffered from chills and fever, and for a long time was unable to work at his trade.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

Extensive improvements are contemplated for the East End pottery during the coming spring. The packing shed which was recently destroyed by several wrecked cars being thrown into it will be replaced by a three story brick structure which will be used as a packing shed and glove warehouse. Orders for ware from this plant are coming in rapidly and two new kilns of large dimensions may be among the improvements before the work is completed.

CUT HIS LEG.

Burt Russell, of the biscuit kiln crew at the Goodwin, is confined to his home on Trentvale street, the result of an injury accidentally and self-inflicted. He was engaged in cutting a piece of leather when his knife slipped, making a large gash in his left leg just above the knee. The instrument penetrated to the bone, making an ugly gash. Mr. Russell will be unable to work for a week or more.

TENDERED A SURPRISE.

Miss Hattie Bierly, of Salem, who is soon to leave Sebring to accept a situation as stenographer at the new Cameron, W. Va., plant, was tendered a surprise social at the home of Mrs. S. H. Neville, on Ohio avenue, Sebring. Miss Bierly has won many friends in

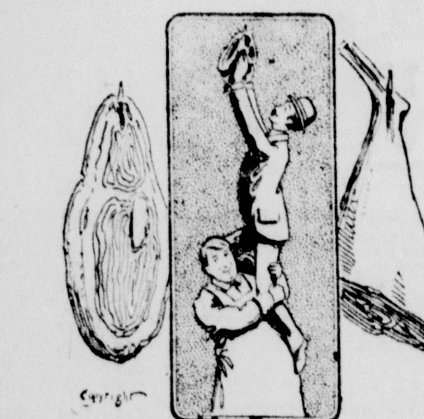

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. BARBERS' UNION BATTLE

Decision in Favor of Plaintiff in Important Test Case in An Ohio Town.

Denton, January 25.—The case of Ohio vs. R. W. Ward, was decided in common pleas court, at New Philadelphia yesterday, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. The case attracted considerable attention as a test case of the law governing the use of a union sign.

The Twin City Barbers' union, composed of employers, chartered under the laws of Ohio, but not affiliated with the International Barbers' union, which admits only employees, secured the indictment of Ward for using a large sign, "Union Shop," upon his window, when he was not a member of the employers' union. Ward held a retiring card from the International union, of which there is no local here.

REALM OF SPORTS

GODWIN AND LINDSAY WILL PLAY FAST BALL

They Have Signed With Minor Leagues And Their Absence Will Be Keenly Felt Locally.

Local base ball fans regret very much that Harry Lindsay, of Canton and John Godwin have signed with foreign teams for next season. It was the hope of every man in the city who has the success of the new ball team to be organized in the city next spring at heart that both of the named players would be signed with the local aggregation. Now that they have bound themselves to some other team the blow is having an effect.

Lindsay has sold his services to San Francisco and will leave for the Golden Gate City March 1. There is not a man who ever saw Lindsay pitch a game in this vicinity that could be made to speak of him in any other than words of praise. He is one of the best twirlers, for his age and experience, in the country and he certainly would have been a prize on the local team. A man with plenty of admirers, none of whom are afraid to give vent to their feelings, always has success if there is anything in him. No man ever had more such friends in this city, considering his few appearances, than he. Will any man living in the city last fall ever forget the game that he pitched at Rochester against the team of that city? The ovation that was accorded him by East Liverpool fans immediately after the game was never outclassed.

Godwin's career in the base ball world has been of comparatively short duration. That he is one of the best fielders and all-around players the city has turned out no one will deny. He is simply of the class of amateurs "at have a streak of bad luck in their beginning. It will be remembered that he left last spring to play fast ball but he returned in a short time. No one ever entertained the thought for a moment that he was farmed on account of his inability to furnish the goods. They all know the man too well. He is competent and able, but heretofore has had no confidence in himself. It is with a strong determination that he leaves April 1 to join the Bloomfield (Ill.) team, and it is predicted that he will make a well deserved mark during the season and that in another year he will be playing with faster company.

HAD NO CRUDE AGAINST MERCER

Old Jack Glasscock Could Harbor No Malice Against the East Liverpool Boy.

"Win" Mercer was the only ball player against whom old Jack Glasscock refused to harbor a grudge. "Pebble Jack," as Glasscock was called, said Scraggy "Bill" Joyce, at St. Louis, "kept a memorandum book which he 'factiously' termed a book of fate," in which he marked his grudges until they were wiped one by one. Once when Mercer pitched for Washington against Pittsburgh he gave Glasscock a fearful blow in the ribs with a pitched ball. Jack thought it might have been personal and that night he marked it down in his little book: "Mercer—Get him."

"This meant that Glasscock would not rest until he had turned some trick on Mercer—something to even up matters. From that time until the far end of the season Glasscock waited patiently, seeing Mercer play many times, but he never got a chance. His observation of Mercer was such as to make him believe that he would not play dirty ball, and one night Glasscock walked into a Pittsburgh hotel where Mercer was staying and said: "Win, I guess you didn't mean to hit me with that ball. I'll wipe it out."

"True to his promise, Jack pulled

BEAVER FALLS BOWLERS DEFEATED BY LOCAL TEAM

Kearns Saved the Series By Phenomenal Bowling in the Last Two Games.

Amid the howling and hooting of a large crowd of excited rooters a series of three games were bowled last evening on the Imperial alleys by the Beaver Falls team and the locals. The latter are considering themselves lucky that they made the agreement before-hand to figure the results on the total number of pins made.

Both teams rolled very poor games, the totals being under 2,400. The visitors walked away with the first game, but fell down in the next. To Kearns is credited their drop. The youngster was asked to play in the place of McEldowney, considered one of the best players in the city. He reluctantly consented, and though the youngest of the bunch, he bowled the prettiest game in a match ever witnessed on local alleys. The Pennsylvania lads could do nothing but stare at him in amazement in the second game. He piled up so many strikes that the visitors were afraid that 300 would be reached and they all felt that Captain Craig had surely imported a professional. The third game was won by the visitors, making them the winners of two of the series, but losers on total pins by 47.

The individual scores follow:

Rigby	162	123
Clark	162	153

Kearns	182	246

WELLSVILLE UNDAUNTED

Captain Shingler's Bowlers Will Play the Local Team on Imperial Alleys Tonight.

The awful drubbing given Captain Shingler's bowling team at Wellsville last week by the East Liverpool team has had but one effect on the former aggregation. It was thought by East Liverpool bowlers that the defeat would be so humiliating that a return late would not be given. Undaunted the Wellsville bunch have gallantly stood by their agreement and will play the second of the series on the Imperial alleys this evening. Captain Shingler stated last evening that he had ordered barrels for each member of his team, and there is a possibility of them winning out.

The lineups will be as follows:
East Liverpool—Craig, Carrahan, Rigby, Kearns and Clark.
Wellsville—Shingler, Aten, Hall, Harsha and Karr.

CONTEST CANCELED

At the Last Moment Cohen and Tetler Hitched on Articles of Agreement and Called Game Off.

The pool contest scheduled to take place last evening between Louis Cohen and Tetler, the pool and billiard artist, of Steubenville, was called off late yesterday, and as a result many local sports who had been anxiously waiting for the event were much disappointed.

It cannot be learned just what the two players hit on. Cohen is not in the best trim for a contest, not having played much during the past year, and it is thought probable that he was not anxious, notwithstanding that he was only to make 100 points to his opponent's 125.

Last season this track was placed in the Eastern Ohio circuit and the dates for the coming events will be fixed accordingly. Mr. Brennan also says that he will give a fair next

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The trip of the All-Americans and All-Nationals to the coast netted each player between $600 and $700.

Mellier, who played first base for a few games with Baltimore last season, or until injured, has signed with Columbus.

Ban Johnson will go to New York some time this week. His leg troubles him, but he has entirely recovered from his attack of pneumonia.

Pitcher McNeal who wore a Cleveland uniform in 1901, has signed with Rochester. Frank Schebeck, another former Cleveland, will captain the team.

Fitz is on the warpath. He offers to knock out Ryan, "Gus" Ruhlin, "Kid" McCoy, "Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien, and as he puts it all the rest inside of four rounds or forfeit to each man $250.

A MINISTER TELLS OF HIS FALL FROM GRACE

Acknowledged That He Had Drunk Heavily And Gambled—Finally Repented.

Rev. W. J. Holt, of Moundsville, formerly pastor of the Elkins, W. Va., M. E. congregation, created a sensation in the revival services which have been in progress at Moundsville for the past few weeks by making an open confession from the floor of the assembly room. He said he had fallen from grace, had been drinking heavily, finally passing to gambling in which he won $5,000, and he said he had accumulated property and worldly goods and had led a life he should have eschewed and not even contemplated.

The stir this confession made may be imagined. The young clergyman after leaving his congregation took up the study of law, and recently acquired some splendid property at Moundsville. The manner and method of his getting he told openly, and pledged his

The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion is perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

A GOOD YEAR.

The Akron China company, is just getting its new kiln in operation. The Akron people have enjoyed a good year's business and the outlook for the coming year is better still. They are compelled to buy as much again as they made last year in order to fill their orders.

FAIR PROGRESS.

Fair progress is being made on the plant of the Pope-Gosser China company, at Cosheron, although little besides the foundations have been completed. The weather will not permit of much work being done, but what progress is possible, is being made.

NEW ZANESVILLE PLANT.

A new pottery for the production of utility ware is talked of for Zanesville, but the names of those interested could not be learned. It is said that the plant, if built, will be located in the heart of the city.

ALMOST COMPLETED.

The new pottery being built at Lancaster, O., is almost completed, and will be in operation soon. It will make a full line of stoneware and stoneware specialties.

NEW KILN DRAWN.

The new kiln at the Thompson was drawn for the first time yesterday. Tom Neal, boss of the glaze end, had the honor of placing the first sagger.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Cliff Young, of the Thompson, is laid up with the mumps.

The glaze men at the Dresden loafed yesterday, being short a kiln.

Miss Hattie Smith has taken a job in the dipping department at the Goodwin.

Miss Ollie McGillivray has left the decorating department at the Thompson for a similar position at the Cartwright.

Dan Bowers, who has been working at the Pioneer, Wellsville, for some time, has taken an over bench at the Goodwin.

Miss Jessie Scott, of the decorating room at the Thompson, will leave in a short time for Wheeling where she will make her home.

J. E. Fox has returned from a visit to his boyhood home in Milan, Missouli. He went to work yesterday, as a glazer at the Thompson.

BARBERS' UNION BATTLE

Decision in Favor of Plaintiff in Important Test Case in An Ohio Town.

Dennison, January 25.—The case of Ohio vs. R. W. Ward, was decided in common pleas court, at New Philadelphia yesterday, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. The case attracted considerable attention as a test case of the law governing the use of a union sign.

The Twin City Barbers' union, composed of employers, chartered under the laws of Ohio, but not affiliated with the International Barbers' union, which admits only employees, secured the indictment of Ward for using a large sign, "Union Shop," upon his window, when he was not a member of the employers' union. Ward held a retiring card from the International union, of which there is no local here.

REALM OF SPORTS

CODWIN AND LINDSAY WILL PLAY FAST BALL

They Have Signed With Minor Leagues And Their Absence Will Be Keenly Felt Locally.

Local base ball fans regret very much that Harry Lindsay, of Canton and John Godwin have signed with foreign teams for next season. It was the hope of every man in the city who has the success of the new ball team to be organized in the city next spring at heart that both of the named players would be signed with the local aggregation. Now that they have bound themselves to some other team the blow is having an effect.

Lindsay has sold his services to San Francisco and will leave for the Golden Gate City March 1. There is not a man who ever saw Lindsay pitch a game in this vicinity that could be made to speak of him in any other than words of praise. He is one of the best twirlers, for his age and experience, in the country and he certainly would have been a prize on the local team. A man with plenty of admirers, none of whom are afraid to give vent to their feelings, always has success if there is anything in him. No man ever had more such friends in this city, considering his few appearances, than he. Will any man living in the city last fall ever forget the game that he pitched at Rochester against the team of that city? The ovation that was accorded him by East Liverpool fans immediately after the game was never outclassed.

Godwin's career in the base ball world has been of comparatively short duration. That he is one of the best fielders and all-around players the city has turned out no one will deny. He is simply of the class of amateurs that have a streak of bad luck in their beginning. It will be remembered that he left last spring to play fast ball but he returned in a short time. No one ever entertained the thought for a moment that he was farmed on account of his inability to furnish the goods. They all know the man too well. He is competent and able, but heretofore has had no confidence in himself. It is with a strong determination that he leaves April 1 to join the Bloomfield (Ill.) team, and it is predicted that he will make a well deserved mark during the season and that in another year he will be playing with faster company.

HAD NO CRUDE AGAINST MERCER

Old Jack Glasscock Could Harbor No Malice Against the East Liverpool Boy.

"Win" Mercer was the only ball player against whom old Jack Glasscock refused to harbor a grudge. "Pebble Jack," as Glasscock was called, said Scrapper "Bill" Joyce, at St. Louis, "kept a memorandum book which he facetiously termed a book of fate," in which he marked his grudges until they were wiped one by one. Once when Mercer pitched for Washington against Pittsburg he gave Glasscock a fearful blow in the ribs with a pitched ball. Jack thought it might have been personal and that night he marked down in his little book: "Mercer—Get him."

"This meant that Glasscock won't not rest until he had turned some trick on Mercer—something to even up matters. From that time until the far end of the season Glasscock waited patiently, seeing Mercer play many times, but he never got a chance. His observation of Mercer was such as to make him believe that he would not play dirty ball, and one night Glasscock walked into a Pittsburg hotel where Mercer was staying and said: "Win, I guess you didn't mean to hit me with that ball. I'll wipe it out."

"True to his promise, Jack pulled

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of proper food, together with natural action of the digestive organs. Nine people out of ten, in order to weigh as much as they ought, and be perfectly healthy, should use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food and digestion regulator. Weigh yourself before commencing to use those little tablets and see how your weight increases from week to week. Mi-o-na does not contain a particle of pepsin, the basis of the ordinary dyspepsia remedy, and which never made a cure of dyspepsia. Mi-o-na has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, helps digest the food eaten, and absolutely cures the worst forms of dyspepsia.

BEAVER FALLS BOWLERS DEFEATED BY LOCAL TEAM

Kearns Saved the Series By Phenomenal Bowling in the Last Two Games.

Amid the howling and hooting of a large crowd of excited rooters a series of three games were bowled last evening on the Imperial alleys by the Beaver Falls team and the locals. The latter are considering themselves lucky that they made the agreement before-hand to figure the results on the total number of pins made.

Both teams rolled very poor games, the totals being under 2,400. The visitors walked away with the first game, but fell down in the next. To Kearns is credited their drop. The youngster was asked to play in the place of McEldowney, considered one of the best players in the city. He reluctantly consented, and though the youngest of the bunch, he bowled the prettiest game in a match ever witnessed on local alleys. The Pennsylvania lads could do nothing but stare at him in amazement in the second game. He piled up so many strikes that the visitors were afraid that 300 would be reached and they all felt that Captain Craig had surely imported a professional. The third game was won by the visitors, making them the winners of two of the series, but losers on total pins by 47.

WELLSVILLE UNDAUNTED

Captain Shingler's Bowlers Will Play the Local Team on Imperial Alleys Tonight.

The awful drubbing given Captain Shingler's bowling team at Wellsville last week by the East Liverpool team has had but one effect on the former aggregation. It was thought by East Liverpool bowlers that the defeat would be so humiliating that a return date would not be given. Undaunted the Wellsville bunch have gallantly stood by their agreement and will play the second of the series on the Imperial alleys this evening. Captain Shingler stated last evening that he had ordered barrels for each member of his team, and there is a possibility of them winning out.

The lineups will be as follows: East Liverpool — Craig, Carrahan, Rigby, Kearns and Clark. Wellsville—Shingler, Aten, Hall, Harsha and Karr.

CONTEST CANCELED

At the Last Moment Cohen And Tetler Hitched on Articles of Agreement And Called Game Off.

The pool contest scheduled to take place last evening between Louis Cohen and Tetler, the pool and billiard artist, of Steubenville, was called off late yesterday, and as a result many local sports who had been anxiously waiting for the event were much disappointed.

It cannot be learned just what the two players hit on. Cohen is not in the best trim for a contest, not having played much during the past year, and it is thought probable that he was not anxious, notwithstanding that he was only to make 100 points to his opponent's 125.

Two Race Meetings At Salem. P. J. Brennan, of Bradock, Pa., owner of the Salem race track, says that there will be two race meets at the Salem driving park this coming season, one in July and the other in September. The dates have not been fixed as yet as they will have to be arranged so as to get the track into the circuit as it was last year, so as to attract as many fast horses as possible. Last season this track was placed in the Eastern Ohio circuit and the dates for the coming events will be fixed accordingly. Mr. Brennan also says that he will give a fair next September if the business men of the city wish it and will insure their support.

Snyder is claimed by the college boys to be the finest basketball player in the country. While at home he was the leader in athletics and went in for that line of sport at Harvard.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The trip of the All-Americans and All-Nationals to the coast netted each player between $600 and $700.

Moller, who played first base for a few games with Baltimore last season, or until injured, has signed with Columbus.

Ban Johnson will go to New York some time this week. His leg troubles him, but he has entirely recovered from his attack of pneumonia.

Pitcher McNeal who wore a Cleveland uniform in 1901, has signed with Rochester. Frank Schebeck, another former Cleveland, will captain the team.

Fitz is on the warpath. He offers to knock out Ryan, "Gus" Ruhlin, "Kid" McCoy, "Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien, and as he puts it all the rest inside of four rounds or forfeit to each man $250.

A MINISTER TELLS OF HIS FALL FROM GRACE

Acknowledged That He Had Drunk Heavily And Gambled—Finally Repented.

Rev. W. J. Holt, of Moundsville, formerly pastor of the Elkins, W. Va., M. E. congregation, created a sensation in the revival services which have been in progress at Moundsville for the past few weeks by making an open confession from the floor of the assembly room. He said he had fallen from grace, had been drinking heavily, finally passing to gambling in which he won $5,000, etc. said he had accumulated property and worldly goods and had led a life he should have eschewed and not even contemplated.

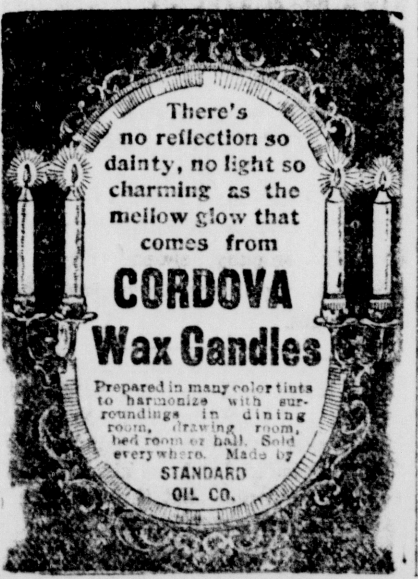

The stir this confession made may be imagined. The young clergyman after leaving his congregation took up the study of law, and recently acquired some splendid property at Moundsville. The manner and method of its getting he told openly, and pledged his

Mrs. Margaret Tracy, of No. 173 Seventh street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "One of my family was very nervous and subject to nervous spells—weak and miserable—could not sleep and the digestion was very poor. I asked the invalid to take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins Drug Store. The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion is perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

Rev. H. Stuebner, of Elkhorn, Wis., is pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church of that place. Rev. Stuebner is the possessor of two bibles presented to him by Emperor William of Germany. Upon the fly leaf of one of the bibles the Emperor has written in his own handwriting a text.

This honored pastor, in a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, says concerning their famous catarrh remedy, Peruna:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen: "I had hemorrhages of the lungs for a long time, and all despaired of me. I took Peruna and was cured. It gave me strength and courage, and made healthy, pure blood. It increased my weight, gave me a healthy color, and I feel well. It is the best medicine in the world. If everyone kept Peruna in the house it would save many from death every year."—H. STUEBNER.

Thousands of people have catarrh who would be surprised to know it, because it has been called some other name than catarrh. The fact is catarrh is catarrh wherever located; and another fact which is of equally great importance, is that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

GREAT LEGAL BATTLE WILL CONTINUE

Western Union-Pennsylvania Fight
Appealed to United States
Circuit Court.

Pittsburg, January 28.—Preliminary have been arranged for another legal battle between the Western Union Telegraph company and the Pennsylvania Railroad company, by the Western Union company taking an appeal yesterday from the United States circuit court to the United States circuit court of appeals in the case decided by Judge Joseph Buffington. The court here refused the plaintiff's petition to file a bond to condemn certain portions of the right of way of the defendant company for the use of the plaintiff's poles and wires.

The court also refusing to enjoin the defendant from removing the poles and wires of the plaintiff if they are not removed from the right of way of the defendant by June 2, 1903. As Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware are in the same circuit, the case decided in favor of the Western Union company at Trenton, will also be heard by the same judges on the bench of the court of appeals and it is likely they will be argued together.

SNOWBALLING CASE

Attracted Great Attention In 'Squire Carman's Court—Decision Reserved.

'Squire Carman's court room was filled with spectators last evening to hear the evidence in the case of the State against George Crawford. This is the snowballing affair in which Crawford is alleged to have struck a daughter of H. H. Meador, of Mulberry street. The snowball contained a piece of filling and, striking the little girl on the back of the head, inflicted a painful wound. Attorney H. E. Grosshans appeared for the defense and moved to dismiss the case on technical grounds. Mr. Meador made complaint to Attorney J. E. Davis, as notary public, and Attorney Grosshans contended that this was an error. The information he claimed should have been lodged with the mayor or a justice of the peace.

Several witnesses for the state were examined before the proceedings adjourned. The decision of the justice was reserved until he could investigate the merits of the manner of issuing the warrant. If the error is sustained it is likely that the warrant for Crawford will be sworn to before a magistrate.

CAPT. TERRENCE HURT

Injured By a Mishap While On the Way to the Pottery Fire.

Captain William Terrence, of the East End fire station, is suffering with some painful injuries to his right leg received while making the run to the Brunt pottery fire Monday night. While passing the Harter pottery on the way down the hose wagon which Captain Terrence was driving struck an obstruction and came to a sudden halt.

The momentum threw him from the seat across the dash board and his leg was badly bruised and strained. He paid no attention to the injury until he reached the East End after the fire. He is at his work but with a noticeable limp.

Close of Revival Services.

The revival services which have been in progress at the Second United Presbyterian church for the past week will be discontinued after tonight. Rev. William Duncan, of New Concord, who has been assisting Pastor McQuiston in the work, was called to his home yesterday by the serious illness of his wife. Rev. McQuiston conducted the services last evening and will preach again tonight. Much interest has been manifested in these meetings and a great deal of good has been accomplished.

Wagner Quartet Coming.

What promises to be one of the best entertainments ever given in the East End is the appearance of the Wagner quartet at the Second United Presbyterian church on the evening of February 2. This quartet was favorably received at a former appearance at the First church and many who heard them on that occasion will take advantage of this opportunity. The members of the quartet are Misses Porter, Johnston, Blackburn and Tinker, and they will be assisted by J. Clyde McCoy, soloist and reader.

East End Wants New Line.

The sentiment of the people of the East End is largely in favor of the proposed street railroad projected by A. Smith and his associates, and they are hoping that he will be successful in securing the necessary rights of way and the franchise from the city. It is thought that if an opposition line is built the old company will have more consideration for its patrons. The people believe Mr. Smith's promise to build a first-class line will be fulfilled to the letter.

A GENUINE NUISANCE

An Alleged Sport Who Got Fired from a Lawyer's Office in Haste.

A young man who calls himself a "deal game sport" from Latrobe, Pa., has been annoying the people of this city since Saturday. He came into town with a large-sized jag and has been making a desperate effort to keep from getting sober. So far he has had fairly good success. He doesn't hesitate to hold up people on the street and ask for a dime with which to promote the liquor industry, and when there is nothing doing he tries it in stores and offices. Sometimes he implores and some times he threatens and when his victim expresses ignorance as to his fame as a sport he is greatly disappointed.

He entered the office of a prominent attorney yesterday and couple some threatening remarks with his demand for money. He was fired out unceremoniously. No complaints have been lodged with the police as yet, but there will be if he continues to make himself obnoxious.

AFTER FRANCHISES

Max Goodman Consulting Washingtonville and Salem Councils About Trolley Project.

Salem, January 28.—Max P. Goodman, the electric railway promoter for the Youngstown & Ohio Valley Electric Railway & Power company, arrived in this city yesterday from Washingtonville, where he met the council of that village in a special session in regard to the securing of a franchise for the new line. He expects to be at the next meeting, which will occur about the middle of February.

He stated that the company did not know just how it would want to go through Washingtonville, but had a corps of surveyors there, among them City Engineer French, of this city, who are making a survey of two routes, one of which will be selected later.

His business in this city was to have a preliminary talk with the mayor, the city solicitor and the councilmen in regard to the local franchise situation. To find things favorable and the chances are that a formal application will be presented to the councilmen at the next meeting.

FAILED ON QUORUM.

Senator Quay Made Effort to Hold the Senate in Continuous Session.

SECURED A FAVORABLE BALLOT.

House Devoted Day to Bills Reported from Judiciary Committee and Passed About Twenty—Testimony Concluded in Lesser Hearing.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Senator Quay made an effort yesterday to hold the senate in continuous session to consider the statehood bill, but failed to hold a quorum and was compelled on adjourn at 6:20 p. m. He secured another ballot, however, to test the sentiment of the senate, the vote standing 17 to 29 in his favor. The day was spent in consideration of the statehood bill, with the exception of an hour devoted to a speech by Mr. Scott, of West Virginia, on the pension laws. The feature of the statehood bill under special consideration yesterday was the Arizona refunding proposition. It was charged that the territory has sought to repudiate bonds held by Hon. Bird S. Coler, late Democratic candidate for governor of New York state.

In the House, The house devoted the day to bills reported from the judiciary committee, passing about 20. Most of them were of a minor character, relating to the times of holding court, etc., but two were of general importance. One was to meet the original package decision of the supreme court by making intoxicating liquors imported into states subject to the jurisdiction of such states. The bill is designed to prevent evasion under the original package decision of the liquor laws in prohibition states. The other bill is the senate bill to increase the salaries of federal judges. It raises the salaries of the chief justice of the supreme court to $12,000; the associate justices to $12,500; circuit judges to $7,000; district judges to $6,000; the chief justice of the court of claims to $6,500; associate justices to $6,000, and justices of the supreme court of the District of Columbia to $6,000.

Other bills passed create additional district judges in the southern district of New York and in the district of Minnesota, and provide an additional circuit judge in the eighth judicial circuit.

A bill was passed to fix the times for holding court in the western district of Virginia.

At 5:05 p. m. the house adjourned.

Lesser Bribery Charges.

The house committee on naval affairs yesterday concluded the taking of testimony in the investigation of the charges made by Representative Lesser that a corrupt attempt had been made to influence his vote in that committee on the proposition to purchase submarine torpedo boats.

An executive session was held by the committee at the conclusion of the afternoon session and consideration was given to the findings the committee would report to the house. After several resolutions had been proposed and discussion had been had as to the wording of a report a sub-committee, consisting of Representatives Fessenden (Ill.), Dayton (W. Va.), Taylor (O.), Meyer (La.) and Kilgus (N. C.), was appointed to draw up a set of findings to be submitted to the full committee for its final action.

Body Found.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 28.—John Gentry, who mysteriously disappeared from his home at Edwardsville, this county, on Dec. 4, was found yesterday in a small reservoir near his home. The supposition is that while returning home late at night he fell into Tobys creek and his body was carried down in the swift stream to the reservoir, where it remained until found yesterday.

Respite Granted.

Harrisburg, Jan. 28.—Governor Pennypacker last night respite Samuel Greason, of Berks county, who was associated with Kate Edwards in the murder of her husband, and who was to have been hanged on Feb. 5, to March 5. Frank Dudash, of Armstrong county, charged with murder, was respite from Feb. 5 to March 5.

Loss $250,000.

Boston, Jan. 28.—For five hours more than half the Boston fire department faced a fierce fire here last night, the six-story business building of the Higginson Dime company, hard ware dealers, and contents being destroyed. The loss is a quarter of a million dollars.

A PASTOR WHO WAS BEFRIENDED BY AN EMPEROR SAVED BY PE-RU-NA.

REV.
H. STUBENVOLL

Rev. H. Stubenvoll, of Elkhorn, Wis., is pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church of that place. Rev. Stubenvoll is the possessor of two bibles presented to him by Emperor William of Germany. Upon the fly leaf of one of the bibles the Emperor has written in his own handwriting a text.

This honored pastor, in a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, says concerning their famous catarrh remedy, Peruna:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen: "I had hemorrhages of the lungs for a long time, and all despaired of me. I took Peruna and was cured. It gave me strength and courage, and made healthy, pure blood. It increased my weight, gave me a healthy color, and I feel well. It is the best medicine in the world. If everyone kept Peruna in the house it would save many from death every year."—H. STUBENVOLL.

Thousands of people have catarrh who would be surprised to know it, because it has been called some other name than catarrh. The fact is catarrh is catarrh wherever located; and another fact which is of equally great importance, is that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

GREAT LEGAL BATTLE WILL CONTINUE

Western Union-Pennsylvania Fight
Appealed to United States
Circuit Court.

Pittsburg, January 28.—Preliminary has been arranged for another legal battle between the Western Union Telegraph company and the Pennsylvania Railroad company, by the Western Union company taking an appeal yesterday from the United States circuit court to the United States circuit court of appeals in the case decided by Judge Joseph Baughman. The court here refused the plaintiff's petition to file a bond to condemn certain portions of the right of way of the defendant company for the use of the plaintiff's poles and wires.

The court also refusing to enjoin the defendant from removing the poles and wires of the plaintiff if they are not removed from the right of way of the defendant by June 2, 1902. As Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware are in the same circuit, the case decided in favor of the Western Union company at Trenton, will also be heard by the same judges on the bench of the court of appeals and it is likely they will be argued together.

SNOWBALLING CASE

Attracted Great Attention In 'Squire Carman's Court—Decision Reserved.

'Squire Carman's court room was filled with spectators last evening to hear the evidence in the case of the State against George Crawford. This is the snowballing case in which Crawford is alleged to have struck a daughter of H. H. Meador, of Mulberry street. The snowball contained a piece of tiling and, striking the little girl on the back of the head, inflicted a painful wound. Attorney H. E. Grosshans appeared for the defense and moved to dismiss the case on technical grounds. Mr. Meador made complaint to Attorney J. E. Davis, as notary public, and Attorney Grosshans contended that this was an error. The information he claimed should have been lodged with the mayor or a justice of the peace.

Several witnesses for the state were examined before the proceedings adjourned. The decision of the justice was reserved until he could investigate the merits of the manner of issuing the warrant. If the error is sustained it is likely that the warrant for Crawford will be sworn to before a magistrate.

CAPT. TERRENCE HURT

Injured By a Mishap While On the Way to the Pottery Fire.

Captain William Terrence, of the East End fire station, is suffering with some painful injuries to his right leg received while making the run to the Brunt pottery fire Monday night. While passing the Harter pottery on the way down the hose wagon which Captain Terrence was driving struck an obstruction and came to a sudden halt.

The momentum threw him from the seat across the dash board and his leg was badly bruised and strained. He paid no attention to the injury until he reached the East End after the fire. He is at his work but with a noticeable limp.

Close of Revival Services.

The revival services which have been in progress at the Second United Presbyterian church for the past week will be discontinued after tonight. Rev. William Duncan, of New Concord, who has been assisting Pastor McQuiston in the work, was called to his home yesterday by the serious illness of his wife. Rev. Mr. McQuiston conducted the services last evening and will preach again tonight. Much interest has been manifested in these meetings and a great deal of good has been accomplished.

Wagner Quartet Coming.

What promises to be one of the best entertainments ever given in the East End is the appearance of the Wagner quartet at the Second United Presbyterian church on the evening of February 2. This quartet was favorably received at a former appearance at the First church and many who heard them on that occasion will take advantage of this opportunity. The members of the quartet are Misses Porter, Johnston, Blackburn and Tinkler, and they will be assisted by J. Clyde McCoy, soloist and reader.

East End Wants New Line.

The sentiment of the people of the East End is largely in favor of the proposed street railroad projected by A. Smith and his associates, and they are hoping that he will be successful in securing the necessary rights of way and the franchise from the city. It is thought that if an opposition line is built the old company will have more consideration for its patrons. The people believe Mr. Smith's promise to build a first-class line will be fulfilled to the letter.

Gas Again Short.

The supply of gas from the Ft. Pitt mains was shut off entirely at about 9:30 o'clock this morning. The failure is said to have been caused by a break in the mains near Toronto.

Mrs. Smith, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. F. White, of Railroad street, is quite ill with tonsillitis. Quite a number of young people from Calcutta drove in last evening and held a dance in Larkin & Ferguson's hall.

Alex Brownlee, who has been laid up with a broken leg since the first of the year, was out on the streets for the first time today.

Henry Goodballet, of First avenue, who has been ill with typhoid fever, suffered a relapse and his condition is regarded as critical.

A GENUINE NUISANCE

An Alleged Sport Who Got Fired from a Lawyer's Office in Haste.

A young man who calls himself a "deal game sport" from Latrobe, Pa., has been annoying the people of this city since Saturday. He came into town with a large-sized jag and has been making a desperate effort to keep from getting sober. So far he has had fairly good success. He doesn't hesitate to hold up people on the street and ask for a dime with which to promote the liquor industry, and when there is nothing doing he tries it in stores and offices. Sometimes he implores and some times he threatens and when his victim expresses ignorance as to his fame as a sport he is greatly disappointed.

He entered the office of a prominent attorney yesterday and couple some threatening remarks with his demand for money. He was fired out unceremoniously. No complaints have been lodged with the police as yet, but there will be if he continues to make himself obnoxious.

AFTER FRANCHISES

Max Goodman Consulting Washingtonville And Salem Councils About Trolley Project.

Salem, January 28.—Max P. Goodman, the electric railway promoter for the Youngstown & Ohio Valley Electric Railway & Power company, arrived in this city yesterday from Washingtonville, where he met the council of that village in a special session in regard to the securing of a franchise for the new line. He expects to be at the next meeting, which will occur about the middle of February.

He stated that the company did not know just how it would want to go through Washingtonville, but had a corps of surveyors there, among them City Engineer French, of this city, who are making a survey of two routes, one of which will be selected later.

His business in this city was to have a preliminary talk with the mayor, the city solicitor and the councilmen in regard to the local franchise situation. He found things favorable and the chances are that a formal application will be presented to the councilmen at the next meeting.

FAILED ON QUORUM.

Senator Quay Made Effort to Hold the Senate in Continuous Session.

SECURED A FAVORABLE BALLOT.

House Devoted Day to Bills Reported from Judiciary Committee and Passed About Twenty—Testimony Concluded in Lessler Hearing.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Senator Quay made an effort yesterday to hold the senate in continuous session to consider the statehood bill, but failed to hold a quorum and was compelled to adjourn at 6:20 p. m. He secured another ballot, however, to test the sentiment of the senate, the vote standing 17 to 29 in his favor. The day was spent in consideration of the statehood bill, with the exception of an hour devoted to a speech by Mr. Scott, of West Virginia, on the pension laws. The feature of the statehood bill under especial consideration yesterday was the Arizona refunding proposition. It was charged that the territory has sought to repudiate bonds held by Hon. Bird S. Coler, late Democratic candidate for governor of New York state.

In the House. The house devoted the day to bills reported from the judiciary committee, passing about 20. Most of them were of a minor character, relating to the times of holding court, etc., but two were of general importance. One was to meet the original package decision of the supreme court by making intoxicating liquors imported into states subject to the jurisdiction of such states. The bill is designed to prevent evasion under the original package decision of the liquor laws in prohibition states. The other bill is the senate bill to increase the salaries of federal judges. It raises the salaries of the chief justice of the supreme court to $13,000; the associate justices to $12,500; circuit judges to $7,000; district judges to $6,000; the chief justice of the court of claims to $6,500; associate justices to $6,000, and justices of the supreme court of the District of Columbia to $6,000.

Other bills passed create additional district judges in the southern district of New York and in the district of Minnesota, and provide an additional circuit judge in the eighth judicial circuit.

A bill was passed to fix the times for holding court in the western district of Virginia.

At 5:05 p. m. the house adjourned.

Lessler Bribery Charges. The house committee on naval affairs yesterday concluded the taking of testimony in the investigation of the charges made by Representative Lessler that a corrupt attempt had been made to influence his vote in that committee, on the proposition to purchase submarine torpedo boats.

An executive session was held by the committee at the conclusion of the afternoon session and consideration was given to the findings the committee would report to the house. After several resolutions had been proposed and discussion had been had as to the wording of a report a sub-committee, consisting of Representatives Foss (Ill.), Dayton (W. Va.), Taylor (O.), Meyer (La.) and Kitchin (N. C.), was appointed to draw up a set of findings to be submitted to the full committee for its final action.

Body Found. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 28.—John Gerrity, who mysteriously disappeared from his home at Edwardsville, this county, on Dec. 4, was found yesterday in a small reservoir near his home. The supposition is that while returning home late at night he fell into Tobys creek and his body was carried down in the swift stream to the reservoir, where it remained until found yesterday.

Respite Granted. Harrisburg, Jan. 28.—Governor Pennypacker last night respite Samuel Greason, of Berks county, who was associated with Kate Edwards in the murder of her husband, and who was to have been hanged on Feb. 5, to March 5. Frank Durdash, of Armstrong county, charged with murder, was respite from Feb. 5 to March 5.

Loss $250,000. Boston, Jan. 28.—For five hours more than half the Boston fire department faced a fierce fire here last night, the six-story business building of the Bigelow-Powell company, hardware dealers, and contents being destroyed. The loss is a quarter of a million dollars.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1903.

No nation pays more respect to the memory of its great men than America, and none had greater men to honor. At the McKinley birthday banquet at Canton, President Roosevelt and other men of national prominence paid generous and fitting tribute to the greatness, goodness and wise statesmanship of the man so recently the victim of foul murder. More impressive or more eloquent eulogy than that pronounced by the president upon his predecessor in office has seldom been uttered on such an occasion. McKinley was worthy of it all. No mere words can add to his greatness or to the love that the people bore him. But it is meet that his excellencies be recalled and eulogies pronounced, as they were upon this anniversary, and as they will continue to be spoken at McKinley birthday celebrations during coming years. There is inspiration for all men, and not simply for the rising generation, in studying the career of great and wise patriots. Steadily the long list of distinguished men whose virtues are annually commemorated is growing. Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant and Garfield are among the conspicuous names and memories thus honored hitherto. McKinley day has now taken its place with the rest and will be observed long and impressively. Republics are not ungrateful, and America will never forget the men who have been instrumental in making this people great and strong and prosperous.

The United States and Great Britain have agreed to settle the Alaskan boundary question by means of a commission, each country appointing three members. The duty of these commissioners is to interpret the treaty of 1825 between Russia and Great Britain, which laid down the boundary line between Alaska and British America. There would have been no boundary question had not the Klondike gold discovery made Alaskan territory valuable.

Nobody seriously believed that Col. Arthur Lynch would be hanged, and very few will believe that he is to spend the rest of his life in penal servitude. His crime, whether high treason or not, was no greater than that of others of his countrymen whom no attempt will be made to punish.

The city council is evidently determined to make haste slowly in the Pennsylvania avenue matter. Caution is commendable, but dilatoriness in settling a question that demands action is not.

The 200 shells fired unexpectedly by German ships at a Venezuelan fort, after arbitration had been agreed upon, is another strong argument for adding steadily to the strength of the American navy.

President Eliot, of Harvard, says no man can work too hard. Of course President Eliot will be willing to make an exception in the case of the man who works the growler.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat not because they want to, but simply because they must.

They know they are irritable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise.

They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, an uneasy feeling of puffiness, headache, heartburn and what not.

The effective remedy, proved by permanent cures of thousands of severe cases, is

England now has a $15,000,000 coal trust. Yet the Democratic party will keep on repeating: "The tariff is the mother of trusts."

Colorado spent weeks in choosing a senator and finally selected Teller. The hard work expended ought to have resulted better.

A Munchausen Yarn.

Baron Munchausen, when hunting for deer upon one occasion, encountered a magnificent animal, but found himself without shot. Speedily gathering together a handful of cherry stones he loaded his gun with them and fired at the deer, hitting him squarely between the eyes, not killing him, however. The deer managed to escape, but some time later the baron encountered him again and was surprised to see a beautiful cherry tree growing out of the animal's forehead, covered with blossoms and fruit.

Milo Was a Glutton.

Milo, the famous athlete of ancient Greece (born 520 B. C.), was victor at both the Olympic and Pythian games for six times in succession. On one occasion he ran four miles with an ox on his shoulder, killed the animal with a blow of his fist and then ate the entire carcass in one day. An ordinary meal for this gluttonous Titan was twenty pounds of bread, twice that much meat and fifteen pints of wine.

The Highest Waterfall.

There is in Mexico a wonderful waterfall, which probably enjoys the distinction of being the highest waterfall in the world. The fall is known by the Indian name of Basascheic and is located about 100 miles west of the city of Chihuahua, near the summit of the Sierra Madre mountains. The elevation of the mountain is 6,500 feet above sea level. The cascade falls 978 feet.

A Mighty Serious Thing.

"You printed my death notice, and that's no joke."

upon the East End fire station. The East End interests having become so valuable and the territory so extensive, we cannot afford to call the East End station and remove from that portion of the city the protection it now has and in which it is justly entitled.

The advantage to the city proper by having an additional department on the Northside is very apparent in that the short distance from the city would enable that department to respond very quickly in case of a second call and at the same time insure a protection to the outlying districts and at the same time give the East End the protection it deserves, besides giving additional police protection, as the firemen could do police duty as well.

This matter is submitted to you after careful consideration of the needs required in the department, and trust that the same may receive some prompt consideration at your hands.

Very respectfully yours,

H. C. MORLEY,

Chief.

J. E. McCULLOUGH,

Assistant.

In order to lend more weight to the matter and for the purpose of bringing it right before the body, Members Barlow and Johnston submitted the following:

To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen: The necessity for some arrangement for additional fire protection for the city, having been called to our attention by Fire Chief Morley, as set forth in his report to council, the fire committee, after having carefully examined the situation feel that some action should be taken in the matter and in order that the matter may be fully investigated and some arrangement be made to carry out the recommendation of the fire chief, we would recommend that a committee of three together with the president, be appointed to take this matter up to investigate as to a location and to make some recommendation by the next regular meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

HUGH JOHNSTON,

JOSEPH BARLOW.

The request was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Johnston, Thomas and Barlow.

C. C. Thompson, of the Thompson Pottery company, presented the following petition for the consideration of the body:

In anticipation of improvements we hereby petition your honorable body to extend the franchise granted to the C. C. Thompson Pottery company on October 25, 1892, to lay a side track on the south side of its works, to read 50 years from date of the present franchise, which expires October 25, 1917.

We would not be justified in making these improvements unless the above franchise is granted.

C. C. THOMPSON POTTERY CO.

The street committee, through Mr. Johnston, reported upon the Towns' damage claim, recommending that it be paid. Several of the members were not clear as to the legality of the claim and action upon the matter was deferred until the solicitor, who was not present, could be consulted. The acceptance of the bond of the Youngs town & Southern railway was also laid over for the solicitor's consideration along with the finance committee.

Assessing ordinances were passed for the improvement of Sugar alley, Summit lane and College street.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to a discussion of the merits of the Pennsylvania avenue assessment question. No motions were made and the wrangling came to naught.

United Mine Workers Adjourn.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—The mine workers completed their business and adjourned yesterday afternoon. The convention has been the most expeditious and harmonious ever held. Many important measures have been considered and acted upon. Among them are the formulation of the demand for an increase of wages of 12 1/2 cents flat per ton on a run-of-mine basis, and a flat differential of 7 cents per ton between pick and machine mined coal; a demand for an increase of wages of inside and outside laborers in proportion to the increase of the miners; the refusal to commit the convention to socialism and government ownership; raising officers' salaries; the declaration against children working in mines; the demand for an anti-injunction law, and the plans for a defense fund. The conference will be held with the operators on Friday.

Ragpickers of Paris.

In Paris each house is provided by the city with a large box. Into this the servants throw all that is not needed by the family, whether of food or raiment. Every morning the chiffonniers, or ragpickers, are privileged to search through these boxes before the contents are carted by the city to distant fields, where the refuse is employed in fertilizing the soil. From the homes of the wealthy the poor receive many articles of real value. Fifty thousand ragpickers, say the statistics, realize $10,000 daily from their pickings.

TRADES UNION COUNCIL

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1903.

No nation pays more respect to the memory of its great men than America, and none had greater men to honor.

At the McKinley birthday banquet at Canton, President Roosevelt and other men of national prominence paid generous and fitting tribute to the greatness, goodness and wise statesmanship of the man so recently the victim of foul murder. More impressive or more eloquent eulogy than that pronounced by the president upon his predecessor in office has seldom been uttered on such an occasion. McKinley was worthy of it all. No more words can add to his greatness or to the love that the people bore him.

But it is meet that his excellencies be recalled and eulogies pronounced, as they were upon this anniversary, and as they will continue to be spoken at McKinley birthday celebrations during coming years. There is inspiration for all men, and not simply for the rising generation, in studying the career of great and wise patriots. Steadily the long list of distinguished men whose virtues are annually commemorated is growing. Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant and Garfield are among the conspicuous names and memories thus honored hitherto.

McKinley day has now taken its place with the rest and will be observed long and impressively. Republics are not ungrateful, and America will never forget the men who have been instrumental in making this people great and strong and prosperous.

The United States and Great Britain have agreed to settle the Alaskan boundary question by means of a commission, each country appointing three members. The duty of these commissioners is to interpret the treaty of 1825 between Russia and Great Britain, which laid down the boundary line between Alaska and British America.

There would have been no boundary question had not the Klondike gold discovery made Alaskan territory valuable.

Nobody seriously believed that Col.

Arthur Lynch would be hanged, and very few will believe that he is to spend the rest of his life in penal servitude. His crime, whether high treason or not, was no greater than that of others of his countrymen whom no attempt will be made to punish.

The city council is evidently determined to make haste slowly in the Pennsylvania avenue matter. Caution is commendable, but dilatoriness in settling a question that demands action is not.

The 200 shells fired unexpectedly

by German ships at a Venezuelan fort, after arbitration had been agreed upon,

is another strong argument for adding steadily to the strength of the American navy.

President Eliot, of Harvard, says no man can work too hard. Of course

President Eliot will be willing to make an exception in the case of the man who works the growler.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat not because they want to, but simply because they must.

They know they are irritable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise.

They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, an uneasy feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn and what not.

The effective remedy, proved by permanent cures of thousands of severe cases, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's PILLS are the best cathartic.

There is a gas pump bill before the Pennsylvania legislature which is drawing more gas from the solons than any device could extract from the ground.

England now has a $15,000,000 coal trust. Yet the Democratic party will keep on repeating: "The tariff is the mother of trusts."

Colorado spent weeks in choosing a senator and finally selected Teller. The hard work expended ought to have resulted better.

The individual who sent that blood-curdling postal card to Col. John N. Taylor has a fool's idea of what constitutes a joke.

The best news that has come from the coal regions in many a day is that there is a break in the price of coal.

Joseph Chamberlain is being received with great cordiality in South Africa. Oom Paul is not at home.

Others besides Tillman are afraid he won't get a fair trial.

A Munchausen Yarn.

Baron Munchausen, when hunting for deer upon one occasion, encountered a magnificent animal, but found him self without shot. Speedily gathering together a handful of cherry stones he loaded his gun with them and fired at the deer, hitting him squarely between the eyes, not killing him, however. The deer managed to escape, but some time later the baron encountered him again and was surprised to see a beautiful cherry tree growing out of the animal's forehead, covered with blossoms and fruit.

Milo Was a Glutton.

Milo, the famous athlete of ancient Greece (born 520 B. C.), was victor at both the Olympic and Pythian games for six times in succession. On one occasion he ran four miles with an ox on his shoulder, killed the animal with a blow of his fist and then ate the entire carcass in one day. An ordinary meal for this gluttonous Titan was twenty pounds of bread, twice that much meat and fifteen pints of wine.

The Highest Waterfall.

There is in Mexico a wonderful waterfall, which probably enjoys the distinction of being the highest waterfall in the world. The fall is known by the Indian name of Basasechic and is located about 100 miles west of the city of Chihuahua, near the summit of the Sierra Madre mountains. The elevation of the mountain is 6,500 feet above sea level. The cascade falls 978 feet.

A Mighty Serious Thing.

"You printed my death notice, and that's no joke."

"But, my dear sir, that's not my fault. It's the fact that you are alive that makes it no joke."

There was a sublimeness to this that made it most annoyingly puzzling.—Chicago Post.

Chest Protectors

There is in Mexico a wonderful waterfall, which probably enjoys the distinction of being the highest waterfall in the world. The fall is known by the Indian name of Basaseachic and is located about 190 miles west of the city of Chihuahua, near the summit of the Sierra Madre mountains. The elevation of the mountain is 6,500 feet above sea level. The cascade falls 975 feet.

Chest Protectors

Some people who catch cold easily, and are annoyed every winter, now find that the wearing of a Chest Protector keeps draughts and sudden changes of temperature off from their chests and avoids all cold. Try this! We handle "Frost King" for men, and "Frost Queen" for women. They're dressy, close fitting, impervious to cold and winds, and exceedingly comfortable and convenient to wear. Come in and try them on.

upon the East End fire station. The East End interests having become so valuable and the territory so extensive, we cannot afford to call the East End station and remove from that portion of the city the protection it now has and which it is justly entitled.

The advantage to the city proper by having an additional department on the Northside is very apparent in that the short distance from the city would enable that department to respond very quickly in case of a second call and at the same time insure a protection to the outlying districts and at the same time give the East End the protection it deserves, besides giving additional police protection, as the firemen could do police duty as well.

This matter is submitted to you after careful consideration of the needs required in the department, and trust that the same may receive some prompt consideration at your hands.

Very respectfully yours,

H. C. MORLEY,

Chief.

J. F. McCULLOUGH,

Assistant.

In order to lend more weight to the matter and for the purpose of bringing it rightly before the body, Members Barlow and Johnston submitted the following:

To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen: The necessity for some arrangement for additional fire protection for the city, having been called to our attention by Fire Chief Morley, as set forth in his report to council, the fire committee, after having carefully examined the situation feel that some action should be taken in the matter and in order that the matter may be fully investigated and some arrangement be made to carry out the recommendation of the fire chief, we would recommend that a committee of three, together with the president, be appointed to take this matter up to investigate as to a location and to make some recommendation by the next regular meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

HUGH JOHNSTON,

JOSEPH BARLOW.

The request was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Johnston, Thomas and Barlow.

C. C. Thompson, of the Thompson Pottery company, presented the following petition for the consideration of the body:

In anticipation of improvements we hereby petition your honorable body to extend the franchise granted to the C. C. Thompson Pottery company on October 25, 1892, to lay a side track on the south side of its works, to read 50 years from date of the present franchise, which expires October 25, 1917.

We would not be justified in making these improvements unless the above franchise is granted.

C. C. THOMPSON POTTERY CO.

The street committee, through Mr. Johnston, reported upon the Towns' damage claim, recommending that it be paid. Several of the members were not clear as to the legality of the claim and action upon the matter was deferred until the solicitor, who was not present, could be consulted. The acceptance of the bond of the Youngs-town & Southern railway was also laid over for the solicitor's consideration along with the finance committee.

Assessing ordinances were passed for the improvement of Sugar alley, Summit lane and College street.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to a discussion of the merits of the Pennsylvania avenue assessment question. No motions were made and the wrangling came to naught.

United Mine Workers Adjourn.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—The mine workers completed their business and adjourned yesterday afternoon. The convention has been the most expeditious and harmonious ever held. Many important measures have been considered and acted upon. Among them are the formulation of the demand for an increase of wages of 12½ cents flat per ton on a run-of-mine basis, and a flat differential of 7 cents per ton between pick and machine mined coal; a demand for an increase of wages of inside and outside laborers in proportion to the increase of the miners; the refusal to commit the convention to socialism and government ownership; raising officers' salaries; the declaration against children working in mines; the demand for an anti-injunction law, and the plans for a defense fund. The conference will be held with the operators on Friday.

Ragpickers of Paris.

In Paris each house is provided by the city with a large box. Into this the servants throw all that is not needed by the family, whether of food or raiment. Every morning the chiffonniers, or ragpickers, are privileged to search through these boxes before the contents are carted by the city to distant fields, where the refuse is employed in fertilizing the soil. From the homes of the wealthy the poor receive many articles of real value. Fifty thousand ragpickers, say the statistics, realize $10,000 daily from their pickings.

WELLSVILLE

HEALTH BOARD MEETING

Garbage Furnace Question And Other Matters of Interest Discussed.

At the regular meeting of the board of health last evening, the health officer's report for December showed 12 deaths, males 7 and females 5; births 13, 4 males and 9 females; 11 burial permits; 3 bodies received from other towns for burial; 2 sent away for burial; 8 cases of infectious diseases, 4 of typhoid fever and 4 of scarlet fever. A communication from D. O. North, secretary of the board of health of Eleanor, Pa., told of the case of a man named Cook, employed at the mill here. It was in answer to a letter from the local board who had heard that Cook had visited his sister at Eleanor at the time of a smallpox epidemic there and that the sister had the disease at the time. The letter stated that the smallpox scare was over and that all cases had been quarantined. Cook's sister was ill, but did not have smallpox.

A circular from a Toledo garbage crematory company descriptive of its apparatus was received and filed. The matter will probably be acted upon by the board next summer. The clerk reported that he had made a record of all licensed embalmers in the city. There are four of them.

SCARCITY OF COAL BECOMING SERIOUS

DEALERS IN WELLSVILLE HAVE ADVANCED PRICES.

Little Fuel Now to Be Had At Any Price—Demand For Wood Now Expected.

The scarcity of coal in this city has once again reached an alarming state and unless local dealers can get enough coal to supply the demand soon the situation will be as bad, if not worse than it was a week or so ago, and people will have to use wood for fuel. A notice has been issued to consumers by the Wellsville Fuel company, as follows:

"Owing to the scarcity of coal and the high price at the mines, we are compelled to advance the price of Pittsburg coal to 15 cents per bushel, cash on delivery."

Citizens do not object so much to the advance in price as the fact that but little of the Pittsburg coal can be secured now at any price.

One family in the West End left the city yesterday to go to Toledo, and when asked about the matter said that they were going to visit friends there for a few weeks as they were unable to get any coal in Wellsville. They said that people in Toledo were able to get plenty of coal.

Orders have been placed by the local coal dealers for large amounts of the fuel, but their orders have not been filled promptly and as a result Wellsville people have to do without. Should very cold weather set in now, many families would suffer.

REPAIRING FIRE DAMAGE

A Force of Men Getting the Judge Smith Building in Shape For Use.

The large gang of men, who have been employed by P. M. Smith, to reconstruct the building which was burned in the fire Monday morning, have been doing excellent work and have thus far succeeded in repairing one end of the building until it is about ready for occupancy. This is the east end of the building and the part which was occupied by the Central Building and Loan company and Mr. Smith's private office.

The west end of the building, which was not damaged to any great extent, and which was occupied by the Union printing office, has again been placed in such a condition that it can be occupied and the machinery and office equipment of the Union have been moved back into the building. The Union company was able to issue a newspaper yesterday, although it was somewhat late.

C. V. Shoub, who had his store almost completely burned out, has opened again on a small scale in the hose house in the city building. Mr. Blackburn has removed all of his stock which was saved to a vacant room at Sixth street and Main and is open for business.

The entire building will not be in a complete shape and ready for occupancy for two or three weeks, and in the meantime the former occupants will have to do the best they can in their temporary quarters.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS

An Obstruction in a Water Pipe Has Been Found and Removed.

The fire plug at Fifth and Main streets, which became clogged up on Monday morning during the big fire, was overhauled yesterday by Superintendent Ewing, of the water works, and a force of men. After the plug was taken out it was found that in a joint, six feet underground, a large piece of lead had become clogged and in such a way as to check the flow of water. The plug has not been used for several years and therefore the clogging was not noticed until Monday when the first hose was attached to it. The lead has probably been lodged in the pipe for the past twenty years or since the water works system was first put in. The joint was removed and a new joint put in.

In testing the plug after the new joint was put in, it was found that it gave an excellent pressure and a stream could be thrown over the highest point of the city building steeple.

FUNERAL OF A CHILD.

The funeral of Lloyd H. Howell, the four months old child, who died Monday evening at his parent's home, on Hill street, was held at the home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Lemoine C. Wells, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, officiated and interment was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

LODGES AND UNIONS.

The regular meeting of local union No. 24, N. B. of O. P., was held last evening in Potters' hall. The attendance was somewhat better than usual and as a result a longer meeting than usual was held. Considerable business was transacted, but nothing can be made public.

Local union No. 63, Retail Clerks' International Protective association, will hold its regular meeting this evening in Potters' hall, and after the regular business has been disposed of, the new officers for the year will be installed. A delegation from the East Liverpool union is expected to be present for the installation exercises.

Thursday evening Trades and Labor council will hold an open meeting in the Potters' hall, which all are invited to attend. The feature of the evening will be the address of E. W. Hill, of East Liverpool. He will speak on the subject, "Value Received."

A special meeting of Advance Tent No. 501, Knights of the Maccabees, will be held at Russell's hall on lower Main street, Friday evening. Important business for lodge members only will be transacted.

SEWER PIPE PLANT

Project of Building One in Upper Chester Will Be Revived in the Spring.

The movement is again on foot for the erection of the sewer pipe, and brick works near the Edwin M. Knowles pottery in the upper end of Chester. The organization of the company was started late last fall by Thomas Anderson and several of the principal land owners in Chester, but when bad weather came on the scheme was abandoned until spring.

It is now proposed to proceed with the organization of the company at once and it is expected that the affairs will be in shape so that work can be commenced in the early spring and rushed through to completion without delay. Plans for the new plant are now being prepared and the contract for the construction of the foundation will probably be let within the next few weeks.

The plant will be modern in every particular, and when completed will be one of the finest in the country.

WITNESSES MISSED TRAIN

And a Case That Promised to Be Sensational Was Accordingly Dropped.

What promised to be a sensational case was dismissed in the court of Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon because the plaintiff's witnesses failed to appear in time to testify. Mrs. Della Parsons, of Middle Run, was the prosecutor, charging Mrs. Sarah J. Reese with unlawfully cohabiting with Mr. Parsons, the complainant's husband.

Quite a number of witnesses were subpoenaed from Irondale, but they missed the morning train and started about noon to drive through to Wellsville. The justice held the defendant until about 4 o'clock, the case having been set for 1 o'clock, and as the witnesses failed to appear at that time, she was discharged. About 29 minutes later the witnesses appeared, but it was too late to do anything unless the action is commenced anew. Quite a crowd was on hand to hear the testimony.

Water Supply Defects Remedied. The leaks in the water mains between the pump station and the reservoir, which threatened to interfere with the water supply of Chester, have all been repaired and the people need have no fear of being shut off. Every precaution was taken at the time the leaks were discovered to protect private consumers, and the mill and factories was shut off until the repairs could be made.

Team Over the Hill. A team of horses belonging to Arch Severs, while engaged in hauling dirt to the top of a steep bank near the Shrader residence, were driven too close to the edge and went over the hill. The wagon was broken and one of the horses was slightly injured. The driver escaped by jumping when he seen that the outfit was going over the hill.

tive and has perchance experienced a change of heart. This being the practice in council, Mr. Barlow was the only one to whom the others could look for a motion. He thought it a proposition impossible to pass and said not a word.

What the members did or didn't do matters nothing now as far as the reports of the two boards are concerned. The boards are a thing of the past and can never be resurrected. Other boards can be appointed and though the cost will be great, they must be, if the present body wishes to do that which the people seem to desire. Those on the general taxation preferring the chances of having eventually to pay for the work of two or more boards than to allow the entire amount to be placed against them without a struggle. They are now carrying the entire amount, and it is their contention that an imposition is being forced upon them by a few.

That the city is practically bankrupt and in bad financial straits can be learned by a moment's investigation of the city clerk's books. It will be found that the general fund is overdrawn nearly $5,000; the street fund, $1,500; fire fund, $5,000; police fund, $900; interest fund, $1,200; sanitary fund, $3,000. The above figures aggregate nearly $17,000. For that amount the city is paying interest at the rate of 7 per cent. Were the notes held against the city for the $30,000 of the Pennsylvania avenue improvement blotted out by the acceptance of the reports and the passing of an assessing ordinance the financial condition would be in a most satisfactory shape. If the expenses of the city continue as they have for a year with an income no greater, the city treasury will not only remain depleted, but will be without a source of remedy unless council provides one.

The Extinct Quagga.

The quagga, the half cousin to the wild ass, has vanished from Africa and only exists as imperfect specimens in the European museums.

The quagga exists as a name still in South Africa, for the name has been wrongly applied to Burchell's zebra, but the true quagga, which took its name from its cry "quagha," has been extinct since 1872, when the last of his or, rather, of her race, for the quagga was a female, died in the London Zoological society's menagerie.

Its extinction in South Africa was due solely to the zeal with which the Dutch farmers hunted it for its hide, and it is a saddening reflection that thousands of Kaffirs used to be fed on it by their Boer masters.

The idiotic wastefulness of thus exterminating a species becomes the more marked in view of the fact that the quagga, which was midway between a zebra and a wild ass, could be broken to harness and was the bravest as well as the hardiest of animals. Some Boer farmers used to keep tame quaggas on their farms to graze with horses in order to protect them from beasts of prey.

HEALTH BOARD MEETING

Garbage Furnace Question And Other Matters of Interest Discussed.

At the regular meeting of the board of health last evening, the health officer's report for December showed 12 deaths, males 7 and females 5; births 13, 4 males and 9 females; 11 burial permits; 3 bodies received from other towns for burial; 2 sent away for burial; 8 cases of infectious diseases, 4 of typhoid fever and 4 of scarlet fever. A communication from D. O. North, secretary of the board of health of Eleanor, Pa., told of the case of a man named Cook, employed at the mill here. It was in answer to a letter from the local board who had heard that Cook had visited his sister at Eleanor at the time of a smallpox epidemic there and that the sister had the disease at the time. The letter stated that the smallpox scare was over and that all cases had been quarantined. Cook's sister was ill, but did not have smallpox.

A circular from a Toledo garbage crematory company descriptive of its apparatus was received and filed. The matter will probably be acted upon by the board next summer. The clerk reported that he had made a record of all licensed embalmers in the city. There are four of them.

printing office, has again been placed in such a condition that it can be occupied and the machinery and office equipment of the Union have been moved back into the building. The Union company was able to issue a newspaper yesterday, although it was somewhat late.

C. V. Shoub, who had his store almost completely burned out, has opened again on a small scale in the hose house in the city building. Mr. Blackburn has removed all of his stock which was saved to a vacant room at Sixth street and Main and is open for business.

The entire building will not be in a complete shape and ready for occupancy for two or three weeks, and in the meantime the former occupants will have to do the best they can in their temporary quarters.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS

An Obstruction in a Water Pipe Has Been Found and Removed.

The fire plug at Fifth and Main streets, which became clogged up on Monday morning during the big fire, was overhauled yesterday by Superintendent Ewing, of the water works, and a force of men. After the plug was taken out it was found that in a joint, six feet underground, a large piece of lead had become clogged and in such a way as to check the flow of water. The plug has not been used for several years and therefore the clogging was not noticed until Monday when the first hose was attached to it. The lead has probably been lodged in the pipe for the past twenty years or since the water works system was first put in. The joint was removed and a new joint put in.

In testing the plug after the new joint was put in, it was found that it gave an excellent pressure and a stream could be thrown over the highest point of the city building steeple.

Funeral of a Child.

The funeral of Lloyd H. Howell, the four months old child, who died Monday evening at his parent's home, on Hill street, was held at the home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Lemoine C. Wells, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, officiated and interment was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

LODGES AND UNIONS.

The regular meeting of local union No. 24, N. B. of O. P., was held last evening in Potters' hall. The attendance was somewhat better than usual and as a result a longer meeting than usual was held. Considerable business was transacted, but nothing can be made public.

Local union No. 63, Retail Clerks' International Protective association, will hold its regular meeting this evening in Potters' hall, and after the regular business has been disposed of, the new officers for the year will be installed. A delegation from the East Liverpool union is expected to be present for the installation exercises.

Thursday evening Trades and Labor council will hold an open meeting in the Potters' hall, which all are invited to attend. The feature of the evening will be the address of E. W. Hill, of East Liverpool. He will speak on the subject, "Value Received."

A special meeting of Advance Tent No. 501, Knights of the Macabees, will be held at Russell's hall on lower Main street, Friday evening. Important business for lodge members only will be transacted.

SEWER PIPE PLANT

Project of Building One in Upper Chester Will Be Revived in the Spring.

The movement is again on foot for the erection of the sewer pipe and brick works near the Edwin M. Knowles pottery in the upper end of Chester. The organization of the company was started late last fall by Thomas Anderson and several of the principal land owners in Chester, but when bad weather came on the scheme was abandoned until spring.

It is now proposed to proceed with the organization of the company at once and it is expected that the affairs will be in shape so that work can be commenced in the early spring and rushed through to completion without delay. Plans for the new plant are now being prepared and the contract for the construction of the foundation will probably be let within the next few weeks.

The plant will be modern in every particular, and when completed will be one of the finest in the country.

WITNESSES MISSED TRAIN

And a Case That Promised to Be Sensational Was Accordingly Dropped.

What promised to be a sensational case was dismissed in the court of Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon because the plaintiff's witnesses failed to appear in time to testify. Mrs. Della Parsons, of Middle Run, was the prosecutor, charging Mrs. Sarah J. Reese with unlawfully cohabiting with Mr. Parsons, the complainant's husband.

Quite a number of witnesses were subpoenaed from Frontale, but they missed the morning train and started about noon to drive through to Wellsville. The justice held the defendant until about 4 o'clock, the case having been set for 1 o'clock, and as the witnesses failed to appear at that time, she was discharged. About 29 minutes later the witnesses appeared, but it was too late to do anything unless the action is commenced anew. Quite a crowd was on hand to hear the testimony.

Water Supply Defects Remedied.

The leaks in the water mains between the pump station and the reservoir, which threatened to interfere with the water supply of Chester, have all been repaired and the people need have no fear of being shut off. Every precaution was taken at the time the leaks were discovered to protect private consumers, and the mill and factories was shut off until the repairs could be made.

Team Over the Hill.

A team of horses belonging to Arch Severs, while engaged in hauling dirt to the top of a steep bank near the Shrader residence, were driven too close to the edge and went over the hill. The wagon was broken and one of the horses was slightly injured. The driver escaped by jumping when he seen that the outfit was going over the hill.

Charged With Wife Murder.

York, Pa., Jan. 28.—John Anstine was arrested at his home near Red Lion yesterday, charged with the murder of his wife. Mrs. Anstine was found brutally murdered in a clump of bushes on May 25 last. Since then the county authorities have made every effort to apprehend the murderer and say they felt warranted in taking the husband into custody.

SEWER PIPE PLANT

Project of Building One in Upper Chester Will Be Revived in the Spring.

The movement is again on foot for the erection of the sewer pipe and brick works near the Edwin M. Knowles pottery in the upper end of Chester. The organization of the company was started late last fall by Thomas Anderson and several of the principal land owners in Chester, but when bad weather came on the scheme was abandoned until spring.

It is now proposed to proceed with the organization of the company at once and it is expected that the affairs will be in shape so that work can be commenced in the early spring and rushed through to completion without delay. Plans for the new plant are now being prepared and the contract for the construction of the foundation will probably be let within the next few weeks.

The plant will be modern in every particular, and when completed will be one of the finest in the country.

WITNESSES MISSED TRAIN

And a Case That Promised to Be Sensational Was Accordingly Dropped.

What promised to be a sensational case was dismissed in the court of Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon because the plaintiffs' witnesses failed to appear in time to testify. Mrs. Della Parsons, of Middle Run, was the prosecutor, charging Mrs. Sarah J. Reese with unlawfully cohabiting with Mr. Parsons, the complainant's husband.

Quite a number of witnesses were subpoenaed from Ironside, but they missed the morning train and started about noon to drive through to Wellsville. The justice held the defendant until about 4 o'clock, the case having been set for 1 o'clock, and as the witnesses failed to appear at that time, she was discharged. About 20 minutes later the witnesses appeared, but it was too late to do anything unless the action is commenced anew. Quite a crowd was on hand to hear the testimony.

Water Supply Defects Remedied.

The leaks in the water mains between the pump station and the reservoir, which threatened to interfere with the water supply of Chester, have all been repaired and the people need have no fear of being shut off. Every precaution was taken at the time the leaks were discovered to protect private consumers, and the mill and factories was shut off until the repairs could be made.

Team Over the Hill.

A team of horses belonging to Arch Severs, while engaged in hauling dirt to the top of a steep bank near the Shrader residence, were driven too close to the edge and went over the hill. The wagon was broken and one of the horses was slightly injured. The driver escaped by jumping when he seen that the outfit was going over the hill.

The Stingiest Man.

"I think the most penurious man I ever knew," remarked the man in the mackintosh, "was old Hewlings. He smoked his cigars to the last half inch, chewed the stumps and used the ashes for snuff. But he wasn't satisfied even then and gave up the habit."

"What for?" asked the man with the big Adam's apple.

tive and has perchance experienced a change of heart. This being the practice in council, Mr. Barlow was the only one to whom the others could look for a motion. He thought it a proposition impossible to pass and said not a word.

What the members did or didn't do matters nothing now as far as the reports of the two boards are concerned. The boards are a thing of the past and can never be resurrected. Other boards can be appointed and though the cost will be great, they must be, if the present body wishes to do that which the people seem to desire. Those on the general taxation preferring the chances of having eventually to pay for the work of two or more boards than to allow the entire amount to be placed against them without a struggle. They are now carrying the entire amount, and it is their contention that an imposition is being forced upon them by a few.

That the city is practically bankrupt and in bad financial straits can be learned by a moment's investigation of the city clerk's books. It will be found that the general fund is overdrawn nearly $5,000; the street fund, $1,500; fire fund, $5,000; police fund, $900; interest fund, $1,200; sanitary fund, $3,000. The above figures aggregate nearly $17,000. For that amount the city is paying interest at the rate of 7 per cent. Were the notes held against the city for the $30,000 of the Pennsylvania avenue improvement blotted out by the acceptance of the reports and the passing of an assessing ordinance the financial condition would be in a most satisfactory shape. If the expenses of the city continue as they have for a year with an income no greater, the city treasury will not only remain depleted, but will be without a source of remedy unless council provides one.

The Extinct Quagga.

The quagga, the half cousin to the wild ass, has vanished from Africa and only exists as imperfect specimens in the European museums.

The quagga exists as a name still in South Africa, for the name has been wrongly applied to Burchell's zebra, but the true quagga, which took its name from its cry "quagha," has been extinct since 1872, when the last of his or, rather, of her race, for the quagga was a female, died in the London Zoological society's menagerie.

Its extinction in South Africa was due solely to the zeal with which the Dutch farmers hunted it for its hide, and it is a saddening reflection that thousands of Kaffirs used to be fed on it by their Boer masters.

The idiotic wastefulness of this exterminating a species becomes the more marked in view of the fact that the quagga, which was midway between a zebra and a wild ass, could be broken to harness and was the bravest as well as the hardiest of animals. Some Boer farmers used to keep tame quaggas on their farms to graze with horses in order to protect them from beasts of prey.

President Roosevelt Pays Magnificent Tribute to Memory of Martyred McKinley.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS PRESENT

As Executive Rose to Speak the Audience Cheered Him Enthusiastically. Presidential Party Left for Washington at 1 O'Clock This Morning.

Canton, O., Jan. 28.—President Roosevelt last night participated in a notable tribute to the memory of the late President McKinley. He was the principal orator at a banquet given under the auspices of the Canton Republican league in commemoration of the birthday of McKinley. Surrounded by friends, neighbors and business and political associates of the dead president, he pronounced a brilliant and eloquent eulogy upon the life and works of McKinley—an eulogy by many regarded as the most beautiful and heartfelt tribute ever paid to the memory of the distinguished dead.

The banquet was held in the Grand opera house. Among the 457 assembled about the boards were some of the most distinguished men in the civil, political and military life of the country.

Governor Nash Unable to Attend.

At the tables throughout the large auditorium were men of state and national prominence. Governor Nash, of Ohio, who was expected to be present to respond to the toast "Ohio," was unable to leave his home on account of illness. Soon after the close of the reception at the Hotel McKinley, President Roosevelt and party walked in a driving rain from the hotel to the banquet hall, a half square distant.

Special precautions were taken to insure the safety of the president, and his pathway to the opera house was lined with secret service officers, police Officers and soldiers. As the president entered the banquet hall the assemblage rose as one man and cheered him heartily.

Judge Day, as toastmaster, in introducing President Roosevelt, spoke briefly.

Audience Cheered.

As the president rose to speak the audience rose and cheered him enthusiastically. When he addressed the toastmaster as "Mr. Justice Day," a designation applied only to justices of the United States supreme court, his auditors shook the building with applause.

President Roosevelt spoke in part as follows:

Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen:—Throughout our history, and indeed throughout history generally, it has been given to only a very few three-fifths of men to take so marked a part in the crises and the great events of our national life, coming second only to the men of the two great crises in which the Union was founded and preserved.

Four years before he was nominated for president, only his name was known to the people. He was a man of the future, and he prevented his being made a formidable competitor of the chief upon whom the choice of the convention then actually fell.

In 1896 he was chosen because the great mass of the people had believed in him and regarded him as symbolizing their ideals, as representing their aspirations. His first nomination came to him because of the qualities he had shown in his private and public life.

But in 1896 the issue was fairly joined, chiefly upon a question which as a party question was entirely new, so that the old lines of political cleavage were in large measure obliterated.

It was in 1896 that the nation solved these mighty problems aright. Therefore he shall stand in the eyes of history not merely as the first man of his generation, but as the first man of his generation to lead the nation through its greatest crisis.

accomplished, and as a result this nation and higher than ever before among the nations of mankind.

President McKinley's second campaign was fought mainly on the issue of approving what he had done in his first administration, and specifically what he had done as regards these problems springing out of the war with Spain.

The result was that the popular verdict in his favor was more overwhelming than it had been before. No other president had ever been elected with more unanimous personal success.

No other president entered upon his second term feeling such right to a profound and personal satisfaction. Then by a stroke of fortune, so strange in its fantastic light as to stand unique in the black annals of crime, he was struck down.

The brave, strong, gentle heart was still forever, and what was brought to the world was a man who was to walk thenceforth alone in the shadow. The hidden infancy of the deed shocked the nation to its depths, for the man thus struck at was in a peculiar sense the champion of the plain people.

THINKS CASTRO IS SINCERE.

Offer of 30 Per Cent of Customs Receipts Produces Favorable Impression in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 28.—President Castro's offer of 30 per cent of the customs receipts of La Guaira and Porto Cabello as a guarantee for the payment of foreign claims is regarded in official circles here as evidence of the sincerity of his intention to make a satisfactory settlement. As the offer, however, includes the claims of other countries besides those taking part in the blockade some doubt is expressed as to whether 30 per cent is adequate.

A discussion is now proceeding to determine this point. It is also uncertain whether the allies will admit that powers which did not join in the blockade should share in the results of the former secured through expressive naval operations.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The first joint conference of the Venezuelan negotiators occurred during yesterday afternoon by appointment at Mr. Bowen's apartments, and ranking diplomat Signor Mayor Des Planches, the Italian ambassador, making the representations in French to Mr. Bowen.

The question under discussion was a matter of the merest detail, the envoys wishing to know whether the monthly payments to the allies should be in proportion to the amount of the claims, or whether Great Britain, Germany and Italy would, receive the same amounts each month until the indemnity is paid.

Mr. Bowen said he was quite willing to leave this to the powers themselves to settle and that any arrangement they might make would be satisfactory to Venezuela.

The earnest hope was expressed last night by officials having to do with Venezuelan matters that the European allies will come to an agreement promptly and call off the blockade that is still in force. Its continuance is a serious embarrassment to the people of Venezuela.

The differences between the offers of Mr. Bowen and the demands of the allies, it is felt here, are not such as should require continuance of the present condition of affairs on the Venezuelan coast.

Henry E. Youtsey Says Shot Was Fired from Window of Calch Powers' Private Office.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 28.—A Frankfort, Ky., special to the Courier-Journal says:

"James B. Howard, of Clay county, fired the shot that killed William Goebel," said Henry E. Youtsey in his confession as to his part in and knowledge of the conspiracy which terminated in the assassination of the Democratic claimant to the governorship.

The convicted man now says that he has made a clean breast of the details of the plot and has told everything he knows, "fully and frankly."

He said that the shot was fired from the front window in the private office of Secretary of State Calch Powers and that he and Jim Howard were the only persons inside of the room. He named William S. Taylor, Charles Finley, Calch Powers, John L. Powers, William H. Calton, Wharton Golden and William Davidson as conspirators with him.

One Man Was Terribly Injured as Will Die and Twelve Others Were Badly Hurt.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 28.—Thirteen men were being taken to their work in the recesses of the Bellevue mine of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, on an electric engine, yesterday morning. They had a keg of powder with them. A spark from the naked lamp of one of the men set off the powder and a terrific explosion followed, blowing the men in all directions.

I suffered from terrible dragging sensations with the most awful pains low down in the side and pains in the back, and the most agonizing headaches. I was sick to the stomach, and every little while I would be too sick to go to work, for three or four days; I worked in a large store, and I suppose standing on my feet all day made me worse."

"At the suggestion of a friend of my mother's I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is simply wonderful. I felt better after the first two or three doses; it seemed as though a weight was taken off my shoulders; I continued its use until now I can truthfully say I am entirely cured. Young girls who are always paying doctor's bills without getting any help as I did, ought to take your medicine. It costs so much less, and it is sure to cure them.—Yours truly, ADELARDE PRAHL, 174 St. Ann's Ave., New York City."

AT LEAST 50 BURNED TO DEATH

Fire at Colney Hatch Asylum in London Causes Terrible Loss of Life Among Insane.

London, Jan. 28.—About 50 insane patients were burned to death by a fire in the Colney Hatch asylum yesterday morning. The outbreak occurred in the Jewish wing of the institution. The flames spread with great rapidity, and before they could be got under control five wooden buildings, including dormitories and the doctors' apartments, were gutted.

The work of searching the ruins is going on. The officials admit that about 50 bodies have been recovered, and it is feared that the full extent of the disaster is not yet known. All the victims were lunatics.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Close Dull and Heavy—Time Money Unchanged—Bonds Moderately Active and Irregular.

New York, Jan. 28.—Monday's improvement in speculative sentiment seemed to be maintained yesterday, but the trading was at such a low ebb of activity that it was futile to try to measure the significance of the changes. Yesterday's total sales of stocks were little changed from Monday. In a few cases there was buying of stocks on the strength of special developments, but this demand did not follow a rise in prices far and had very little sympathetic effect upon the general list.

The situation in the money and exchange markets was without appreciable change. The market closed dull and heavy.

Lee Monument Debate.

Harrisburg, Jan. 28.—In the presence of the full membership of the house of representatives and a crowded gallery Colonel A. K. McClure, of Philadelphia, last night delivered an address in support of the proposition that the states of Pennsylvania and Virginia should join hands in erecting an equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee on Seminary hill of the battlefield of Gettysburg. Judge Stewart spoke against the bill. Among the great crowd which heard the speakers were many prominent members of the Grand Army of the Republic from all over the state, judges and state officials.

To Buy Historic Tavern.

New York, Jan. 28.—The board of aldermen yesterday approved of the resolution of the board of estimate in favor of the purchase by the city of Francaux tavern, where Washington took leave of his officers prior to going to Annapolis to resign his commission as commander of the American army. Besides the tavern, land surrounding it will be acquired for a park.

The work of searching the ruins is going on. The officials admit that about 50 bodies have been recovered, and it is feared that the full extent of the disaster is not yet known. All the victims were lunatics.

XI.—The Leftovers.

ALL through the summer there are a number of lowly plants noticeable principally because of their quantity, though they are always blooming, or because they are among grass and, not being grass, are conspicuous because of the contrast. In this season, when there are so many taller and more beautiful flowers, these are frequently passed unnoticed, being counted as weeds. What wonder they are left over! They have no superior beauty or rarity to give them a claim to consideration. Indeed, it is their commonness, their quantity, partially at least, that breeds sweet and otherwise, though all are well supplied with honey, to the delight of the bees and children, who suck the sweets out of the ends of the flower tubes of the larger variety! You may see a likeness to the sweet pea in their form if you examine the flowerlets in each clover head. The most interesting of them all is the Dutch clover, that short, white variety that will grow even in a city side street. When this first blooms, all the little flowers stand up in the head fresh and erect. Those on the outer ring are in their prime, while those in the center are still greenish buds. After a little those on the outer edge, being fertilized by the friendly bees and ready to mature seed, turn downward in their places and become brown, showing the now intruding insects that the feast of honey which they once held is eaten and they do not wish to be disturbed. Day by day more flowers turn down as those in the center open. By and by the whole will be nothing but the brown head.

A coarse plant is the ground cherry, with its large, heavy, irregular leaves. Looking beneath, you will see the yellow or perhaps sulphur colored flowers, having purple, reddish tinted spots upon them. They are five parted at the top, bell shaped, well open and seem to invite visitors, though when they arrive they may discover numerous hairs fastened on the flower or stamen, so that it is not so easy as it seemed to gain an entrance. In the fruit the five toothed calyx comes much inflated with its upper edges bent together. Within is the round, green cherry, not much larger than a marrowfat pea, which in one species does become red and edible.

Another plant most often found in waste places is the low mallow, with the round, crinkled leaves, the pale pink flowers on their small stems beneath and the familiar fruit of the little, flat, green cheeses which the children gather in such quantities and eat.

Down by the spring or in the damp places is the speedwell, a perfect flower, but so small that it would never be noticed if it were not for its habit of grouping many of its kind together and attracting by numbers rather than by color. It grows on spikes something like the mints grow on. Its flowers are a pale blue, with strong, dark markings, and sometimes seem at a passing glance to be like the smaller varieties of the lobelia. This is the kind of speedwell known as the brooklime.

Another and more beautiful variety is the common speedwell, whose larger bright blue flowers are not much more than half an inch across.

Speedwell! What a pleasant wish to give one starting on a long and tedious journey! What a wish to give a pil-contempt. Yet they are with us from spring until late fall, and, moreover, they are interesting.

One puts at the top of each stem a three leafletted leaf, delicate and thin in texture, having an agreeable sour taste. Sour grass the children call it and gather it to nibble. It is everywhere blooming almost from the late spring frosts until the severe ones of the autumn. Its real name is wood sorrel, so of course it belongs to the oxalis family and is as much an oxalis as the pretty little sister herb which blooms and thrives in the ornamental pots in so many homes through the winter. You will notice that each leaf is really three leaves. Well, this is the celebrated shamrock of Ireland. The clover, in spite of the popular fallacy, has no such claim to distinction. This is the true shamrock.

This our common oxalis of the fields and woods has bright yellow flowers, flat when open; rather cup shaped, as they are frequently found, half open. Their stems are usually shorter than those of the leaves, though they take care to keep themselves in plain sight, for they are advertising for insect visitors. In time each becomes a small pod, but the number does not seem sufficient to account for the plentifulness of the sorrel, and indeed it is not. The oxalis adopts the plan of the violet and bears flowers which always remain closed and hidden in the growth against the ground, are never seen unless searched for, and never by the casual passer. Upon these and their close fertilization rather than upon the shown flowers the plant depends for propagation.

This is a tender plant and feels the cold, and yet since it comes early and stays late it knows it has cause to look out for its well being, for sometimes the nights are chilly. It does as humans do—goes to sleep—but, not having any coverlets, it tightly shuts the flowers which have been open all day, so they huddle together, partially covering each other, and the scientists say that in this position they ward off the cold by radiation. Wise oxalis!

There is another plant among the grass, also called both sorrel and sour grass, that is even more common than the first named sorrel, if such a thing were possible. Whole fields and hill-sides are colored by its yellowish red spikes of flowers, so thick are they, the name redtop sometimes given it is most appropriate. In reality it is sheep sorrel and is of the dock family, with many of the same characteristics. Its leaves are halber shaped and have a stronger, sharper taste than those of the wood sorrel.

grim starting on a holy journey! Gray calls it veronica and connects it with the saint of that name. St. Veronica, or Berenice, was the woman who, seeing the Saviour toiling up the hill under the weight of his heavy cross, pitied him and, having no other means of expression, offered him a cloth to wipe his brow. He accepted the gift and when he had used it returned it to Veronica. Upon its surface was an imprint of our Lord's features, the tradition continues, and from this Veronica had a likeness of him painted which is the origin of the beautiful head accepted for his representation everywhere, and we recognize it, no matter who was the artist who was inspired to depict the Saviour.

The tale concerns the handkerchief, which was supposed to have magical healing properties and was sought by all. Persons upon touching it were supposed to be cured. The flower is Day by day more flowers turn down as those in the center open. By and by the whole will be nothing but the brown head.

A coarse plant is the ground cherry, with its large, heavy, irregular leaves. Looking beneath, you will see the yellow or perhaps sulphur colored flowers, having purple, reddish tinted spots upon them. They are five parted at the top, bell shaped, well open and seem to invite visitors, though when they arrive they may discover numerous hairs fastened on the flower or stamen, so that it is not so easy as it seemed to gain an entrance. In the fruit the five toothed calyx comes much inflated, with its upper edges bent together. Within is the round, green cherry, not much larger than a marrowfat pea, which in one species does become red and edible.

Another plant most often found in waste places is the low mallow, with the round, crinkled leaves, the pale pink flowers on their small stems beneath and the familiar fruit of the little, flat, green cheeses which the children gather in such quantities and eat.

Down by the spring or in the damp places is the speedwell, a perfect flower, but so small that it would never be noticed if it were not for its habit of grouping many of its kind together and attracting by numbers rather than by color. It grows on spikes something like the mints grow on. Its flowers are a pale blue, with strong, dark markings, and sometimes seem at a passing glance to be like the smaller varieties of the lobelia. This is the kind of speedwell known as the brooklime.

Another and more beautiful variety is the common speedwell, whose larger bright blue flowers are not much more than half an inch across.

grim starting on a holy journey! Gray calls it veronica and connects it with the saint of that name. St. Veronica, or Berenice, was the woman who, seeing the Saviour toiling up the hill under the weight of his heavy cross, pitied him and, having no other means of expression, offered him a cloth to wipe his brow. He accepted the gift and when he had used it returned it to Veronica. Upon its surface was an imprint of our Lord's features, the tradition continues, and from this Veronica had a likeness of him painted which is the origin of the beautiful head accepted for his representation everywhere, and we recognize it, no matter who was the artist who was inspired to depict the Saviour.

I cannot leave these common flowers without speaking of the buttercup. The buttercup, with its shiny yellow cup nodding on its long scape, is distinctive, and anything approaching the well known appearance may safely be called a buttercup, no matter what the season, for there are so many kinds coming from the very early spring on through the summer that you will hardly ever make a mistake. There are localities where this flower is almost unknown, but even they scarcely ever escape without a rare specimen or two of some one of the varieties, and where there are a few there will soon be more.

What a wealth we have around us when these common things, found even in the city yards, are interesting! XI.—The Leftovers.

ALL through the summer there are a number of lowly plants noticeable principally because of their quantity, though they are always blooming, or because they are among grass and, not being grass, are conspicuous because of the contrast. In this season, when there are so many taller and more beautiful flowers, these are frequently passed unnoticed, being counted as weeds. What wonder they are left over! They have no superior beauty or rarity to give them a claim to consideration. Indeed, it is their commonness, their quantity, partially at least, that breeds contempt. Yet they are with us from spring until late fall, and, moreover, they are interesting.

One puts at the top of each stem a three leafletted leaf, delicate and thin in texture, having an agreeable sour taste. Sour grass the children call it and gather it to nibble. It is everywhere blooming almost from the late spring frosts until the severe ones of the autumn. Its real name is wood sorrel, so of course it belongs to the oxalis family and is as much an oxalis as the pretty little sister herb which blooms and thrives in the ornamental pots in so many homes through the winter. You will notice that each leaf is really three leaves. Well, this is the celebrated shamrock of Ireland. The clover, in spite of the popular fallacy, has no such claim to distinction. This is the true shamrock.

This our common oxalis of the fields and woods has bright yellow flowers, flat when open; rather cup shaped, as they are frequently found, half open. Their stems are usually shorter than those of the leaves, though they take care to keep themselves in plain sight, for they are advertising for insect visitors. In time each becomes a small pod, but the number does not seem sufficient to account for the plentifulness of the sorrel, and indeed it is not. The oxalis adopts the plan of the violet and bears flowers which always remain closed and hidden in the growth against the ground, are never seen unless searched for, and never by the casual passer. Upon these and their close fertilization rather than upon the shown flowers the plant depends for propagation.

This is a tender plant and feels the cold, and yet since it comes early and stays late it knows it has cause to look out for its well being, for sometimes the nights are chilly. It does as humans do—goes to sleep—but, not having any coverlets, it tightly shuts the flowers which have been open all day, so they huddle together, partially covering each other, and the scientists say that in this position they ward off the cold by radiation. Wise oxalis!

There is another plant among the grass, also called both sorrel and sour grass, that is even more common than the first named sorrel, if such a thing were possible. Whole fields and hill-sides are colored by its yellowish red spikes of flowers, so thick are they, the name redtop sometimes given it is most appropriate. In reality it is sheep sorrel and is of the dock family, with many of the same characteristics. Its leaves are halberd shaped and have a stronger, sharper taste than those of the wood sorrel.

Three leaves! We Americans always think of the clover in this connection. And how many varieties there are sweet and otherwise, though all are well supplied with honey, to the delight of the bees and children, who suck the sweets out of the ends of the flower tubes of the larger variety! You may see a likeness to the sweet pea in their form if you examine the flowerlets in each clover head. The most interesting of them all is the Dutch clover, that short, white variety that will grow even in a city side street. When this first blooms, all the little flowers stand up in the head fresh and erect. Those on the outer ring are in their prime, while those in the center are still greenish buds. After a little those on the outer edge, being fertilized by the friendly bees and ready to mature seed, turn downward in their places and become brown, showing the now intruding insects that the feast of honey which they once held is eaten and they do not wish to be disturbed. Day by day more flowers turn down as those in the center open. By and by the whole will be nothing but the brown head.

A coarse plant is the ground cherry, with its large, heavy, irregular leaves. Looking beneath, you will see the yellow or perhaps sulphur colored flowers, having purple, reddish tinted spots upon them. SAD SURPRISE FOR HUSBAND

When He Learned That His Wife
Had Broken Her Temperance Vow.

TROUBLE BEGAN AT ONCE

On Him Discovering Her in a Saloon.
He Started With Her for City Hall
And Regretted to Learn She Could Not Be Arrested.

Mrs. Rose Sibley, a rather nice looking woman, arrested Monday night on Second street by Officer Saulsberry for being drunk and raising a disturbance, and who was fined yesterday morning for her actions, broke loose again last evening and was heard from once more at the city hall.

Rose and her husband moved to this city not long ago from Oil City, Pa. and according to his statement they have lived anything but a life of happiness at their rented rooms on Walnut street. Before coming here they were happy; at least, he was. Now everything is going wrong and no man ever lived that is having more troubles.

Soon after her release from the city jail Rose, instead of seeking her chosen one to ask his forgiveness for her hilarity of the night before, started out for the districts which she had roamed with disastrous results. She cared not for the one at home anxiously awaiting her arrival. To a Broadway joint she wended her way and it was in the notorious place that Mr. Sibley found her last evening. He was dumbfounded at her condition. He never knew that his Rosie imbibed. She had signed the pledge when a young girl, and he thought her yet steadfastly keeping her promise.

When he walked into the dive, it is said a lively encounter at once ensued and that he was bested in the bout. However, he was longer winded and was there to the finish, finally subduing his spouse and succeeding in getting her to the street. Afraid that he could not keep her under control throughout the night, he concluded to apply to the police for aid, and though it cost him much exertion he took her down to the city hall. They arrived at few minutes after the adjournment of council and City Clerk Davidson, who was present at both meetings, states that the couple even raised more commotion than the councilmen.

Sibley wanted justice. He wanted his wife locked up until morning when he would prefer a terrible charge against her. She had "broken her temperance" and must suffer. The irate husband was told that he could not have the arrest made under the circumstances and the wife, exultant, grabbed her umbrella from him, started up the street and dared him to follow. He was intimidated and allowed her to go, swearing that he would take steps to have her landed behind bars today.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Two Arrivals—Sons have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson, Vine street, and to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Manley, Third street.

Special Meetings—Special services at the First Presbyterian church began last evening, conducted by the pastor. They will continue for some time and during the progress noted speakers and the singing evangelist, Weeden, are to take part.

Interred in Riverview—The body of William Bell, who died in May of last year at Tiffin, was brought to this city this morning, after having been temporarily interred in that city. The body was reinterred this morning in Riverview cemetery.

Organ Recital—The grand organ recital, which will be given at St. Stephen's Episcopal church tomorrow evening by Dr. Paris R. Myers, includes an excellent program from the works of the masters of sacred music. Dr. Myers will be assisted by Master Kenneth Mahon, Charles Heath, baritone, and St. Stephen's vested choir. The recital will undoubtedly attract a very large audience.

Revival in Progress—The revival services which are in progress at the school house near Walker's Crossing have aroused a great deal of interest among the people of that neighborhood and the building has been taxed to its capacity to contain the congregations that assemble nightly. There have been a number of conversions and accessions to the church. Rev. Wallace Menough is conducting the services.

LAKE SHORE BUYS A RAILROAD LINE

Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling Sold

Yesterday.

Cleveland, January 28.—The Cleveland Trust company announced yesterday that it had placed a loan of $2,000,000 made by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad. It is a one-year loan at 5 per cent. The money is for the acquisition of new properties. A large part of the loan was placed in New York and Chicago.

The Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling railroad has been sold to the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway. The price paid is not announced. W. C. Brown, vice president of the Lake Shore, said that no plans have been made as to the future of the new line.

J. C. Irwin, formerly of the New York Central, will be in charge of the road, until it is formally turned over to the Vanderbilts, on February 1.

The Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling extends from Phelps, on the Erie railroad to near Wheeling, and traverses extensive coal fields controlled by owners of the road.

Colvary Morris, president; John E. Newell, vice president, and James R. Garfield, treasurer, all reside in Cleveland. R. G. Butler, general manager, resides at Alliance, where the general offices are located.

Suburban Train in New Jersey.

DOZENS INJURED AND MAY DIE

Wreck One of the Most Appalling
That Has Occurred in the Vicinity of New York for Many Years—Terrible Scenes Were Witnessed.

New York, Jan. 28.—One of the most appalling railroad wrecks that has occurred in the vicinity of New York for many years, the estimated loss of life ranging from 12 to 30 persons, took place last night at Grace-land, on the Central Railway of New Jersey, near Westfield, N. J., when the Royal Blue line express plunged at top speed into the rear of a local train.

Immediately after the crash three of the shattered cars of the local train took fire, rendering impossible the rescue of many of the wounded who were pinned fast in the wreck. Many bodies are believed to have been consumed.

The Dead.

The dead taken to the morgue at Plainfield are:

Edgar Williams, a New York lawyer.
C. P. Thayer, of Plainfield.
Harry G. Hand, of New York city.
Harry Petersen, of Dunellen.
George E. Reed, of Scotch Plains.
Rowland R. Chandler, of Plainfield.
Edward Flynn, of Plainfield.

In addition to this list there are many charred bodies unidentified still at the scene of the wreck.

The Injured.

The list of the injured at the hospital in Plainfield is as follows: Edward Clark, William Sampson, Miss Lizzie Cutter, William Dunn, George Force, Howard R. George, Miss Mildred Everett, Mrs. D. Cuming, E. M. Brokaw, Miss Cora Brokaw, Frederick Kannen, all of Plainfield; Roy Apgar and William Frederick, of Dunellen, N. J.; Thomas Cuming, of Plainfield.

Others known to have been injured are: William Geddies, of Dunellen, both legs broken; George Chandler, spine injured; Charles Longworthy, injured all over body; Mrs. Keleb, both legs broken and body crushed; Mary Ryan, injured about head; William Van Vetter, cut about body and face; Everett Reighton, both legs cut off; Miss Lizzie Keller, scalp torn off; Percy Irving, Dunellen, leg crushed; Mrs. Quelfan, bruised about body and head.

The heavy engine of the Royal Blue tore its way into the rear car and at the same time drove the forward engine of that car into the rear end of the car ahead, which in turn was driven into the third car, and this in turn was driven into the fourth car from the rear. The fourth car was only partly wrecked, but the last three cars were torn to pieces.

Engine Left Rails.

The engine of the Royal Blue left the rails and turned over on her side, the engineer and firemen sticking to their posts and going down in the wreck. They are now in the Muhlenberg hospital at Plainfield, and the engineer is not believed to have a chance of living more than a few hours.

The engine and the three worst wrecked cars were piled into an awful heap, containing at least 100 dead and injured. From the mass came fearful cries for aid. A minute later the wreck caught fire from the fire box of the locomotive. The screams of the injured in the heap were intensified as they found themselves hemmed in by the flames.

Severed Man's Leg.

Firemen after a time mastered the flames. Then the wreckage was attacked again and the work of recovering the bodies was begun. Out of the first car eight bodies were taken. The sight while the wreck was burning was horrifying. Men could be seen in the wreckage pinned fast and the timbers of the cars and struggling to be free while the flames roared around them. One of those who tried to take out a man pinned in found that he was held down by one leg near the ankle, and seeing it would be useless to do anything else is said to have finally severed the man's leg and then carried him to one of the parlor cars. Both rescued and rescuer were badly burned.

Just as the wreck occurred an east-bound train was approaching on track 2. Before it could be stopped the engine crashed into the wreckage, which had been hurled onto the track, but it was light stuff and the engine brushed it aside and crushed part of it under the wheels. The train ran its own length beyond the wreck, stopped, and after ascertaining it had sustained no injury itself proceeded toward New York.

At 1:40 o'clock this morning it was known that there were 24 dead in the railroad wreck at Grace-land, N. J. Sixteen charred bodies have now been taken out. Eight dead were either recovered before the fire or died after being taken out of the wreck.

Shot While Stealing Chickens.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 28.—A man giving his name as Frank Smith and his home Syracuse, N. Y., was shot while robbing the chicken coop of George Davis, in this city, yesterday morning. He was removed in a serious condition to the hospital. Davis, who did the shooting, was arrested, but was liberated on bail.

Dangerous Parlor Variety.

Tellit—What's that? Why, confound you, what makes you think I wouldn't make a good match for your daughter?
Tuen—Well, you flare up too quick; that's why! See?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Billville Estimate.

"You see that tall, distinguished looking man yonder?"
"Yes, I see him."
"Well, don't you recognize him?"
"Never glimpsed him before."
"Why, man, that's Bill Spinks; got to be a great writer; makin' a big sensation all over the country."
"That ain't possible," said the citizen emphatically, "for I used to climb apple trees with him, an' him an' me used to go swimmin' together!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Animal Sense Perceptions.

In the course of an article on animal sense perceptions, in which special attention is directed to nauseous or offensive odors as a means of protection, the editor of the Zoologist warns his readers against regarding animal etiology too much from the human standpoint. Because animals cannot speak we must not assume that they have no modes of communication; it is by no means certain that the ordinary explanation of "warning colors" is the true one, while the evil smell of the durian fruit does not render it distasteful either to the orang or to man himself.

Curiosity.

"What did that lady have the screen across one part of the room for, ma?" asked little Harry, who had been making a call with his mother.

"I suppose she had somethin' there she didn't want seen," replied his mother.

"And was that the reason, ma, that when you thought she wasn't looking you peeped behind it?"

Complimentary.

"Gentlemen," said a judge addressing the jury in a recent Irish case reported in Law Notes, "you have heard the evidence. The indictment says the prisoner was arrested for stealing a pig. The offense seems to be becoming a common one. The time has come when it must be put a stop to; otherwise, gentlemen, none of you will be safe."

The Easy Part.

Teacher—After all the trouble I have taken, you are most imperfect in your lesson. Surely, you could not have found it so hard to learn!

Pupil—It wasn't because it was so hard to learn, teacher, but because it was so easy to forget!

Amused Them.

Artist—Have you taken my picture to the exhibition?

Porter—Yes, sir. It seemed to please the gentlemen very much.

Artist—What did they say?

Porter—Oh, they didn't say anything. They only laughed.

A Sure Cure.

"It was a good thing for Stutterton that he married Miss Gassaway. She's curing him of his stammering habit."

"You don't say?"

"Yes. She doesn't give him a chance to talk at all now."—Philadelphia Press.

Helped Him Out.

"How did he happen to back her as a star in that new play?"

"Oh, she overheard him one day singing 'I Want to Be an Angel' and helped him have his wish."

SAD SURPRISE FOR HUSBAND

Had Broken Her Temperance Vow.

TROUBLE BEGAN AT ONCE

On Him Discovering Her in a Saloon.
He Started With Her for City Hall
And Regretted to Learn She Could Not Be Arrested.

Mrs. Rose Sibley, a rather nice looking woman, arrested Monday night on Second street by Officer Saulsberry for being drunk and raising a disturbance, and who was fined yesterday morning for her actions, broke loose again last evening and was heard from once more at the city hall.

Rose and her husband moved to this city not long ago from Oil City, Pa. and according to his statement they have lived anything but a life of happiness at their rented rooms on Walnut street. Before coming here they were happy; at least, he was. Now everything is going wrong and no man ever lived that is having more troubles.

Soon after her release from the city jail Rose, instead of seeking her chosen one to ask his forgiveness for her hilarity of the night before, started out for the districts which she had roamed with disastrous results. She cared not for the one at home anxiously awaiting her arrival. To a Broadway joint she wended her way and it was in the notorious place that Mr. Sibley found her last evening. He was dumbfounded at her condition. He never knew that his Rosie imbibed. She had signed the pledge when a young girl, and he thought her yet steadfastly keeping her promise.

When he walked into the dive, it is said a lively encounter at once ensued and that he was bested in the bout. However, he was longer winded and was there to the finish, finally subduing his spouse and succeeding in getting her to the street. Afraid that he could not keep her under control throughout the night, he concluded to apply to the police for aid, and though it cost him much exertion he took her down to the city hall. They arrived at a few minutes after the adjournment of council and City Clerk Davidson, who was present at both meetings, states that the couple even raised more commotion than the councilmen.

Sibley wanted justice. He wanted his wife locked up until morning when he would prefer a terrible charge against her. She had "broken her temperance" and must suffer. The irate husband was told that he could not have the arrest made under the circumstances and the wife, exultant, grabbed her umbrella from him, started up the street and dared him to follow. He was intimidated and allowed her to go, swearing that he would take steps to have her landed behind bars today.

The recital will undoubtedly attract a very large audience.

Revival in Progress—The revival services which are in progress at the school house near Walker's Crossing have aroused a great deal of interest among the people of that neighborhood and the building has been taxed to its capacity to contain the congregations that assemble nightly. LAKE SHORE BUYS A RAILROAD LINE

Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling Sold to the Big Corporation Yesterday.

Cleveland, January 28.—The Cleveland Trust company announced yesterday that it had placed a loan of $2,000,000 made by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad. The Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling railroad has been sold to the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway. The price paid is not announced. W. C. We desire that the value of these mantles be known throughout the community and that they be given a trial by all. These mantles on and after the 28th inst. will sell at 25 cents. Prior to this time they sold at 35c. This reduction is made possible by the fact that we are now ordering in ten thousand lots. Give them a trial.

Animal Sense Perceptions.

In the course of an article on animal sense perceptions, in which special attention is directed to nauseous or offensive odors as a means of protection, the editor of the Zoologist warns his readers against regarding animal odors too much from the human standpoint. Because animals cannot speak we must not assume that they have no means of communication; it is by no means certain that the ordinary explanation of "warning odors" is the true one, while the evil smell of the durian fruit does not render it distasteful either to the orang or to man himself.

Curiosity.

"What did that lady have the screen across one part of the room for, ma?" asked little Harry, who had been making a call with his mother.

SAD SURPRISE FOR HUSBAND

Had Broken Her Temperance Vow.

TROUBLE BEGAN AT ONCE

On Him Discovering Her in a Saloon.
He Started With Her for City Hall
And Regretted to Learn She Could Not Be Arrested.

Mrs. Rose Sibley, a rather nice looking woman, arrested Monday night on Second street by Officer Saulsberry for being drunk and raising a disturbance, and who was fined yesterday morning for her actions, broke loose again last evening and was heard from once more at the city hall.

Rose and her husband moved to this city not long ago from Oil City, Pa., and according to his statement they have lived anything but a life of happiness at their rented rooms on Walnut street. Before coming here they were happy; at least, he was. Now everything is going wrong and no man ever lived that is having more troubles.

Soon after her release from the city jail Rose, instead of seeking her chosen one to ask his forgiveness for her hilarity of the night before, started out for the districts which she had roamed with disastrous results. She cared not for the one at home anxiously awaiting her arrival. To a Broadway joint she wended her way and it was in the notorious place that Mr. Sibley found her last evening. He was dumfounded at her condition. He never knew that his Rosie imbibed. She had signed the pledge when a young girl, and he thought her yet steadfastly keeping her promise.

When he walked into the dive, it is said a lively encounter at once ensued and that he was bested in the bout. However, he was longer winded, and was there to the finish, finally subduing his spouse and succeeding in getting her to the street. Afraid that he could not keep her under control throughout the night, he concluded to apply to the police for aid, and though it cost him much exertion he took her down to the city hall. They arrived at few minutes after the adjournment of council and City Clerk Davidson, who was present at both meetings, states that the couple even raised more commotion than the councilmen.

Sibley wanted justice. He wanted his wife locked up until morning when he would prefer a terrible charge against her. She had "broken her temperance" and must suffer. The irate husband was told that he could not have the arrest made under the circumstances and the wife, exultant, grabbed her umbrella from him, started up the street, and dared him to follow. He was intimidated and allowed her to go, swearing that he would take steps to have her landed behind bars today.

SOMETHING INTERESTING

The people of East Liverpool are well acquainted with the Risinger Arc Lamps and Burners. The mantles used on these lights are the very best made. We desire that the value of these mantles be known throughout the community and that they be given a trial by all. These mantles on and after the 28th inst. will sell at 25 cents. Prior to this time they sold at 35c. This reduction is made possible by the fact that we are now ordering in ten thousand lots. Give them a trial.

Royal Blue Flyer Collides With Suburban Train in New Jersey.

DOZENS INJURED AND MAY DIE

Wreck One of the Most Appalling
That Has Occurred in the Vicinity
rible Scenes Were Witnessed.

New York, Jan. 28.—One of the most appalling railroad wrecks that has occurred in the vicinity of New York for many years, the estimated loss of life ranging from 12 to 30 persons, took place last night at Graceland, N. J., on the Central Railway of New Jersey, near Westfield, N. J., when the Royal Blue line express ploughed at top speed into the rear of a local train.

Immediately after the crash three of the shattered cars of the local train took fire, rendering impossible the rescue of many of the wounded who were pinned fast in the wreck. Many bodies are believed to have been consumed.

The Dead.

The dead taken to the morgue at Plainfield are:

Edgar Williams, a New York lawyer, C. P. Thayer, of Plainfield.
Harry G. Hand, of New York city.
Harry Petersen, of Dunellen.
George E. Reed, of Scotch Plains.
Rowland R. Chandler, of Plainfield.
Edward Flynn, of Plainfield.

In addition to this list there are many charred bodies unidentified still at the scene of the wreck.

The Injured.

The list of the injured at the hospital in Plainfield is as follows: Edward Clark, William Sampson, Miss Lizzie Cutter, William Dunn, George Force, Howard R. George, Miss Mildred Everett, Mrs. D. Cuming, E. M. Brokaw, Miss Cora Brokaw, Frederick Kannan, all of Plainfield; Roy Appar and William Frederick, of Dunellen, N. J.; Thomas Cuming, of Plainfield.

Others known to have been injured are: William Geddies, of Dunellen, both legs broken; George Chandler, spine injured; Charles Longworthy, injured all over body; Mrs. Kelch, both legs broken and body crushed; Mary Ryan, injured about head; William Van Vetter, cut about body and face; Everett Reikstein, both legs cut off; Miss Lizzie Keller, scalp torn off; Percy Irving, Dunellen, leg crushed; Mrs. Quelfan, bruised about body and head.

The heavy engine of the Royal Blue tore its way into the rear car and at the same time drove the forward engine of that car into the rear end of the car ahead, which in turn was driven into the third car, and this in turn was driven into the fourth car from the rear. The fourth car was only partly wrecked, but the last three cars were torn to pieces.

Engine Left Rails.

The engine of the Royal Blue left the rails and turned over on her side, the engineer and firemen sticking to their posts and going down in the wreck. They are now in the Muhlenberg hospital at Plainfield, and the engineer is not believed to have a chance of living more than a few hours.

The engine and the three worst wrecked cars were piled into an awful heap, containing at least 100 dead and injured. From the mass came fearful cries for aid. A minute later the wreck caught fire from the fire box of the locomotive. The screams of the injured in the heap were intensified as they found themselves hemmed in by the flames.

Severed Man's Leg.

Firemen after a time mastered the flames. Then the wreckage was attacked again and the work of recovering the bodies was begun. Out of the first car eight bodies were taken. The sight while the wreck was burning was horrifying. Men could be seen in the wreckage pinned fast and the timbers of the cars and struggling to be free while the flames roared around them. One of those who tried to take out a man pinned in found that he was held down by one leg near the ankle, and seeing it would be useless to do anything else is said to have finally severed the man's leg and then carried him to one of the parlor cars. Both rescued and rescuer were badly burned.

Just as the wreck occurred an east-bound train was approaching on track 2. Before it could be stopped the engine crashed into the wreckage, which had been hurled onto the track, but it was light stuff and the engine brushed it aside and crushed part of it under the wheels. The train ran its own length beyond the wreck, stopped, and after ascertaining it had sustained no injury itself proceeded toward New York.

At 1:40 o'clock this morning it was known that there were 24 dead in the railroad wreck at Graceland, N. J. Sixteen charred bodies have now been taken out. Eight dead were either recovered before the fire or died after being taken out of the wreck.

Coal Strike Hearing.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—Considerable progress was made yesterday by the anthracite coal strike commission. It is probable that the independent operators will have concluded their cases some time today. The Reading company will follow and will occupy the attention of the commission during the remainder of the week. The testimony presented yesterday was varied and interesting.

Explosion Victim Dies.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 28.—Paul Kopske, one of the men who was burned by a gas explosion in the Prospect mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company Sunday evening, died yesterday from his injuries.

Capital $5,000,000.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The L. C. Smith & Brothers Typewriter company, capital $5,000,000, was incorporated at Albany yesterday.

Shot While Stealing Chickens.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 28.—A man giving his name as Frank Smith and his home Syracuse, N. Y., was shot while robbing the chicken coop of George Davis, in this city, yesterday morning. He was removed in a serious condition to the hospital. Davis, who did the shooting, was arrested, but was liberated on bail.

"Isn't safe to be a day without Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house. Never can tell what moment an accident is going to happen."

NOTICE.

The Republican central committee, of this city, will hold a meeting tomorrow evening, Wednesday, January 28, at 7 o'clock, in the city hall with the candidates for the purpose of coming to a decision on a date for holding the city primaries.

NEW EQUALIZATION BOARD THE NEXT STEP REQUIRED ON THE PART OF THE CITY

Failure of Council to Decide the Pennsylvania Avenue Matter Calls Forth Bitter Criticism.

Council, by its failure to reconsider its action on the report of the Pennsylvania avenue equalization board at the regular meeting last evening, surrendered its right ever to take action on either the latter report or that of the assessing board. As a result the great majority of taxpayers in the city are paying everything but complimentary tributes to the members who opposed the acceptance of the report at the time it was submitted.

Having lost power to remedy the vital mistake council must now do one of two things: Let the $30,000, which is drawing the enormous interest of 7 per cent., be paid by general taxation—an imposition which is not only unfair, but in one light unlawful—or reappoint another assessing board at a cost of nearly $1,000. "Their first alternative will never strike anything but opposition," said a leading citizen today. How could it? Will the taxpayers of the city not be benefitted by the improvement ever stand for being assessed equally with those deriving benefits? It stands to reason that they will not, and an indignation meeting is likely to be held denouncing the dilatory measures of the city's legislative body. The result of such a meeting can easily be determined.

Those who showed themselves in favor and heartily willing to do everything within their power for the welfare of the city will be praised by the men who elected them to office; the others cannot expect to be.

When the matter was voted on in council it resulted as follows: For the acceptance—Peach, Nice, McConnell, Johnston, Orr and Horwell. Against the acceptance—Marshall, Bullock, Thomas and Barlow. It was understood before the meeting last evening that Mr. Barlow, one of the members voting against the acceptance, had changed his mind and would vote in its favor. The other members present, who have always been on the affirmative side of the question, stated this morning that had the entire body been present at the meeting the report would have been favorably acted upon. It required 7 votes to accept, and only 5 members being present who had announced themselves, it was thought useless to even present the matter to a vote.

According to parliamentary rules a member voting for the passage of a measure cannot make a motion for its reconsideration, that being left to a member who has voted in the negative.

FOR HITTING HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

A Light Fine Was Imposed Upon Paul M'Dowell. How the Trouble Started.

"In view of the fact that you did nothing more heinous than to hit your mother-in-law and that your wife has volunteered to pay your fine, I must not be too severe with you," said Squire McCarron last evening, at the conclusion of the trial of Paul McDowell on the charge of assault and battery.

McDowell is a painter, and notwithstanding that there has been quite a demand for men of his ability, he has been unable to secure jobs for several months. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Jane R. Frank, of Chester, was in the city yesterday afternoon and happened to remember that she was going to bake a cake today and that McDowell's wife had a few fresh, country eggs. She thought a couple of them would help the cake wonderfully and went to the McDowell home, which is one room in a house occupied by a family by the name of Vogel. It is located in the West End, near Golding's flint mill.

Mrs. Frank entered the house, made known her wants and having them satisfied promised to give the McDowells half of the cake, and was on the verge of leaving when she happened to see McDowell resting in an easy manner in a corner. Her indignation was immediately aroused. She could not stand the sight. Her daughter was rubbing the skin off her knuckles on the washboard, and the husband lying around reaping the benefits.

"You worthless cur, why don't you get out out and go to work?" she asked him.

It was then his time to take action. He had been insulted before, but not in his own house. Though it was his venerable mother-in-law that had said the words, he could not hold himself. Jumping from his easy posture he rushed at her, landed a blow on her neck and shoved her rudely out into the hall. There she stopped and defied him to move her another inch. She would leave his apartment, but he did not own the hallway and not an inch would she move.

With a black and blue mark on her face and assuming an air of injured feelings she a short time later walked into the office of the justice and filed the charge. He was sent for and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was assessed $4.

ed help and removed him to the house. The doctor has a wife, and a daughter lives near Canfield.

Dr. Haas' condition today was grave, and it is feared he may not recover. Ill health and melancholia are supposed to have prompted the attempt to end his life. Dr. Haas is about 48 years of age. He has twice been divorced and is now living with his third wife.

While the knife did not touch a vital spot, it is the opinion of the physicians that the wound will prove fatal. Dr. Haas is in a weakened condition as the result of a long and serious illness, from which he was just beginning to show an improvement. He may rally from the shock occasioned by the wound, but the chances of his recovery are few.

It is believed that the injury was inflicted during a temporary mental derangement, as he had been acting in a peculiar manner for a number of days. The affair has caused the greatest sensation in years at East Palestine.

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, January 28.—(Special.)—William Beck and Minnie B. Heasant, both of Salem, were granted a marriage license today.

CALCUTTA COLT CASE HAVING ANOTHER TRIAL

Squire Moore Trying to Settle a Dispute Which a Jury Failed Upon.

An interesting case is on trial today at Calcutta before Squire Moore, of St. Clair township. Thomas Starkey, of this city, is the defendant in the case and Mrs. William Given is the plaintiff. The former is being represented by Attorney W. B. Hill and the latter by Attorney Gaston.

The case is the outgrowth of a chattel mortgage signed by William Given, and given to Starkey, who, when the date for collection came around, was frustrated by Mrs. Given, who alleged that a colt included in the mortgage was her property and not that of her husband. A jury trial was held a month ago before the same justice, with the result that the jurors failed to agree.

IMPROVEMENTS CONTEMPLATED

East Liverpool Railway Company to Greatly Enlarge Its Facilities.

DOUBLE TRACK PROMISED

A Number of New Cars And an Increase in the Power Are Among the Additions to Be Made — Manager Healy Talks.

According to General Manager L. W. Healy, of the East Liverpool railway, extensive improvements, looking to a better service, are soon to be made on the line. These improvements have been in contemplation for some time, although not made public owing to the fact their exact nature and extent had not yet been fully determined. When asked concerning the proposed improvements by a News Review reporter this afternoon Mr. Healy said:

"Yes, it is true that a great many improvements on the line will soon be under way. Several weeks ago four new double truck cars were ordered from the Niles Car Manufacturing company, of Niles, O. They will be equipped with four motors each and probably with air brakes. We have a new 250 horse power boiler on the cars at the power house and expect to have it in service by the first of March. This will make a total addition to the plant of 500 horse power in the last twelve months.

"We propose to begin the work of double tracking the line through town, as soon as possible after procuring the sanction of the property holders and the city council. The part of the line extending from the Diamond to Oakland will be the first to be improved. The remainder of the line will be improved later on. The new track will be laid with girder rails and they will be heavier and stand higher than any we have yet used. Some ballasting will be used.

"Already a number of manufacturers have given their consent to placing the additional track in front of their properties and a number of names are on a petition circulated for that purpose."

Rumors of these improvements have been in circulation for some time, and their confirmation will be learned with pleasure as they will place the line in first class shape. The new engine, when placed in service, will put an end to the shortage of power that has been a handicap to the service this winter. The improvements include all parts of the system, but Mr. Healy could not state today just what would be done.

GETTING INTO LINE FOR ZIMMERMAN

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, January 28.—The political stock of Hon. John L. Zimmerman, of Springfield, the former Columbiana county man, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, is on the upward trend. Lewis G. Bernard, of Cincinnati, the accredited representative of John R. McLean, and W. J. Frey, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, held a conference at Findlay, the home of Frey, and talked over the advisability of uniting on Zimmerman as the choice of the party for governor. Zimmerman has stood aloof from factionalism, has no enemies in the ranks of his own party, which should go a long way toward getting him the nomination. Zimmerman at one time resided near Salem.

A book just issued, entitled "Ohio History Sketches," contains a very able article from the pen of Hon. Charles B. Galbreath, state librarian, on the subject of Lafayette's visit to Ohio. Mr. Galbreath has made a careful study of the life of the eminent French patriot and has lectured before educational institutions of Ohio on this great man. As the title implies, the book deals exclusively with Ohio history, and is made up of historical narratives contributed by well known Ohio writers. The book is intended for supplementary reading in the grammar grades and high schools of Ohio, the subject matter dealing with matters heretofore not given in book form.

The Columbiana County Building & Saving company, of East Liverpool, has filed a certificate with the secretary of state increasing its authorized capital stock from $400,000 to $1,000,000. C. Metsch is president and M. E. Miskall, secretary.

The annual report of the trustees of the State Institution for the Blind shows that these Columbiana county students were enrolled at the institution during the past year: Anna Gorell, Martin Dechant, Thomas Dechant and Mary Hunter, of East Liverpool; Blanche Hartzell, Washingtonville.

Certificates were granted to these nurserymen by the state board of agriculture during the past year: B. F. Stackhouse, Lisbon; J. Jenkins, Winona; Eliphas Cope, Rogers; Highland Avenue Nursery, Salem; B. C. Mackall, Beaver county, Pa.

The Hanna slate is said to stand as follows: Governor, Myron T. Herrick; lieutenant governor, Harry Gordon; auditor, W. D. Guilbert; supreme judge, John M. Sheets; attorney general, Smith W. Bennett.

State Game Warden J. C. Porterfield has had his wings clipped by Attorney General Sheets, who holds the warden has no right to seize plumage worn on the hats of women or confiscate plumage exposed for sale in millinery stores. As the plumage worn by women is not exposed for barter and sale they are within the law. The attorney general says that while it is an offense to offer for sale the plumage of birds protected by law this fact does not give the warden and his deputies power to seize and destroy this property. Their duty is limited to filing suit against the person or persons so transgressing against the statute. When the anti-plumage crusade was begun the state game warden intimated he would confiscate the plumage worn by ladies besides causing their arrest. He has no authority to do either.

SUES FOR DAMAGES FOR HIS INJURIES

Workman at a Salem Plant Wants $3,000 For Hurts Received While at Work.
Lisbon, January 28.—(Special.)—

A number of witnesses from Salem are here today to appear in court this afternoon in the case of George W. Haines against the Buckeye Engine company, of that city. Haines has sued the company for $3,000 damages for injuries received January 21, 1902. He had been in the company's employ just three months on the day of the accident, which occurred when he was in the act of oiling the machine, his right hand being caught in a train of rapidly revolving cog wheels and so badly crushed and lacerated that two fingers had to be amputated.

Mr. Haines alleges the operator of the drill at which he was working did not have sufficient protection from the machine, the mechanism of which was not concealed by the customary shield which should accompany such machines. He says he remonstrated with those in charge, and particularly when he was ordered to oil the machine just before the accident. He was commanded to proceed, however, with the result that his earning powers decreased.

DATE OF HOLDING CITY PRIMARIES

To Be Fixed By the City Republican Committee This Evening.

CANDIDATES ARE SCARCE

For Committeemen in the Several Wards, But It Is Expected That There Will Be a Number in the Field When the Entries Close.

The first meeting of the campaign will be held by the Republican city committee this evening. The session promises to be long and interesting, as there are a number of matters to be disposed of, several of which will require some time to determine upon.

The time for holding the city primary will be one of the first questions for the committee to settle, and in this the candidates for the several offices will be consulted. It has always been customary for the call for a meeting on this point to include the prospective candidates, and the same rule has been observed in the present instance. The city committee itself has no interest in the matter other than possessing the authority to fix the date, and it will be to the advantage of every aspirant to office in the city to attend the meeting and state his preference.

According to expressions secured from a number of the candidates it would seem that all will favor an early date, and it can be stated with some degree of certainty that the city primary will be held some time during the latter part of February. The county contest will not interfere with the city fights in any way other than the fact that they will be on at the same time, but the city primary will be over with at least a month before the county candidates will know their fate.

The coming city contests will be notable for the absence of councilman candidates, for, to the present not a single candidate for these positions of which there are seven, have positively announced their candidacy. A large number of men have been talked of for the place, and urged by their friends to announce, but have not yet consented to do so. The berth of councilmen will be of less importance under the new code since the body will be purely legislative, but at the same time the responsibilities will be far greater, since there will be a larger number of new ordinances to enact and a greater number of orders to amend at the very beginning of their official career. It is recognized by many that these matters ought not to be neglected, nor should they be left in the hands of incompetent men. It is likely that there will be a sufficient number of candidates for council in the field when the time limit for entrance is reached to make the fights in the several wards interesting enough for any one.

By far the greatest interest centers in the fight for mayor, and the seven or eight candidates are hard at work marshaling their forces and lining up the precinct and ward workers. These men will all be present at the meeting tonight.

It is just possible there will be no contest for the position of city solicitor, or, as there is a well authenticated rumor that one or the other of the present candidates will withdraw to take up another line of work.

The city treasurer's position has been a

Fire Department Officials Lay the Matter Before Council—Useless Debate on Pennsylvania Avenue Question.

For nearly two hours last night the city council put in the time in discussions which were productive of little good, over an hour being devoted to a general summing up of the work of the equalizing board on Pennsylvania avenue.

Councilmen Orr and Howell were the only members absent when the meeting was called to order, and after a slight alteration in the minutes, the body was prepared to do business.

Mr. Johnston took occasion to bring up a matter which, though it has never been regularly before the council, has been generally discussed for the past year or more. The people of the Northside have long needed better fire protection, and while a majority of the members of council appreciated the fact, they also realized that with the city's finances in their present condition, it could ill afford to stand the additional expense of establishing and maintaining another fire station. Chief Clint Morley and Assistant James McCullough laid before the body a very strong communication showing the necessity for such an institution. It read as follows:

Gentlemen: I would respectfully call your attention to the immediate necessity of making some more adequate arrangement for fire protection for the city, and would suggest the following remedy: For several months in the year it is almost an impossibility to reach any portion of the city lying above Grant street, either to the east or west of Calcutta road. And as the territory now to be covered by the department embraces from Ralston's Crossing to the extreme west end and north to city limits, you can readily understand that a great portion of the city including parts of Thompson Hill, Bradshaw, Huston and McKinnon addition are so situated that it is almost impossible to reach those portions within a reasonable length of time. That before these districts can be given any better protection it will be necessary to establish at some point on the Northside a station where at least the following apparatus can be kept: One combination wagon, with ladders, and hose and two additional men.

The advantage to be gained by establishing a station at some high point would first reduce the time of run to be made and would add as a reserve protection for the main department, as we are now situated, in the event of a second call, it is necessary to rely

New Cumberland Sheriff Here in Search of a Much Wanted Toronto Man.

Sheriff Charles Allison, of New Cumberland, and Detective Nick Schiffer, of the Pennsylvania railroad company, were in the city yesterday on a quiet search for William McGilvary, wanted at Steubenville on a serious charge, who is supposed to have gone in hiding here.

Whether or not the officers discovered a clue is not known but in their attempt to locate him they failed and the hunted individual remains as he has been for more than a week, a fugitive from justice.

William McGilvary must be arrested, says Prosecutor Alban, of Jefferson county, and yesterday several officers were trying to run him down, including Sheriff Allison, of Hancock county. The prosecutor has already been duped by McGilvary's promises to give himself up, and even McGilvary's lawyer, A. C. Lewis, has been given the short end of the deal, as it was he who was told that McGilvary would give himself up Saturday night or Monday. This information was satisfactory to the prosecutor, and he willingly called off the officers who were on McGilvary's trail.

pretty fight, and with Joseph Betz and Chris Horton as the only men now announced, the battle will be a fair and lively one.

The city committee is expected to fix the entrance fee for candidates, set the date for the primaries and decide upon a period when all candidates must have their names recorded with the clerk of the committee.

SEVEN WERE KILLED IN A TRAIN WRECK

Collision Between Express and Stock Trains Attended by Awful Results.

Chicago, January 28.—(Special.)—A fast passenger train on the Chicago & Northwestern collided at Laforet, Ill., today with a stock train, telescoping the caboose.

Two trainmen and five stockmen were killed outright.

Relieving the Allies.
Paris, January 28.—(Special.)—M. Vandehide, Belgian, charge, at Caracas, will undertake the administration of Venezuelan customs in behalf of the allies, thus relieving the United States and others of responsibility.

The matter has gone so far that McGilvary secured the services of Attorney Lewis, and his mother had signed a bond of $1,500 as a preliminary bond, so that everything had the appearance of being done in good faith.

"I haven't seen him," is all the response Attorney Lewis makes to questions concerning his whereabouts. "We will get him," is the response of Prosecutor Alban.

Saturday Attorney Lewis went up the river past Toronto and it is believed that he had a talk at Empire with McGilvary, who wanted his legal advice. Of course it was advised that the fugitive should give himself up, and fight the case, and 'tis said McGilvary promised to do so. This information was imparted to the prosecutor and he agreed to hold the officers off.

It was thought for several days that McGilvary was in hiding in a house near Penrith, W. Va., and several times Sheriff Allison and his deputies have visited the house but each time were compelled to leave without catching sight of their man.

ENGINEER MAKES DYING CONFESSION

SAYS THAT AN AWFUL WRECK WAS HIS FAULT.

Twenty-One Bodies Recovered at the Scene of New Jersey Disaster—Fifty Injured.

New York, January 28.—(Special.)—Twenty-one bodies were taken from the wreckage of the Philadelphia and Reading express and local express on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, at Graceland, N. J. The victims were residents of New Jersey.

While dying Engineer Davis, of the Reading express, said: "I am responsible for the accident. I saw the danger signal but expected it to turn white."

It is estimated that 50 were injured.

A $30 Pension—A Washington special says Thomas Fair, who was a member of Company E, Eighth Ohio, of East Liverpool, has been granted a pension of $30 a month. Fair's health was shattered by the Cuban campaign. He is a potter.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

GLAD TO GET BACK.

Edward Ward, who served with Company E, in its Cuban campaign, and who is one of the best known potters in the west, has returned to this city from New Castle, where he was employed as a floggerman for several months. Mr. Ward took a News Review reporter that work in New Castle, so far as the pottery workmen are concerned, was anything but satisfactory, and he is glad to be back to his old home town. Mr. Ward is one of quite a number of potters who enlisted in the volunteer service at the beginning and he is still suffering from some of the effects of his severe campaigning in the tropics. For months after his return from Cuba Mr. Ward suffered from chills and fever, and for a long time was unable to work at his trade.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

Extensive improvements are contemplated for the East End pottery during the coming spring. The packing shed which was recently destroyed by several wrecked cars being thrown into it will be replaced by a three story brick structure which will be used as a packing shed and glass warehouse. Orders for ware from this plant are coming in rapidly and two new kilns of large dimensions may be among the improvements before the work is completed.

CUT HIS LEG.

Burt Russell, of the biscuit kiln crew at the Goodwin, is confined to his home on Trentvale street, the result of an injury accidentally and self-inflicted. He was engaged in cutting a piece of leather when his knife slipped, making a large gash in his left leg just above the knee. The instrument penetrated to the bone, making an ugly gash. Mr. Russell will be unable to work for a week or more.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

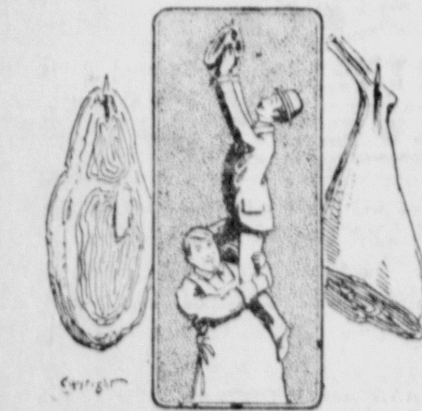

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both Home of Swamp-Root, sent free by mail, Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. BARBERS' UNION BATTLE

Decision in Favor of Plaintiff in Important Test Case in An Ohio Town.

Denison, January 28.—The case of Ohio vs. R. W. Ward, was decided in common pleas court, at New Philadelphia, yesterday, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. The case attracted considerable attention as a test case of the law governing the use of a union sign.

The Twin City Barbers' union, composed of employers, chartered under the laws of Ohio, but not affiliated with the International Barbers' union which admits only employees, secured the indictment of Ward for using a large sign, "Union Shop," upon his window, when he was not a member of the employers' union. Ward held a retiring card from the International union, of which there is no local here.

REALM OF SPORTS

CODWIN AND LINDSAY WILL PLAY FAST BALL

They Have Signed With Minor Leagues And Their Absence Will Be Keenly Felt Locally.

Local base ball fans regret very much that Harry Lindsay, of Canton and John Godwin have signed with foreign teams for next season. It was the hope of every man in the city who has the success of the new ball team to be organized in the city next spring at heart that both of the named players would be signed with the local aggregation. Now that they have bound themselves to some other team the blow is having an effect.

Lindsay has sold his services to San Francisco and will leave for the Golden Gate City March 1. There is not a man who ever saw Lindsay pitch a game in this vicinity that could be made to speak of him in any other than words of praise. He is one of the best twirlers, for his age and experience, in the country and he certainly would have been a prize on the local team. A man with plenty of admirers, none of whom are afraid to give vent to their feelings, always has success if there is anything in him. No man ever had more such friends in this city, considering his few appearances, than he. Will any man living in the city last fall ever forget the game that he pitched at Rochester against the team of that city? The ovation that was accorded him by East Liverpool fans immediately after the game was never outclassed.

Godwin's career in the base ball world has been of comparatively short duration. That he is one of the best fielders and all-around players the city has turned out no one will deny. He is simply of the class of amateurs that have a streak of bad luck in their beginning. It will be remembered that he left last spring to play fast ball but he returned in a short time. No one ever entertained the thought for a moment that he was farmed on account of his inability to furnish the goods. They all know the man too well. He is competent and able, but heretofore has had no confidence in himself. It is with a strong determination that he leaves April 1 to join the Bloomfield (Ill.) team, and it is predicted that he will make a well deserved mark during the season and that in another year he will be playing with faster company.

HAD NO CRUDGE AGAINST MERCER

Old Jack Glascock Could Harbor No Malice Against the East Liverpool Boy.

"Win" Mercer was the only ball player against whom old Jack Glascock refused to harbor a grudge. "Pebble Jack," as Glascock was called, said "Scrappy" "Bill" Joyce, at St. Louis, "kept a memorandum book which he 'fretfully' termed a book of fate," in which he marked his grudges until they were wiped one by one. Once when Mercer pitched for Washington against Pittsburgh he gave Glascock a fearful blow in the ribs with a pitched ball. Jack thought it might have been personal and that night he marked down in his little book: "Mercer—Get him."

"This meant that Glascock won't not rest until he had turned some trick on Mercer—something to even up matters. From that time until the far end of the season Glascock waited patiently, seeing Mercer play many times, but he never got a chance. His observation of Mercer was such as to make him believe that he would not play dirty ball, and one night Glascock walked into a Pittsburgh hotel where Mercer was staying and said: "Win, I guess you didn't mean to hit me with that ball. I'll wipe it out."

"True to his promise, Jack pulled

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of proper food, together with natural action of the digestive organs. Nine people out of ten, in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Mi-na, the great flesh-forming food and digestion regulator. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these "little tablets" and see how your weight increases from week to week. Mi-na does not contain a particle of pepsin, the basis of the ordinary dyspepsia remedy, and which never made a cure of dyspepsia. Mi-na has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, helps digest the food eaten, and absolutely cures the worst forms of dyspepsia. BEAVER FALLS BOWLERS DEFEATED BY LOCAL TEAM

Kearns Saved the Series By Phenomenal Bowling in the Last Two Games.

Amid the howling and hooting of a large crowd of excited rooters a series of three games were bowled last evening on the Imperial alleys by the Beaver Falls team and the locals. The latter are considering themselves lucky that they made the agreement before-hand to figure the results on the total number of pins made.

Both teams rolled very poor games, the totals being under 2,400. The visitors walked away with the first game, but fell down in the next. To Kearns is credited their drop. The youngster was asked to play in the place of McEldowney, considered one of the best players in the city. He reluctantly consented, and though the youngest of the bunch, he bowled the prettiest game in a match ever witnessed on local alleys. The Pennsylvania lads could do nothing but stare at him in amazement in the second game. He piled up so many strikes that the visitors were afraid that 300 would be reached and they all felt that Captain Craig had surely imported a professional. The third game was won by the visitors, making them the winners of two of the series, but losers on total pins by 47.

The individual scores follow:

WELLSVILLE UNDAUNTED

Captain Shingler's Bowlers Will Play the Local Team on Imperial Alleys Tonight.

The awful drubbing given Captain Shingler's bowling team at Wellsville last week by the East Liverpool team has had but one effect on the former aggregation. It was thought by East Liverpool bowlers that the defeat would be so humiliating that a return date would not be given. Undaunted the Wellsville bunch have gallantly stood by their agreement and will play the second of the series on the Imperial alleys this evening. Captain Shingler stated last evening that he had ordered barrels for each member of his team, and there is a possibility of their winning out.

The lineups will be as follows:
East Liverpool—Craig, Carnahan, Rigby, Kearns and Clark.
Wellsville—Shingler, Aten, Hall, Harsha and Karr.

CONTEST CANCELED

At the Last Moment Cohen and Tetler Hitched on Articles of Agreement and Called Game Off.

The pool contest scheduled to take place last evening between Louis Cohen and Tetler, the pool and billiard artist, of Steubenville, was called off late yesterday, and as a result many local sports who had been anxiously waiting for the event were much disappointed.

It cannot be learned just what the two players hit on. Cohen is not in the best trim for a contest, not having played much during the past year, and it is thought probable that he was not anxious, notwithstanding that he was only to make 100 points to his opponent's 125.

Last season this track was placed in the Eastern Ohio circuit and the dates for the coming events will be fixed accordingly. Mr. Brennan also says that he will give a fair next

Ban Johnson will go to New York some time this week. His leg troubles him, but he has entirely recovered from his attack of pneumonia.

Pitcher McNeal who wore a Cleveland uniform in 1901, has signed with Rochester. Frank Schebeck, another former Cleveland, will captain the team.

Fitz is on the warpath. He offers to knock out Ryan, "Gus" Ruhlin, "Kid" McCoy, "Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien, and as he puts it, all the rest inside of four rounds or forfeit to each man $250.

A MINISTER TELLS OF HIS FALL FROM GRACE

Acknowledged That He Had Drunk Heavily And Gambled—Finally Repented.

Rev. W. J. Holt, of Moundsville, formerly pastor of the Elkins, W. Va., M. E. congregation, created a sensation in the revival services which have been in progress at Moundsville for the past few weeks by making an open confession from the floor of the assembly room. He said he had fallen from grace, had been drinking heavily, finally passing to gambling in which he won $5,000. He said he had accumulated property and worldly goods and had led a life he should have eschewed and not even contemplated.

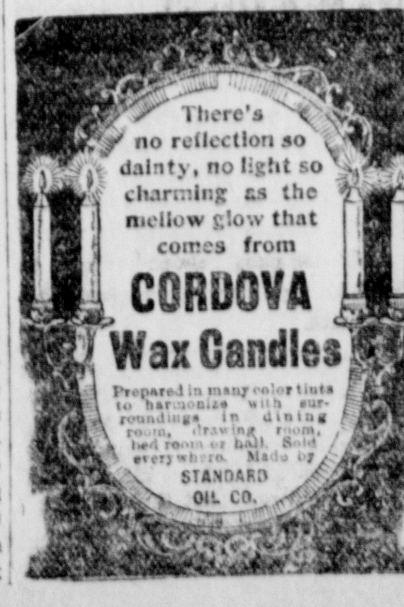

The stir this confession made may be imagined. The young clergyman after leaving his congregation took up the study of law, and recently acquired some splendid property at Moundsville. The manner and method of his getting he told openly, and pledged his

Mrs. Margaret Tracy, of No. 175 Seventh street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "One of my family was very nervous and subject to nervous spells—weak and miserable—could not sleep and the digestion was very poor. I asked the invalid to take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins Drug Store. The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion is perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

A PASTOR WHO WAS BEFRIENDED BY AN EMPEROR SAVED BY PE-RU-NA.

Rev. H. Stubenvoll, of Elkhorn, Wis., is pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church of that place. Rev. Stubenvoll is the possessor of two bibbles presented to him by Emperor William of Germany. Upon the fly leaf of one of the bibbles the Emperor has written in his own handwriting a text. This honored pastor, in a recent letter to The Peru Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, says concerning their famous catarrh remedy, Peru-na:

The Peru Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.
Gentlemen: "I had hemorrhages of the lungs for a long time, and all despaired of me. I took Peru-na and was cured. It gave me strength and courage, and made healthy, pure blood. It increased my weight, gave me a healthy color, and I feel well. It is the best medicine in the world. If everyone kept Peru-na in the house it would save many from death every year."—H. STUBENVOLL.

Thousands of people have catarrh who would be surprised to know it, because it has been called some other name than catarrh. The fact is catarrh is catarrh wherever located; and another fact which is of equally great importance, is that Peru-na cures catarrh wherever located.

GREAT LEGAL BATTLE WILL CONTINUE

Western Union-Pennsylvania Fight
Appealed to United States
Circuit Court.

Pittsburg, January 28.—Preliminary to the trial of the case between the Western Union Telegraph company and the Pennsylvania Railroad company, by the Western Union company taking an appeal yesterday from the United States circuit court to the United States circuit court of appeals in the case decided by Judge Joseph Buffington. The court here refused the plaintiff's petition to file a bond to condemn certain portions of the right of way of the defendant company for the use of the plaintiff's poles and wires.

The court also refusing to enjoin the defendant from removing the poles and wires of the plaintiff if they are not removed from the right of way of the defendant by June 2, 1903. As Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware are in the same circuit, the case decided in favor of the Western Union company at Trenton, will also be heard by the same judges on the bench of the court of appeals and it is likely they will be argued together.

SNOWBALLING CASE

Attracted Great Attention In 'Squire Carman's Court—Decision Reserved.

'Squire Carman's court room was filled with spectators last evening to hear the evidence in the case of the State against George Crawford. This is the snowballing affair in which Crawford is alleged to have struck a daughter of H. H. Meador, of Mulberry street. The snowball contained a piece of tiling and, striking the little girl on the back of the head, inflicted a painful wound. Attorney H. E. Grosshans appeared for the defense and moved to dismiss the case on technical grounds. Mr. Meador made complaint to Attorney J. E. Davis, as notary public, and Attorney Grosshans contended that this was an error. The information he claimed should have been lodged with the mayor or a justice of the peace.

Several witnesses for the state were examined before the proceedings adjourned. The decision of the justice was reserved until he could investigate the merits of the manner of issuing the warrant. If the error is sustained it is likely that the warrant for Crawford will be sworn to before a magistrate.

CAPT. TERRENCE HURT

Injured By a Mishap While On the Way to the Pottery Fire.

Captain William Terrence, of the East End fire station, is suffering from some painful injuries to his right leg received while making the run to the Brunt pottery fire Monday night. While passing the Harrier pottery on the way down the hose wagon which Captain Terrence was driving struck an obstruction and came to a sudden halt.

The momentum threw him from the seat across the dash board and his leg was badly bruised and strained. He paid no attention to the injury until he reached the East End after the fire. He is at his work but with a noticeable limp.

Close of Revival Services.

The revival services which have been in progress at the Second United Presbyterian church for the past week will be discontinued after tonight. Rev. William Duncan, of New Concord, who has been assisting Pastor McQuiston in the work, was called to his home yesterday by the serious illness of his wife. Rev. Mr. Quiston conducted the services last evening and will preach again tonight. Much interest has been manifested in these meetings and a great deal of good has been accomplished.

Wagner Quartet Coming.

What promises to be one of the best entertainments ever given in the East End is the appearance of the Wagner quartet at the Second United Presbyterian church on the evening of February 2. This quartet was favorably received at a former appearance at the First church and many who heard them on that occasion will take advantage of this opportunity. The members of the quartet are Misses Porter, Johnston, Blackburn and Tink, and they will be assisted by J. Hyde McCoy, soloist and reader.

East End Wants New Line.

The sentiment of the people of the East End is largely in favor of the proposed street railroad projected by J. A. Smith and his associates, and they are hoping that he will be successful in securing the necessary rights of way and the franchise from the city. It is thought that if an opposition line is built the old company will have more consideration for its patrons. The people believe Mr. Smith's promise to build a first-class line will be fulfilled to the letter.

Gas Again Short.

The supply of gas from the Ft. Pitt mains was shut off entirely at about 1:30 o'clock this morning. The failure is said to have been caused by a break in the mains near Toronto.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A boy baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Downard, of First avenue this morning.

Mrs. Smith, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. F. White, of Railroad street, is quite ill with tonsillitis. Quite a number of young people from Calcutta drove in last evening and held a dance in Larkin & Ferguson's hall.

Alex Brownlee, who has been laid up with a broken leg since the first of the year, was out on the streets for the first time today.

A GENUINE NUISANCE

An Alleged Sport Who Got Fired from a Lawyer's Office in Haste.

A young man who calls himself a "dead game sport" from Latrobe, Pa., has been annoying the people of this city since Saturday. He came into town with a large-sized jag and has been making a desperate effort to keep from getting sober. So far he has had fairly good success. He doesn't hesitate to hold up people on the street and ask for a dime with which to promote the liquor industry, and when there is nothing doing he tries it in stores and offices. Some times he implores and some times he threatens and when his victim expresses ignorance as to his fame as a sport he is greatly disappointed.

He entered the office of a prominent attorney yesterday and couple some threatening remarks with his demand for money. He was fired out unceremoniously. No complaints have been lodged with the police as yet, but there will be if he continues to make himself obnoxious.

AFTER FRANCHISES

Max Goodman Consulting Washington and Salem Councils About Trolley Project.

Salem, January 28.—Max P. Goodman, the electric railway promoter for the Youngstown & Ohio Valley Electric Railway & Power company, arrived in this city yesterday from Washington, where he met the council of that village in a special session in regard to the securing of a franchise for the new line. He expects to be at the next meeting, which will occur about the middle of February.

He stated that the company did not know just how it would want to go through Washingtonville, but had a corps of surveyors there, among them City Engineer French, of this city, who are making a survey of two routes, one of which will be selected later.

His business in this city was to have a preliminary talk with the mayor, the city solicitor and the councilmen in regard to the local franchise situation. To found things favorable and the chances are that a formal application will be presented to the councilmen at the next meeting.

FAILED ON QUORUM.

Senator Quay Made Effort to Hold the Senate in Continuous Session.

SECURED A FAVORABLE BALLOT.

House Devoted Day to Bills Reported from Judiciary Committee and Passed About Twenty—Testimony Concluded in Lessier Hearing.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Senator Quay made an effort yesterday to hold the senate in continuous session to consider the statehood bill, but failed to hold a quorum and was compelled to adjourn at 6:20 p. m. He secured another ballot, however, to test the sentiment of the senate, the vote standing 17 to 29 in his favor. The day was spent in consideration of the statehood bill, with the exception of an hour devoted to a speech by Mr. Scott, of West Virginia, on the pension laws. The feature of the statehood bill under especial consideration yesterday was the Arizona refunding proposition. It was charged that the territory has sought to repudiate bonds held by Hon. Bird S. Coler, late Democratic candidate for governor of New York state.

In the House.
The house devoted the day to bills reported from the judiciary committee, passing about 20. Most of them were of a minor character, relating to the times of holding court, etc., but two were of general importance. One was to meet the original package decision of the supreme court by making intoxicating liquors imported into states subject to the jurisdiction of such states. The bill is designed to prevent evasion under the original package decision of the liquor laws in prohibition states. The other bill is the senate bill to increase the salaries of federal judges. It raises the salaries of the chief justice of the supreme court to $13,000; the associate justices to $12,500; circuit judges to $7,000; district judges to $6,000; the chief justice of the court of claims to $6,500; associate justices to $6,000, and justices of the supreme court of the District of Columbia to $5,000.

Other bills passed create additional district judges in the southern district of New York and in the district of Minnesota, and provide an additional circuit judge in the eighth judicial circuit.

A bill was passed to fix the times for holding court in the western district of Virginia.

At 5:05 p. m. the house adjourned.

Lessier Bribery Charges.

The house committee on naval affairs yesterday concluded the taking of testimony in the investigation of the charges made by Representative Lessier that a corrupt attempt had been made to influence his vote in that committee, on the proposition to purchase submarine torpedo boats.

An executive session was held by the committee at the conclusion of the afternoon session and consideration was given to the findings of the committee would report to the house. After several resolutions had been proposed and discussion had been had as to the wording of a report a sub-committee, consisting of Representatives Ford (Ill.), Dayton (W. Va.), Taylor (O.), Meyer (La.) and Kitchin (N. C.), was appointed to draw up a set of findings to be submitted to the full committee for its final action.

Body Found.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 28.—John Gerrity, who mysteriously disappeared from his home at Edwardsville, this county, on Dec. 4, was found yesterday in a small reservoir near his home. The supposition is that while returning home late at night he fell into Tobys creek and his body was carried down in the swift stream to the reservoir, where it remained until found yesterday.

Respite Granted.

Harrisburg, Jan. 28.—Governor Pennington last night respite Samuel Greason, of Berks county, who was associated with Kate Edwards in the murder of her husband, and who was to have been hanged on Feb. 5, to March 5. Frank Dudas, of Armstrong county, charged with murder, was respite from Feb. 5 to March 5.

Loss $250,000.

Boston, Jan. 28.—For five hours more than half the Boston fire department faced a fierce fire here last night, the six-story business building of the Higelow Dowsie company, hard ware dealers, and contents being destroyed. The loss is a quarter of a million dollars.

ARE YOUR NERVES SHATTERED?
Are you on the brink of nervous prostration? Are your nerves all unstrung? Do you feel a general breaking down? It's no wonder! If you are one of those unfortunate creatures, why don't you try a box of NEURALGYLINE, the great nerve-builder!

No nation pays more respect to the memory of its great men than America, and none had greater men to honor. At the McKinley birthday banquet at Canton, President Roosevelt and other men of national prominence paid generous and fitting tribute to the greatness, goodness and wise statesmanship of the man so recently the victim of foul murder. More impressive or more eloquent eulogy than that pronounced by the president upon his predecessor in office has seldom been uttered on such an occasion. McKinley was worthy of it all. No mere words can add to his greatness or to the love that the people bore him. But it is meet that his excellencies be recalled and eulogies pronounced, as they were upon this anniversary, and as they will continue to be spoken at McKinley birthday celebrations during coming years. There is inspiration for all men, and not simply for the rising generation, in studying the career of great and wise patriots. Steadily the long list of distinguished men whose virtues are annually commemorated is growing. Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant and Garfield are among the conspicuous names and memories thus honored hitherto. McKinley day has now taken its place with the rest and will be observed long and impressively. Republics are not ungrateful, and America will never forget the men who have been instrumental in making this people great and strong and prosperous.

The United States and Great Britain have agreed to settle the Alaskan boundary question by means of a commission, each country appointing three members. The duty of these commissioners is to interpret the treaty of 1825 between Russia and Great Britain, which laid down the boundary line between Alaska and British America. There would have been no boundary question had not the Klondike gold discovery made Alaskan territory valuable.

Nobody seriously believed that Col. Arthur Lynch would be hanged, and very few will believe that he is to spend the rest of his life in penal servitude. His crime, whether high treason or not, was no greater than that of others of his countrymen who no attempt will be made to punish.

The city council is evidently determined to make haste slowly in the Pennsylvania avenue matter. Caution is commendable, but dilatoriness in settling a question that demands action is not.

The 200 shells fired unexpectedly by German ships at a Venezuelan fort, after arbitration had been agreed upon, is another strong argument for adding steadily to the strength of the American navy.

President Eliot, of Harvard, says no man can work too hard. Of course President Eliot will be willing to make an exception in the case of the man who works the growler.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat not because they want to, but simply because they must. They know they are irritable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise.

They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, an uneasy feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn and what not.

The effective remedy, proved by permanent cures of thousands of severe cases, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's PILLS are the best cathartic.

There is a gas pump bill before the Pennsylvania legislature which is drawing more gas from the solons than any device could extract from the ground.

England now has a $15,000,000 coal trust. Yet the Democratic parrot will keep on repeating: "The tariff is the mother of trusts."

Colorado spent weeks in choosing a senator and finally selected Teller. The hard work expended ought to have resulted better.

The individual who sent that blood-curdling postal card to Col. John N. Taylor has a fool's idea of what constitutes a joke.

The best news that has come from the coal regions in many a day is that there is a break in the price of coal.

Joseph Chamberlain is being received with great cordiality in South Africa. Oom Paul is not at home.

Others besides Tillman are afraid he won't get a fair trial.

A Munchhausen Yarn.

Baron Munchhausen, when hunting for deer upon one occasion, encountered a magnificent animal, but found himself without shot. Speedily gathering together a handful of cherry stones he loaded his gun with them and fired at the deer, hitting him squarely between the eyes, not killing him, however. The deer managed to escape, but some time later the baron encountered him again and was surprised to see a beautiful cherry tree growing out of the animal's forehead, covered with blossoms and fruit.

Milo Was a Glutton.

Milo, the famous athlete of ancient Greece (born 520 B. C.), was victor at both the Olympic and Pythian games for six times in succession. On one occasion he ran four miles with an ox on his shoulder, killed the animal with a blow of his first and then ate the entire carcass in one day. An ordinary meal for this gluttonous Titan was twenty pounds of bread, twice that much meat and fifteen pints of wine.

The Highest Waterfall.

There is in Mexico a wonderful waterfall, which probably enjoys the distinction of being the highest waterfall in the world. The fall is known by the Indian name of Basaseachic and is located about 100 miles west of the city of Chihuahua, near the summit of the Sierra Madre mountains. The elevation of the mountain is 6,500 feet above sea level. The cascade falls 978 feet.

A Mighty Serious Thing.

"You printed my death notice, and that's no joke."
"But, my dear sir, that's not my fault. It's the fact that you are alive that makes it no joke."
There was a subtleness to this that made it most annoyingly puzzling.—Chicago Post.

How They Do It.

Gossipy Man—The Joneses keep up a very imposing establishment.
Greener—They do that, indeed, and my store's the one that's mostly been imposed on.—New York Times.

Quashed.

"William," asked the regular patron, "is this real pumpkin pie?"
"It's the punkiest we got, sah," stiltily replied the austere waiter.—Chicago Tribune.

Riches Versus Luck.

Wig—Would you rather be born lucky or rich?
Wag—I'd rather be born rich. Then you don't have to be lucky.—Exchange.

Chest Protectors

Some people who catch cold easily, and are annoyed every winter, now find that the wearing of a Chest Protector keeps draughts and sudden changes of temperature off from their chests and avoids all cold.

Try this! We handle "Frost King" for men, and "Frost Queen" for women. They're dressy, close fitting, impervious to cold and winds, and exceedingly comfortable and convenient to wear. Come in and try them on.

upon the East End fire station. The East End interests having become so valuable and the territory so extensive, we cannot afford to call the East End station and remove from that portion of the city the protection it now has and to which it is justly entitled.

The advantage to the city proper by having an additional department on the Northside is very apparent in that the short distance from the city would enable that department to respond very quickly in case of a second call and at the same time insure a protection to the outlying districts and at the same time give the East End the protection it deserves, besides giving additional police protection, as the firemen could do police duty as well.

This matter is submitted to you after careful consideration of the needs required in the department, and trust that the same may receive some prompt consideration at your hands.

Very respectfully yours,

H. C. MORLEY, Chief.

J. F. McCULLOUGH, Assistant.

In order to lend more weight to the matter and for the purpose of bringing it rightly before the body, Members Barlow and Johnston submitted the following:

To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen: The necessity for some arrangement for additional fire protection for the city, having been called to our attention by Fire Chief Morley, as set forth in his report to council, the fire committee, after having carefully examined the situation feel that some action should be taken in the matter and in order that the matter may be fully investigated and some arrangement be made to carry out the recommendation of the fire chief, we would recommend that a committee of three together with the president, be appointed to take this matter up to investigate as to a location and to make some recommendation by the next regular meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

HUGH JOHNSTON,

JOSEPH BARLOW.

The request was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Johnston, Thomas and Barlow.

C. C. Thompson, of the Thompson Pottery company, presented the following petition for the consideration of the body:

In anticipation of improvements we hereby petition your honorable body to extend the franchise granted to the C. C. Thompson Pottery company on October 25, 1892, to lay a side track on the south side of its works, to read 50 years from date of the present franchise, which expires October 25, 1917.

We would not be justified in making these improvements unless the above franchise is granted.

C. C. THOMPSON POTTERY CO.

The street committee, through Mr. Johnston, reported upon the Townsend damage claim, recommending that it be paid. Several of the men were not clear as to the legality of the claim and action upon the matter was deferred until the solicitor, who was not present, could be consulted. The acceptance of the bond of the Youngstown & Southern railway was also laid over for the solicitor's consideration along with the finance committee.

Assessing ordinances were passed for the improvement of Sugar alley, Summit lane and College street.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to a discussion of the merits of the Pennsylvania avenue assessment question. No motions were made and the wrangling came to naught.

United Mine Workers Adjourn.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—The mine workers completed their business and adjourned yesterday afternoon. The convention has been the most expeditious and harmonious ever held. Many important measures have been considered and acted upon. Among them are the formulation of the demand for an increase of wages of 12½ cents flat per ton on a run-of-mine basis, and a flat differential of 7 cents per ton between pick and machine mined coal; a demand for an increase of wages of inside and outside laborers in proportion to the increase of the miners; the refusal to commit the convention to socialism and government ownership; raising officers' salaries; the declaration against child labor working in mines; the demand for an anti-injunction law; and the plans for a defense fund. The conference will be held with the operators on Friday.

Ragpickers of Paris.

In Paris each house is provided by the city with a large box. Into this the servants throw all that is not needed by the family, whether of food or raiment. Every morning the chiffonniers, or ragpickers, are privileged to search through these boxes before the contents are carted by the city to distant fields, where the refuse is employed in fertilizing the soil. From the homes of the wealthy the poor receive many articles of real value. Fifty thousand ragpickers, say the statisticians, realize $10,000 daily from their pickings.

HEALTH BOARD MEETING

Garbage Furnace Question And Other Matters of Interest Discussed.

At the regular meeting of the board of health last evening, the health officer's report for December showed 12 deaths, males 7 and females 5; births 13, 4 males and 9 females; 11 burial permits; 3 bodies received from other towns for burial; 2 sent away for burial; 8 cases of infectious diseases, 4 of typhoid fever and 4 of scarlet fever. A communication from D. O. North, secretary of the board of health of Eleanor, Pa., told of the case of a man named Cook, employed at the mill here. It was in answer to a letter from the local board who had heard that Cook had visited his sister at Eleanor at the time of a smallpox epidemic there and that the sister had the disease at the time. The letter stated that the smallpox scare was over and that all cases had been quarantined. Cook's sister was ill, but did not have smallpox.

A circular from a Toledo garbage crematory company descriptive of its apparatus was received and filed. The matter will probably be acted upon by the board next summer. The clerk reported that he had made a record of all licensed embalmers in the city. There are four of them.

SCARCITY OF COAL BECOMING SERIOUS

Little Fuel Now to Be Had At Any Price—Demand For Wood Now Expected.

The scarcity of coal in this city has once again reached an alarming state and unless local dealers can get enough coal to supply the demand soon the situation will be as bad, if not worse than it was a week or so ago, and people will have to use wood for fuel. A notice has been issued to consumers by the Wellsville Fuel company, as follows:

"Owing to the scarcity of coal and the high price at the mines, we are compelled to advance the price of Pittsburgh coal to 15 cents per bushel, cash on delivery."

Citizens do not object so much to the advance in price as the fact that but little of the Pittsburgh coal can be secured now at any price.

One family in the West End left the city yesterday to go to Toledo, and when asked about the matter said that they were going to visit friends there for a few weeks as they were unable to get any coal in Wellsville. They said that people in Toledo were able to get plenty of coal.

Orders have been placed by the local coal dealers for large amounts of the fuel, but their orders have not been filled promptly and as a result Wellsville people have to do without. Should very cold weather set in now, many families would suffer.

REPAIRING FIRE DAMAGE

A Force of Men Getting the Judge Smith Building in Shape For Use.

The large gang of men, who have been employed by P. M. Smith, to reconstruct the building which was burned in the fire Monday morning, have been doing excellent work and have thus far succeeded in repairing one end of the building until it is about ready for occupancy. This is the east end of the building and the part which was occupied by the Central Building and Loan company and Mr. Smith's private office.

The west end of the building, which was not damaged to any great extent, and which was occupied by the Union printing office, has again been placed in such a condition that it can be occupied and the machinery and office equipment of the Union have been moved back into the building. The Union company was able to issue a newspaper yesterday, although it was somewhat late.

C. V. Shoub, who had his store almost completely burned out, has opened again on a small scale in the hose house in the city building. Mr. Blackburn has removed all of his stock which was saved to a vacant room at Sixth street and Main and is open for business.

The entire building will not be in a complete shape and ready for occupancy for two or three weeks, and in the meantime the former occupants will have to do the best they can in their temporary quarters.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS

An Obstruction in a Water Pipe Has Been Found and Removed.

The fire plug at Fifth and Main streets, which became clogged up on Monday morning during the big fire, was overhauled yesterday by Superintendent Ewing, of the water works, and a force of men. After the plug was taken out it was found that in a joint, six feet underground, a large piece of lead had become clogged and in such a way as to check the flow of water. The plug has not been used for several years and therefore the clogging was not noticed until Monday when the first hose was attached to it. The lead has probably been lodged in the pipe for the past twenty years or since the water works system was first put in. The joint was removed and a new joint put in.

In testing the plug after the new joint was put in, it was found that it gave an excellent pressure and a stream could be thrown over the highest point of the city building steeple.

Funeral of a Child.

The funeral of Lloyd H. Howell, the four months old child, who died Monday evening at his parent's home, on Hill street, was held at the home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Lemoine C. Wells, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, officiated and interment was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

LODGES AND UNIONS.

The regular meeting of local union No. 24, N. B. of O. P., was held last evening in Potters' hall. The attendance was somewhat better than usual and as a result a longer meeting than usual was held. Considerable business was transacted, but nothing can be made public.

Local union No. 63, Retail Clerks' International Protective association, will hold its regular meeting this evening in Potters' hall, and after the regular business has been disposed of, the new officers for the year will be installed. A delegation from the East Liverpool union is expected to be present for the installation exercises.

Thursday evening Trades and Labor council will hold an open meeting in the Potters' hall, which all are invited to attend. The feature of the evening will be the address of E. W. Hill, of East Liverpool. He will speak on the subject, "Value Received."

A special meeting of Advance Tent No. 501, Knights of the Macabees, will be held at Russell's hall on lower Main street, Friday evening. Important business for lodge members only will be transacted.

SEWER PIPE PLANT

Project of Building One in Upper Chester Will Be Revived in the Spring.

The movement is again on foot for the erection of the sewer pipe and brick works near the Edwin M. Knowles pottery in the upper end of Chester. The organization of the company was started late last fall by Thomas Anderson and several of the principal land owners in Chester, but when bad weather came on the scheme was abandoned until spring.

It is now proposed to proceed with the organization of the company at once and it is expected that the affairs will be in shape so that work can be commenced in the early spring and rushed through to completion without delay. Plans for the new plant are now being prepared and the contract for the construction of the foundation will probably be let within the next few weeks.

The plant will be modern in every particular, and when completed will be one of the finest in the country.

WITNESSES MISSED TRAIN

And a Case That Promised to Be Sensational Was Accordingly Dropped.

What promised to be a sensational case was dismissed in the court of Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon because the plaintiff's witnesses failed to appear in time to testify. Mrs. Della Parsons, of Middle Run, was the prosecutor, charging Mrs. Sarah J. Reese with unlawfully cohabiting with Mr. Parsons, the complainant's husband.

Quite a number of witnesses were subpoenaed from Irondele, but they missed the morning train and started about noon to drive through to Wellsville. The justice held the defendant until about 4 o'clock, the case having been set for 1 o'clock, and as the witnesses failed to appear at that time, she was discharged. About 20 minutes later the witnesses appeared, but it was too late to do anything unless the action is commenced anew. Quite a crowd was on hand to hear the testimony.

Water Supply Defects Remedied.

The leaks in the water mains between the pump station and the reservoir, which threatened to interfere with the water supply of Chester, have all been repaired and the people need have no fear of being shut off. Every precaution was taken at the time the leaks were discovered to protect private consumers, and the mill and factories was shut off until the repairs could be made.

five and has perchance experienced a change of heart. This being the practice in council, Mr. Barlow was the only one to whom the others could look for a motion. He thought it a proposition impossible to pass and said not a word.

What the members did or didn't do matters nothing now as far as the reports of the two boards are concerned. The boards are a thing of the past and can never be resurrected. Other boards can be appointed and though the cost will be great, they must be, if the present body wishes to do that which the people seem to desire. Those on the general taxation prefer running the chances of having eventually to pay for the work of two or more boards than to allow the entire amount to be placed against them without a struggle. They are now carrying the entire amount, and it is their contention that an imposition is being forced upon them by a few.

That the city is practically bankrupt and in bad financial straits can be learned by a moment's investigation of the city clerk's books. It will be found that the general fund is overdrawn nearly $5,000; the street fund, $1,500; fire fund, $5,000; police fund, $900; interest fund, $1,200; sanitary fund, $3,000. The above figures aggregate nearly $17,000. For that amount the city is paying interest at the rate of 7 per cent. Were the notes held against the city for the $30,000 of the Pennsylvania avenue improvement blotted out by the acceptance of the reports and the passing of an assessing ordinance the financial condition would be in a most satisfactory shape. If the expenses of the city continue as they have for a year with an income no greater, the city treasury will not only remain depleted, but will be without a source of remedy unless council provides one.

The Extinct Quagga.

The quagga, the half cousin to the wild ass, has vanished from Africa and only exists as imperfect specimens in the European museums.

The quagga exists as a name still in South Africa, for the name has been wrongly applied to Burchell's zebra, but the true quagga, which took its name from its cry "quagga," has been extinct since 1872, when the last of his or, rather, of her race, for this quagga was a female, died in the London Zoological society's menagerie.

Its extinction in South Africa was due solely to the zeal with which the Dutch farmers hunted it for its hide, and it is a saddening reflection that thousands of Kaffirs used to be fed on it by their Boer masters.

The idiotic wastefulness of this exterminating a species becomes the more marked in view of the fact that the quagga, which was midway between a zebra and a wild ass, could be broken to harness and was the bravest as well as the hardiest of animals. Some Boer farmers used to keep tame quaggas on their farms to graze with horses in order to protect them from beasts of prey.

He Escaped.

Offer of 30 Per Cent of Customs Receipts Produces Favorable Impression in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 28.—President Castro's offer of 30 per cent of the customs receipts of La Guaira and Porto Cabello as a guarantee for the payment of foreign claims is regarded in official circles here as evidence of the sincerity of his intention to make a satisfactory settlement. As the offer, however, includes the claims of other countries besides those taking part in the blockade some doubt is expressed as to whether 30 per cent is adequate. A discussion is now proceeding to determine this point. It is also uncertain whether the allies will admit that powers which did not join in the blockade shall share in the results the former secured through expensive naval operations.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The first joint conference of the Venezuelan negotiators occurred during yesterday afternoon by appointment at Mr. Bowen's apartments, and ranking diplomat Signor Mayor Des Planches, the Italian ambassador, making the representations in French to Mr. Bowen. The question under discussion was a matter of the merest detail, the envoys wishing to know whether the monthly payments to the allies should be in proportion to the amount of the claims, or whether Great Britain, Germany and Italy would, receive the same amounts each month until the indemnity is paid.

Mr. Bowen said he was quite willing to leave this to the powers themselves to settle and that any arrangement they might make would be satisfactory to Venezuela. The earnest hope was expressed last night by officials having to do with Venezuelan matters that the European allies will come to an agreement promptly and call off the blockade that is still in force. Its continuance is a serious embarrassment to the people of Venezuela. The difference between the offers of Mr. Bowen and the demands of the allies, it is felt here, are not such as should require continuance of the present condition of affairs on the Venezuelan coast.

Henry E. Youtsey Says Shot Was Fired from Window of Calb Powers' Private Office.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 28.—A Frankfort, Ky., special to the Courier Journal says: "James B. Howard, of Clay county, fired the shot that killed William Coebel," said Henry E. Youtsey in his confession as to a part in and knowledge of the conspiracy which terminated in the assassination of the Democratic claimant to the governorship. The convicted man now says that he has made a clean breast of the details of the plot and has told everything he knows, "fully and frankly." He said that the shot was fired from the front window in the private office of Secretary of State Caleb Powers, and that he and Jim Howard were the only persons inside of the room. He named William S. Taylor, Charles Finley, Caleb Powers, John L. Powers, William H. Calton, Wharton Golden and William Davidson as conspirators with him.

SPARK IGNITED KEG OF POWDER

One Man Was Terribly Injured and Will Die and Twelve Others Were Badly Hurt.

Seranton, Pa., Jan. 28.—Thirteen men were being taken to their work in the recesses of the Bellevue mine of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, on an electric engine, yesterday morning. They had a keg of powder with them. A spark from the naked lamp of one of the men set off the powder and a terrific explosion followed, blowing the men in all directions.

William Hughes was terribly burned about the face, hands and feet, and will die; Walter J. Needham, John Mangano and Edward Miller were also badly injured, but will recover. Others injured were: William Davis, Thomas Lince, William Williams, James Gerrity, William Kearsy, Thomas Melvin, Dan Ryan, John Carey and Dan Williams.

It is against the mine rules to take powder in as was done in this case.

Canton, O., Jan. 28.—President Roosevelt last night participated in a notable tribute to the memory of the late President McKinley. He was the principal orator at a banquet given under the auspices of the Canton Republican league in commemoration of the birthday of McKinley. Surrounded by friends, neighbors and business and political associates of the dead president, he pronounced a brilliant and eloquent eulogy upon the life and works of McKinley—an eulogy by many regarded as the most beautiful and heartfelt tribute ever paid to the memory of the distinguished dead.

The banquet was held in the Grand opera house. Among the 457 assembled about the boards were some of the most distinguished men in the civil, political and military life of the country.

Governor Nash Unable to Attend.

At the tables throughout the large auditorium were men of state and national prominence. Governor Nash, of Ohio, who was expected to be present to respond to the toast "Ohio," was unable to leave his home on account of illness. Soon after the close of the reception at the Hotel McKinley, President Roosevelt and party walked in a driving rain from the hotel to the banquet hall, a half square distant.

Special precautions were taken to insure the safety of the president, and his pathway to the opera house was lined with secret service officers, p-Heemen and soldiers. As the president entered the banquet hall the assemblage rose as one man and cheered him heartily.

Judge Day, as toastmaster, in introducing President Roosevelt, spoke briefly.

Audience Cheered.

As the president rose to speak the audience rose and cheered him enthusiastically. When he addressed the toastmaster as "Mr. Justice Day," a designation applied only to justices of the United States supreme court, his auditors shook the building with applause. President Roosevelt spoke in part as follows:

Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen:

Throughout our history, and indeed throughout history generally, it has been given to only a very few three-favored men to take so marked a lead in the history of their country as President McKinley. He was the first man to save only in the Revolution and in the Civil War; and it was under his leadership that the nation solved these mighty problems aright. Therefore he stands first in the history of our country as the first man of his generation, but as among the greatest figures in our national life, coming second only to the men of the two great crises in which the Union was founded and preserved. For years before he was nominated for president only his own high sense of honor prevented his being made a formidable competitor of the chief upon whom the choice of the nation rested. He was elected in 1896 he was chosen because the great mass of his party knew him and loved him and regarded him as symbolizing the highest and best of our aspirations. His first nomination came to him because of the qualities he had shown in healthy and open political leadership. But in 1896 the issue was fairly joined, chiefly upon a question which as a party question was entirely new, so that the old lines of political cleavage were in large part abandoned. All other issues sank in importance when compared with the vital issue of keeping our financial system on the high and honorable plane imperatively demanded by our position as a great civilized power. As the champion of such a principle President McKinley rose to the support not only of his own party, but of hundreds of thousands of those to whom he had been politically opposed. He triumphed, and he made good with scrupulousness our financial system. The campaign was won. We were at the time in a period of great industrial depression and it was promised for and on behalf of McKinley that if he should not be elected he would not be elected as a party man, but as a man who would be preserved unharmed, but improved, and our economic system shaped in accordance with those theories which have always marked our progress and prosperity. The promises were kept and following their keeping came the prosperity which we now enjoy. All that was foretold concerning the well being which would follow the election of McKinley has been justified by the event.

But as so often happens in our history, the president was forced to face questions other than those which he had met in his election. Within a year the situation in Cuba had become literally intolerable. President McKinley had fought too well in his youth, he knew too well at first hand the struggle, he was too deeply into a struggle. He sought by every honorable means to preserve peace, to avert war. He made every effort consistent with the national honor to bring about an amicable settlement of the Cuban difficulty. Then, when it became evident that these efforts were useless, that peace could not be honorably maintained, he decided to resort to the use of force. It is needless to tell the result in detail. Suffice it to say that rarely indeed in history has a contest so far-reaching in the importance of its result been so bravely and so bravely met. There followed a harder task. As a result of the war we came into possession of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. In each island the conditions were such that we had to face problems entirely new to our national experience, and, moreover, in each island or group of islands the problems differed radically from those presented in the others. Porto Rico the task was simple. The island could not be independent. It became in all essentials a part of the United States. It has been given all the benefits of our economic and financial system. Its inhabitants have been given the highest individual liberty, while yet their government has been kept under the supervision of officials so well chosen that the island can be appealed to as affording a model for all such experiments in the future, and this result was mainly owing to the brilliant ability of instruments by President McKinley when he selected the governing officials.

In Cuba, where we were pledged to give the island independence, the pledge was kept not merely in letter but in spirit. Finally, in the Philippines, the problem was one of great complexity. A weaker and less far-sighted man than President McKinley would have shrunk from a task very difficult in itself, and certain to furnish occasion for attack and misrepresentation no less than for honest misunderstanding. But President McKinley never flinched. He refused to consider the thought of abandoning our duty in our new possessions. While sedulously endeavoring to act with the utmost humanity toward the insurgents, he never faltered in the determination to put them down by force of arms, alike for the sake of our own interest and honor, and for the sake of the interest of the islands, and particularly of the great numbers of friendly natives, including those most highly civilized, for whom abandonment by us would have meant ruin and death. Again his policy was most amply vindicated. Peace has come to the islands, together with a greater measure of individual liberty and self-government than they have ever before known. All the tasks set us as a result of the war with Spain have so far been well and honorably

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Close Dull and Heavy—Time Money Unchanged—Bonds Moderately Active and Irregular.

New York, Jan. 28.—Monday's improvement in speculative sentiment seemed to be maintained yesterday, but the trading was at such a low ebb of activity that it was futile to try to measure the significance of the changes. Yesterday's total sales of stocks were little changed from Monday. In a few cases there was buying of stocks on the strength of special developments, but this demand did not follow a rise in prices far and had very little sympathetic effect upon the general list.

The situation in the money and exchange markets was without appreciable change. The market closed dull and heavy.

Money on call easier at 3 1/2 @ 4 per cent, closing at 3 1/2 @ 3 3/4. Time money steady, 60 days, 4 1/2 per cent; 90 days, 4 3/4; six months, 4 3/4.

The bond market was moderately active and the movement of prices was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,210,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Lee Monument Debate.

Harrisburg, Jan. 28.—In the presence of the full membership of the house of representatives and a crowded gallery Colonel A. K. McClure, of Philadelphia, last night delivered an address in support of the proposition that the states of Pennsylvania and Virginia should join hands in erecting an equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee on Seminary hill of the battlefield of Gettysburg. Judge Stewart spoke against the bill. Among the great crowd which heard the speakers were many prominent members of the Grand Army of the Republic from all over the state, judges and state officials.

To Buy Historic Tavern.

New York, Jan. 28.—The board of aldermen yesterday approved of the resolution of the board of estimate in favor of the purchase by the city of Frances tavern, where Washington took leave of his officers prior to going to Annapolis to resign his commission as commander of the American army. Besides the tavern, land surrounding it will be acquired for a park.

SAD SURPRISE FOR HUSBAND

When He Learned That His Wife
Had Broken Her Temperance Vow.

TROUBLE BEGAN AT ONCE

On Him Discovering Her in a Saloon.
He Started With Her for City Hall
And Regretted to Learn She Could Not Be Arrested.

Mrs. Rose Sibley, a rather nice looking woman, arrested Monday night on Second street by Officer Saulsberry for being drunk and raising a disturbance, and who was fined yesterday morning for her actions, broke loose again last evening and was heard from once more at the city hall.

Rose and her husband moved to this city not long ago from Oil City, Pa., and according to his statement they have lived anything but a life of happiness at their rented rooms on Walnut street. Before coming here they were happy; at least, he says. Now everything is going wrong and no man ever lived that is having more troubles.

Soon after her release from the city jail Rose, instead of seeking her chosen one to ask his forgiveness for her hilarity of the night before, started out for the districts which she had roamed with disastrous results. She cared not for the one at home anxiously awaiting her arrival. To a Broadway joint she wended her way and it was in the notorious place that Mr. Sibley found her last evening. He was dumfounded at her condition. He never knew that his Rosie imbibed. She had signed the pledge when a young girl, and he thought her yet steadfastly keeping her promise.

When he walked into the dive, it was said a lively encounter at once ensued and that he was bested in the bout. However, he was longer winded and was there to the finish, finally subduing his spouse and succeeding in getting her to the street. Afraid that he could not keep her under control throughout the night he concluded to apply to the police for aid, and though it cost him much exertion he took her down to the city hall. They arrived at few minutes after the adjournment of council and City Clerk Davidson, who was present at both meetings, states that the couple even raised more commotion than the councilmen.

Sibley wanted justice. He wanted his wife locked up until morning when he would prefer a terrible charge against her. She had "broken her temperance" and must suffer. The irate husband was told that he could not have the arrest made under the circumstances and the wife, exultant, grabbed her umbrella from him, started up the street and dared him to follow. He was intimidated and allowed her to go, swearing that he would take steps to have her landed behind bars today.

Will Celebrate Its Removal to New Quarters By Giving a Dance

The Eureka Social club is one of the newest in the city, having been in existence less than a year, but it has already taken a place among the foremost in the city. To the present the society has had quarters in the central portion of the city.

Recently the officers have fitted up and had equipped a most attractive suite of rooms at the corner of Avondale and Bank streets, and tomorrow evening it is proposed to open the quarters with appropriate ceremonies. Dancing will be the principal amusement, and a large number of guests will be in attendance.

The K. T. Raquet.

Pilgrim commandery No. 55, Knights Templar, will give a banquet tomorrow evening to which all the Masonic orders have been invited. The affair promises to be the most delightful of the many held by the organization. Among the enjoyable features provided for the entertainment of the guests is a series of beautiful stereoscopic views of California to be shown by Sir Knights S. T. Herbert and J. P. Neiler.

Coal Strike Hearing. Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—Considerable progress was made yesterday by the anthracite coal strike commission. It is probable that the independent operators will have concluded their cases some time today. The Reading company will follow and will occupy the attention of the commission during the remainder of the week. The testimony presented yesterday was varied and interesting.

Explosion Victim Dies. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 28.—Paul Kepshke, one of the men who was burned by a gas explosion in the Prospect mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company Sunday evening, died yesterday from his injuries.

Capital $5,000,000. Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The L. C. Smith & Brothers Typewriter company, capital $5,000,000, was incorporated at Albany yesterday.

Severed Man's Leg. Firemen after a time mastered the flames. Then the wreckage was attacked again and the work of recovering the bodies was begun. Out of the first car eight bodies were taken. The sight while the wreck was burning was horrifying. Men could be seen in the wreckage pinned fast amid the timbers of the cars and struggling to be free while the flames roared around them. One of those who tried to take out a man pinned in found that he was held down by one leg near the ankle, and seeing it would be useless to do anything else is said to have finally severed the man's leg and then carried him to one of the parlor cars. Both rescued and rescuer were badly burned.

Just as the wreck occurred an east-bound train was approaching on track 2. Before it could be stopped the engine crashed into the wreckage, which had been hurled onto the track, but it was light stuff and the engine brushed it aside and crushed part of it under the wheels. The train ran its own length beyond the wreck, stopped, and after ascertaining it had sustained no injury itself proceeded toward New York.

Dangerous Parlor Variety.

Tellit—What's that? Why, confound you, what makes you think I wouldn't make a good match for your daughter? Tuem—Well, you flare up too quick; that's why! See?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Billville Estimate.

"You see that tall, distinguished looking man yonder?"
"Yes, I see him."
"Well, don't you recognize him?"
"Never glimpsed him before."
"Why, man, that's Bill Spinks; got to be a great writer; makin' a big sensation all over the country!"
"That ain't possible," said the citizen emphatically, "for I used to climb apple trees with him, an' him an' me used to go swimmin' together!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Animal Sense Perceptions.

In the course of an article on animal sense perceptions, in which special attention is directed to nauseous or offensive odors as a means of protection, the editor of the Zoologist warns his readers against regarding animal etiology too much from the human standpoint. Because animals cannot speak we must not assume that they have no modes of communication; it is by no means certain that the ordinary explanation of "warning colors" is the true one, while the evil smell of the durian fruit does not render it distasteful either to the orang or to man himself.

Curiosity.

"What did that lady have the screen across one part of the room for, ma?" asked little Harry, who had been making a call with his mother.

"I suppose she had something there she didn't want seen," replied his mother.

"And was that the reason, ma, that when you thought she wasn't looking you peeped behind it?"

Complimentary.

"Gentlemen," said a judge addressing the jury in a recent Irish case reported in Law Notes, "you have heard the evidence. The indictment says the prisoner was arrested for stealing a pig. The offense seems to be becoming a common one. The time has come when it must be put a stop to; otherwise, gentlemen, none of you will be safe."

The Easy Part.

Teacher—After all the trouble I have taken, you are most imperfect in your lesson. Surely, you could not have found it so hard to learn!
Pupil—It wasn't because it was so hard to learn, teacher, but because it was so easy to forget!

Amused Them.

Artist—Have you taken my picture to the exhibition?
Porter—Yes, sir. It seemed to please the gentlemen very much.
Artist—What did they say?
Porter—Oh, they didn't say anything. They only laughed.

A Sure Cure.

"It was a good thing for Stutterton that he married Miss Gassaway. She's curing him of his stammering habit."
"You don't say?"
"Yes. She doesn't give him a chance to talk at all now."—Philadelphia Press.

Helped Him Out.

"How did he happen to back her as a star in that new play?"
"Oh, she overheard him one day singing 'I Want to Be an Angel' and helped him have his wish."
